922 Relatives Reunited With Prisoners Released From Cuban Jail Xmas Eve

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The freighter Everglades today, bringing 922 relatives of the Bay of Pigs invaders to freedom and joyous reunion with husbands, sons and fathers on American soil.

Devoting her last voyage to this errand of mercy, the 20-year-old African Pilot docked at the port near Port Lauderdale, 25 miles northeast of Miami, at 9:01 a.m.

The rugged old workhorse of the sea, which had carried ransom supplies to Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro for the invasion prisoners, now goes into mothballs.

Seasickness, nervousness and a mild outbreak of measles aboard the ship failed to dampen the enthusiasm of the refugees who gave up everything they owned to escape Castro communism and join loved ones in the United States.

2200 GREET CUBANS

Only about 200 observers saw the freighter come in. The port was closed to all but newsmen and authorized officials. A big sign said "Welcome" in English. The Red Cross reported nine cases of contagious disease aboard. Three ambulances were on the dock to pick up 11 stretcher cases.

An American flag flew from the stern of the freighter. One tug went out to help her in to the dock.

Joe McGowan, Associated Press writer representing American news agencies on the African Pilot, said many passengers remained awake through the night, too nervous and excited to sleep, on the trip.

"I have a bed," said one elderly refugee, "but who could sleep at a time like this?"

SING CUBAN ANTHEM

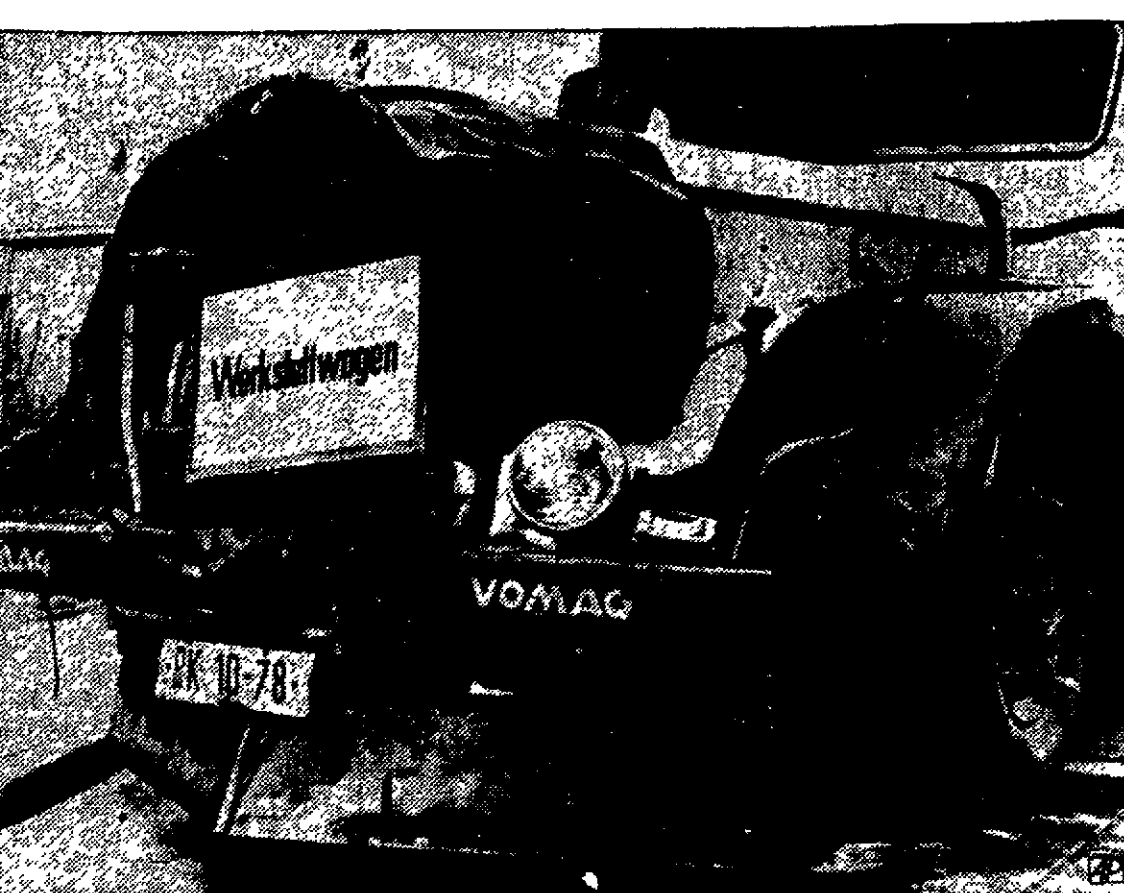

A tangle of excitement swept through the ship when the engines started Wednesday night in Havana harbor. As the ship moved out, the refugees sang the Cuban national anthem.

Shortly after the departure, four

FISSEL COW IS SELECTED STATE'S BEST

Mau-Wen Lucifer Sadie Star (Ex-91) owned by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Fissel, Biglerville R. 1, has been named "All-Pennsylvania Aged Cow" by the Pennsylvania Holstein Breeders Association, it was announced today.

The selection was based on the record of "Sadie Star" which this year included winning the grand championship and senior championship honors among others in the state-wide Black and White Show at Harrisburg.

At the same time the herd at Paul and Lucy Fissel's Lu-Pa Green Acres won second place in the state for milk production and fourteenth for butterfat. The record for the herd averaging 29.4 cows was 17,848 pounds of milk per cow and 637 pounds of butterfat per cow.

"Sadie Star" also won first prize for aged cow and the senior and grand champion female honors at the SPABC Cattle Show at Lancaster a short time ago.

The "All-Pennsylvania" honor was the top award the Fissel family won for their dairy skill.

BUTTERFAT AWARD

Their herd this year became the first in the county to exceed the 600-pound average for butterfat, won the trophy for the most improved herd in the county and the trophy for the highest butterfat.

Their daughters, Susie and Judy, won numerous honors including championships in fitting contests as well as championships for their animals.

The outstanding year for the Fissel's marked their sixth anniversary in the dairy business. Six years ago Fissel considered buying some beef cattle to feed. Mrs. Fissel opposed that idea, but said it would be nice to have a few cows around the farm. On December 24, six years ago, the first group of cows arrived. Three of those cattle are still in the herd.

ENLARGE HERD

Shortly after the arrival of the first milking cows the couple decided to buy more and Fissel soon found that it was a question of going in the dairy business or

FBI On Spot For Holdup

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A would-be bandit, Richard Dean Holtan, didn't figure on a man named Monte Hall Wednesday, when he attempted to rob the Hibernia Bank of $1,500.

"This bomb in this newspaper can blow up the whole block. I want $1,500. Please be careful," read the note which Holtan, 27, passed to teller Maureen Laval.

In line just behind Holtan was Hall — an FBI agent.

"Have you been robbed?" Hall shouted to Miss Laval after she handed Holtan $1,400.

She nodded. Hall arrested Holtan on the spot.

BIGLER ALUMNI TO HOLD DANCE

The annual dance and election of officers of the Biglerville High School Alumni Association will be held Friday evening at that high school.

President Donald Kuhn said the Biglerville High School dance band will provide the music for the event beginning in the school at 8 o'clock Friday night.

During the course of the program the alumni will hold an intermission to elect officers for the coming year. Present officers include President Kuhn, Vice President Donald Hartzell, Secretary Phyllis Wagaman and Treasurer Jay Thomas.

Crowning of a king and queen, elected by a committee, will be another feature of the annual event. Members of the committee selecting the king and queen will include the officers of the Alumni Association and a number of members of the faculty of the school.

A special invitation has been extended to the members of last June's graduating class to be present for the alumni event.

Decorations for the dance are being placed by a committee from the Senior Class of the school. The student council will provide the refreshments.

Heffran To Edit IAMA Bulletin

George P. Heffran, a member of the Gettysburg Times staff for the past three years, has been appointed editor and advertising manager of the Interstate Advertising Managers' Association of official publication, the IAMA Bulletin. The appointment was announced by the association's president, Edward M. Hyde, vice president and advertising director of the Sharon Herald, Sharon, Pa.

Heffran, who represents The Gettysburg Times in the association, will direct the February publication of the Bulletin, the first of two to be published in 1963. The Times & News Publishing Co. will print the publication.

The Bulletin contains news concerning newspaper advertising in addition to new material about the association's member newspapers and individuals. It is sent to all members in Pennsylvania, Maryland and New Jersey.

NEW OXFORD'S NEEDS CITED BY YOUNG FOLK

New Oxford area youth believe the greatest recreation need in their community is a recreation center, according to results of the annual essay contest on "What New Oxford Needs" conducted by the town's Chamber of Commerce.

The New Oxford Item in its issue published today broke down the recommendations made by the 37 students from New Oxford and Delone High Schools who entered manuscripts on the theme "What New Oxford Could Do to Improve Recreation Facilities for the Youth of the Community."

Nineteen mentioned the top need as being a recreation center, 14 asked for a movie theater, 12 for bowling alley, 11 each a playground and outdoor swimming pool, three for an indoor swimming pool, nine for football, 12 for dances, 10 for tennis courts, six each for ice skating and roller skating rinks, five for a YWCA and four each for a drama club, restaurant for teens, a director of recreation, a summer track league and a dance hall. Other needs mentioned by fewer than four contestants include outdoor basketball courts, community basketball league, soccer, a youth club, a trampoline center, annual town picnic, wrestling, softball, volleyball, a square dance club, rifle range, weight-lighting teams and miniature golf, among other activities.

BRINTON WINS

First prize in the fourth annual contest, a wrist watch, went to Richard K. Brinton, a Senior at New Oxford High School and son of Mr. and Mrs. James Brinton, Hanover R. 5.

Miss Susan Warnick, a Senior at New Oxford High School and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Warnick, Hanover R. 5, received a transistor radio for second place.

Third prize, a $10 merchandise certificate, went to Miss Beverly Smith, a Junior at New Oxford High School and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Smith, New Oxford R. 1.

The opening paragraph of the first prize winning essay stressed a note that many of the youths mentioned. It said: "If New Oxford is going to improve recreation facilities for the youth of the community, it should provide a program of recreation for all of the people of the community, not only youth, because youth is so soon outgrown."

EXPRESS CRASHES INTO REAR OF BRITISH TRAIN KILLING 18; TWO FREEZE TO DEATH

By ANTHONY WHITE
LONDON (AP) — Two British trains smashed together in a blizzard Wednesday night, killing at least 18 persons, and eight others were reported from Europe as Arctic winds pushed bitter winter weather southward across the continent.

Thirty-three more persons were injured when the London-bound Scot Express crashed into the rear of a local train stopped at Cottenham Junction 25 miles southwest of Manchester.

One of the dead was believed to be an American serviceman. Six children were among the dead.

BLIZZARD RAGES

The local was filled with travelers on the traditional after-Christmas Boxing Day holiday. Broken dolls and toys were scattered among the wreckage.

A blizzard was blowing.

"It was utter carnage," said Harold Shift, a survivor, who told of trying to help a dying young woman whose mother had been tossed half way through a broken window.

Rescue squads, summoned from the surrounding areas of Cheshire over icy roads, worked by headlamps carrying the injured to a field to await ambulances.

2 FREEZE TO DEATH

Europe's piercing weather extended from the Far North to the Mediterranean, where it was an unwelcome surprise, and eastward to Siberia.

Two people were frozen to death in northern Portugal. It snowed in northern and central Spain, and Barcelona was almost isolated by the unusual whiteness. Valencia oranges froze on the trees.

Heavy rains collapsed at least 100 houses in Algeciras, across the bay from Gibraltar, and caused other destruction in the area.

M'KIM HOME WINS PRIZE ON DECORATIONS

A display featuring the Nativity scene at the home of Richard McKim, 211 N. Third St., McSherrystown, was awarded first prize in the general division in the Christmas decorations contest held Wednesday night by the McSherrystown Knights of Columbus.

Prize prize for windows went to Francis Miller, Edge Grove, and the prize for "best runner up in either division" went to the display at the home of Bernard Livelsberger, Edge Grove.

The judging was based on religious themes entered in the event held for the first time year. The judges looked at 18 displays in the McSherrystown area. Other displays had not been entered and could not be judged.

At the McKim home the display combined the religious and the secular. The Nativity scene featured a stable and figures of the Christ Child, Mary, Joseph and Shepherds, all of which had been cut from wood and painted by Mr. McKim. Over the entire scene was a canopy of greens and colored lights. On the other side of the lawn Santa's sleigh and a winking Santa were to be seen.

At the Miller home, the prize winning window was painted on windows of the house. It featured a nativity scene and representation of Sacred Heart Basilica. The painted scenes were illuminated from within. The runner-up consisted of a large Nativity scene with life size figures on the lawn at the Livelsberger home.

Honorable mention was given to the displays at the homes of Richard Livelsberger, 429 South St.; Sisters of Mercy home, 503 Main St.; D. M. Leppo, 425 Main St.; Alfred Staub, 46 Main St.; John Livelsberger, Edge Grove and Timothy Cashen, 504 Ridge Ave.

Judges were Henry J. Snyder, Hanover; G. Henry Roth and James Sneeringer, Gettysburg. The committee included Thomas Livelsberger, Thomas Murren and Grand Knight Joseph Sneeringer.

COOPERATIVES CALLED ASSET

Farmer cooperatives are an asset to the American free enterprise system, Edwin A. Kann, public relations director for the Adams Electric Cooperative, told members of the Gettysburg Kiwanis club at their weekly dinner meeting at the Lamp Post Tea Room Wednesday evening.

Mr. Kann showed a film titled "This Business Called a Cooperative" and explained how farmers have organized to buy their supplies and market their produce at wholesale. He spoke of the advantages of bulk purchases.

He said there are 10,000 farmer cooperatives in the nation but not as large as one of the auto manufacturing concerns in this country.

Mr. Kann also described the advantages to farmers in this area and in many other parts of the country of the rural electrical cooperative and the vastly increased markets for many types of appliances as a result of making electricity available to millions of rural homes. Vice President Charles W. Pentz presided at the meeting.

The club will also meet on Wednesday of next week. Tuesday is the regular meeting time but will be changed next week because of New Year's Day.

DONATIONS TO YOUTH CENTER ARE REPORTED

Reports on a number of donations for the new Youth Center on N. Washington St. were presented Wednesday evening at a meeting there of the Adult and Youth Committee operating the center.

John Settle Jr. reported St. James Lutheran Church has donated a number of drapes which are now being altered for the windows at the center and also donated three rows of theatrical seats which are being used to outline the dance floor.

Pianos donated by the Gettysburg Fire Department and Frank Skidmore have been moved to the center by Richard Smith, who also donated a number of chairs, floor lamps and book shelves. John Roth, Barlow St., donated a sofa.

DISCUSS ROOM RENTALS

The committee expressed its appreciation to all who have donated so far toward furnishing the former ATO house on N. Washington St. bought last week for use as a Youth Center. At the same time additional donations of furnishings were asked for the development of the center.

The group voted to continue the dues of 35 cents a month for the youth members and decided that after a two-month lapse of dues a $1 fee must be paid before resuming membership.

Rentals of rooms for meetings were discussed in the light of offers by two organizations to rent rooms for one night-a-month meetings.

ANNIVERSARY DANCE

Betty Reed, chairman of the reported that Phil Young's 13-piece orchestra from Chambersburg will play for the First Anniversary dance at the Youth Center January 26. A donation of 75 cents will be asked of those attending the 8 to 11 p.m. dance. Jeanne Bowling reported $13.64 profit from a bake sale held Friday, and announced plans for a rummage sale to be held in the near future.

It was announced that 36 youths have signed for a proposed drill team. Four more members are sought.

A preliminary report on the Christmas tree sale showed a profit of "more than $30" was made from that venture.

SEND FORMS ON PERSONAL PROPERTY TAX

Approximately 10,000 forms are being mailed this week by the county commissioners' office to Adams Countians who will soon be preparing personal property tax returns for more than $14,000,000 worth of stocks, bonds, mutual funds, judgments, notes, mortgages, articles of agreement for sale of land or real estate, etc., to meet the deadline of February 15, 1963.

Failure to file a return or the making of a false, incomplete or incorrect return will result in a 12 per cent penalty added by the county commissioners. Any person who willfully fails or refuses to file any return containing the information required by this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not more than $500 or undergo imprisonment for not more than six months, or both, the announcement said.

HELP AVAILABLE

The commissioners have issued the following information concerning the tax:

Personal property tax is a four-mill tax on all notes, mortgages, judgments, certain stocks and bonds, articles of agreement for sale of land or real estate, secured transactions, etc., owned by residents of Adams County. Securities of Pennsylvania Corporations are tax exempt, while securities of corporations located in Pennsylvania and incorporated under the laws (Continued On Page 3)

922 Relatives Reunited With Prisoners Released From Cuban Jail Xmas Eve

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The freighter African Pilot steamed into Port Everglades today, bringing 922 relatives of the Bay of Pigs invaders to freedom and joyous reunion with husbands, sons and fathers on American soil.

Devoting her last voyage to this errand of mercy, the 20-year-old African Pilot docked at the port near Fort Lauderdale, 25 miles northeast of Miami, at 9:01 a.m.

The rugged old workhorse of the sea, which had carried ransom supplies to Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro for the invasion prisoners, now goes into mothballs. Seasickness, nervousness and a mild outbreak of measles aboard the ship failed to dampen the enthusiasm of the refugees who gave up everything they owned to escape Castro communism and join loved ones in the United States.

FISSEL COW IS SELECTED STATE'S BEST

Mau-Wen Lucifer Sadie Star (Ex-91) owned by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Fissel, Biglerville R. 1, has been named "All-Pennsylvania Aged Cow" by the Pennsylvania Holstein Breeders Association, it was announced today.

The selection was based on the record of "Sadie Star" which this year included winning the grand championship and senior champion honors among others in the state-wide Black and White Show at Harrisburg.

At the same time the herd at Paul and Lucy Fissel's Lu-Pa Green Acres won second place in the state for milk production and fourteenth for butterfat. The record for the herd averaging 29.4 cows was 17,848 pounds of milk per cow and 637 pounds of butterfat per cow.

"Sadie Star" also won first prize for aged cow and the senior and grand champion female honors at the SPABC Cattle Show at Lancaster a short time ago.

The "All-Pennsylvania" honor was the top award the Fissel family won for their dairy skill. BUTTERFAT AWARD

Their herd this year became the first in the county to exceed the 600-pound average for butterfat, won the trophy for the most improved herd in the county and the trophy for the highest butterfat. Their daughters, Susie and Judy, won numerous honors including championships in fitting contests as well as championships for their animals.

The outstanding year for the Fissel's marked their sixth anniversary in the dairy business. Six years ago Fissel considered buying some beef cattle to feed. Mrs. Fissel opposed that idea, but said it would be nice to have a few cows around the farm. On December 24, six years ago, the first group of cows arrived. Three of those cattle are still in the herd. ENLARGE HERD

FBI On Spot For Holdup

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A would-be bandit, Richard Dean Holtan, didn't figure on a man named Monte Hall Wednesday, when he attempted to rob the Hibernia Bank of $1,500.

"This bomb in this newspaper can blow up the whole block. I want $1,500. Please be careful," read the note which Holtan, 27, passed to teller Maureen Laval.

In line just behind Holtan was Hall — an FBI agent.

"Have you been robbed?" Hall shouted to Miss Laval after she handed Holtan $1,400. She nodded. Hall arrested Holtan on the spot.

BIGLER ALUMNI TO HOLD DANCE

The annual dance and election of officers of the Biglerville High School Alumni Association will be held Friday evening at that high school.

President Donald Kuhn said the Biglerville High School dance band will provide the music for the event beginning in the school at 8 o'clock Friday night.

During the course of the program the alumni will hold an intermission to elect officers for the coming year. Present officers include President Kuhn, Vice President Donald Hartzell, Secretary Phyllis Wagaman and Treasurer Jay Thomas.

Crowning of a king and queen, elected by a committee, will be another feature of the annual event. Members of the committee selecting the king and queen will include the officers of the Alumni Association and a number of members of the faculty of the school.

A special invitation has been extended to the members of last June's graduating class to be present for the alumni event.

Decorations for the dance are being placed by a committee from the Senior Class of the school. The student council will provide the refreshments.

Heffran To Edit IAMA Bulletin

George P. Heffran, a member of The Gettysburg Times staff for the past three years, has been appointed editor and advertising manager of the Interstate Advertising Managers' Association official publication, the IAMA Bulletin. The appointment was announced by the association's president, Edward M. Hyde, vice president and advertising director of the Sharon Herald, Sharon, Pa.

Heffran, who represents The Gettysburg Times in the association, will direct the February publication of the Bulletin, the first of two to be published in 1963. The Times & News Publishing Co. will print the publication. The Bulletin contains news concerning newspaper advertising in addition to new material about the association's member newspapers and individuals. It is sent to all members in Pennsylvania, Maryland and New Jersey.

NEW OXFORD'S NEEDS CITED BY YOUNG FOLK

New Oxford area youth believe the greatest recreation need in their community is a recreation center, according to results of the annual essay contest on "What New Oxford Needs" conducted by the town's Chamber of Commerce.

The New Oxford Item in its issue published today broke down the recommendations made by the 37 students from New Oxford and Delone High Schools who entered manuscripts on the theme "What New Oxford Could Do to Improve Recreation Facilities for the Youth of the Community."

Nineteen mentioned the top need as being a recreation center, 14 asked for a movie theater, 12 for bowling alley, 11 each a playground and outdoor swimming pool, three for an indoor swimming pool, nine for football, 12 for dances, 10 for tennis courts, six each for ice skating and roller skating rinks, five for a YWCA and four each for a drama club, restaurant for teens, a director of recreation, a summer track league and a dance hall. Other needs mentioned by fewer than four contestants include outdoor basketball courts, community basketball league, soccer, a youth club, a trampoline center, annual town picnic, wrestling, softball, volleyball, a square dance club, rifle range, weight-lighting teams and miniature golf, among other activities.

BRINTON WINS

First prize in the fourth annual contest, a wrist watch, went to Richard K. Brinton, a Senior at New Oxford High School and son of Mr. and Mrs. James Brinton, Hanover R. 5.

Miss Susan Warnick, a Senior at New Oxford High School and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Warnick, Hanover R. 5, received a transistor radio for second place.

Third prize, a $10 merchandise certificate, went to Miss Beverly Smith, a Junior at New Oxford High School and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Smith, New Oxford R. 1.

M'KIM HOME WINS PRIZE ON DECORATIONS

A display featuring the Nativity scene at the home of Richard McKim, 211 N. Third St., McSherrystown, was awarded first prize in the general division in the Christmas decorations contest held Wednesday night by the McSherrystown Knights of Columbus.

Prize prize for windows went to Francis Miller, Edge Grove, and the prize for "best runner up in either division" went to the display at the home of Bernard Livelsberger, Edge Grove.

The judging was based on religious themes entered in the event held for the first time year. The judges looked at 18 displays in the McSherrystown area. Other displays had not been entered and could not be judged.

At the McKim home the display combined the religious and the secular. The Nativity scene featured a stable and figures of the Christ Child, Mary, Joseph and Shepherds, all of which had been cut from wood and painted by Mr. McKim. Over the entire scene was a canopy of greens and colored lights. On the other side of the lawn Santa's sleigh and a winking Santa were to be seen.

At the Miller home, the prize winning window was painted on windows of the house. It featured a nativity scene and representation of Sacred Heart Basilica. The painted scenes were illuminated from within. The runner-up consisted of a large Nativity scene with life size figures on the lawn at the Livelsberger home.

Honorable mention was given to the displays at the homes of Richard Livelsberger, 429 South St.; Sisters of Mercy home, 503 Main St.; D. M. Leppo, 425 Main St.; Alfred Staub, 46 Main St.; John Livelsberger, Edge Grove; and Timothy Cashen, 504 Ridge Ave.

Judges were Henry J. Snyder, Hanover; G. Henry Roth and James Sneidering, Gettysburg. The committee included Thomas Livelsberger, Thomas Murren and Grand Knight Joseph Sneidering.

COOPERATIVES CALLED ASSET

Farmer cooperatives are an asset to the American free enterprise system, Edwin A. Kann, public relations director for the Adams Electric Cooperative, told members of the Gettysburg Kiwanis club at their weekly dinner meeting at the Lamp Post Tea Room Wednesday evening.

Mr. Kann showed a film titled "This Business Called a Cooperative" and explained how farmers have organized to buy their supplies and market their produce at wholesale. He spoke of the advantages of bulk purchases.

He said there are 10,000 farmer cooperatives in the nation but noted that "combined they are not as large as one of the auto manufacturing concerns in this country."

Mr. Kann also described the advantages to farmers in this area and in many other parts of the country of the rural electrical cooperative and the vastly increased markets for many types of appliances as a result of making electricity available to millions of rural homes. Vice President Charles W. Pentz presided at the meeting.

The club will also meet on Wednesday of next week. Tuesday is the regular meeting time but will be changed next week because of New Year's Day.

DONATIONS TO YOUTH CENTER ARE REPORTED

Reports on a number of donations for the new Youth Center on N. Washington St. were presented Wednesday evening at a meeting there of the Adult and Youth Committee operating the center.

John Settle Jr. reported St. James Lutheran Church has donated a number of drapes which are now being altered for the windows at the center and also donated three rows of theatrical seats which are being used to outline the dance floor.

Pianos donated by the Gettysburg Fire Department and Frank Skidmore have been moved to the center by Richard Smith, who also donated a number of chairs, floor lamps and book shelves. John Roth, Barlow St., donated a sofa.

DISCUSS ROOM RENTALS

The committee expressed its appreciation to all who have donated so far toward furnishing the former ATO house on N. Washington St. bought last week for use as a Youth Center. At the same time additional donations of furnishings were asked for the development of the center.

The group voted to continue the dues of 35 cents a month for the youth members and decided that after a two-month lapse of dues a $1 fee must be paid before resuming membership.

Rentals of rooms for meetings were discussed in the light of offers by two organizations to rent rooms for one night-a-month meetings.

ANNIVERSARY DANCE

Betty Reed, chairman of the reported that Phil Young's 18-piece orchestra from Chambersburg will play for the First Anniversary dance at the Youth Center January 26. A donation of 75 cents will be asked of those attending the 8 to 11 p.m. dance. Jeanne Bowling reported $13.64 profit from a bake sale held Friday, and announced plans for a rummage sale to be held in the near future.

It was announced that 36 youths have signed for a proposed drill team. Four more members are sought.

A preliminary report on the Christmas tree sale showed a profit of "more than $30" was made from that venture.

UNION STOPS STRIKE BREAK ON POTATO SHIP

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Slevedores in Charleston, S.C., have canceled plans to unload a cargo of seed potatoes today, as striking longshoremen shored up the single crack that had developed in their paralyzing work stoppage on East and Gulf Coast ports.

The Charleston local of the International Longshoremen's Association, AFL-CIO, broke the strike order Wednesday to unload bananas, and continued unloading them Wednesday night in defiance of orders from the union's national leadership to stop.

But the Charleston stevedores said they were canceling plans today to unload the seed potatoes under pressure from top union officials. South Carolina farmers, hard-hit because of poor fall crops, had appealed to the union to unload the potatoes before they sprout.

UNLOADED BANANAS

The unloading of the bananas prompted Capt. William V. Bradley, ILA president, to assign a union vice president to the Southern city to investigate. He said the Charleston local could lose its charter by the action.

In Galveston, Tex., about 100 dockworkers who belong to an organization not connected with the International Longshoremen crossed picket lines under police supervision to unload a Swedish banana boat. There was no violence.

Outside of these isolated instances, however, the strike has effectively closed all East and Gulf Coast ports to all but military, dangerous or emergency cargoes, which the ILA itself has exempted from the strike provisions.

Among the cargoes halted by the 5-day-old strike of 60,000 longshoremen are two shiploads of wheat in New Orleans destined for East Pakistan. The Pakistan Embassy in Washington says the grain is urgently needed.

No bargaining sessions were scheduled for today.

children came down with measles, three in a single family. The two families were isolated. Dr. Banning Lary of Miami said there was little cause for concern and no reason for a quarantine of the ship.

Moving into international waters, the African Pilot picked up an escort of three U.S. Coast Guard vessels.

GET BOX LUNCH

The freighter was designed to carry only 12 passengers and her life-saving equipment was inadequate.

There were only 500 cots set up in shelter deck areas but there were blankets for all, flown to Havana from the United States. Each person was given a box lunch including fried chicken, a ripe tomato, bread, butter and milk for the children.

Oldest of the refugees aboard was Angla Ceballos de Marero, 89, grandmother of one of the prisoners. The youngest was a baby born 22 days ago.

"CHRISTMAS BONUS"

As a "Christmas bonus," Castro agreed to let the relatives leave Cuba, following the prisoners who spent 20 months in Castro's crowded jails after the gallant but futile effort to free their country from his rule.

Chief topic of conversation aboard the ship was the plight of a man who was turned away as the African Pilot prepared to move out.

A shabbily dressed Negro raced up the rising gangplank shrieking "ayudame (help me)!" Wednesday night as the African Pilot made ready to cast off.

SEIZED BY GUARDS

Guards on deck, strictly

charged to let no more aboard the crowded craft, regretfully barred his entry. Two Cuban soldiers on the pier scrambled up and yanked their trembling countryman back to the dock.

A man in worker's clothes threw an arm around his shoulders and led him away. Two armed soldiers followed the pair around a corner of a warehouse crammed with $11 million in drugs and food which the African Pilot brought to Cuba Sunday as down payment on a $53 million commodity ransom for 1,113 men.

Castro's troops captured in the April 17, 1961 invasion at the Bay of Pigs.

The outbound African Pilot glided past Morro Castle, ancient stone sentinel of Havana Harbor, at 6:51 p.m.—about two hours later than scheduled.

Its human cargo traveled north with little or nothing more than the clothing each passenger wore.

Other items—even Cuban money, of dubious value outside Cuba, they had to surrender before embarking.

A corps of American Red Cross nurses and doctors worked to ease the voyage for the voluntary exiles. Cots, blankets and sanitary equipment flown to Cuba for the voyage were doled out.

In another development, President Kennedy planned a conference at Palm Beach, where he is spending the Christmas holidays, with five liberated leaders of the invasion force which was beaten back in its Cuba attack 20 months ago.

Blames Adenauer For More Tensions

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev has accused Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of increasing tension in Berlin, prodding the world toward war "and endangering the lives of millions of people."

In a letter to Adenauer broadcast by Moscow radio, the Soviet premier reiterated his standard demand that Allied troops get out of Berlin. But he set no deadline. He also repeated that United Nations forces should replace the U.S., British and French garrisons in Berlin.

The letter, in reply to one from Adenauer complaining of border incidents in the divided city, assailed the West German chancellor sharply.

Khrushchev declared the West German government has no rights in Berlin and asserted: "By your policy, a policy of intensifying tension and prodding the world to new conflicts, you are endangering the lives of millions of people."

ASK CRUSADE TO CLEAN UP COMMERCIALS

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—A television viewer, aware that various campaigns are currently under way to save programs canceled by networks, suggests another kind of effort.

"I wonder if you and some of your colleagues would undertake a crusade to stop the cleaning of teeth in the living rooms of the nation?" she writes.

I'd like to start the campaign on a slightly larger base. I'd welcome a crusade from toothbrushers—particularly that fellow who continues to scrub away at a restaurant table. But I would also like to abolish the shavers, the perspiration offenders, the respiratory sufferers, the draining sinuses, the churning stomachs, the germ-laden mouths and throats, showering and bathing men and women.

HIGHER STANDARDS

In fact, any commercial which deals with functions normally performed in the privacy of one's bathroom or bedroom—and this also includes combing of hair—are likely to be offensive to a large and perhaps old-fashioned segment of the viewing audience.

However, if television were to ban the advertising of all of these articles, stations would probably wind up each year in the red. Perhaps we viewers ought to ask only for higher standards.

"Mr. Smith Goes to Washington," the situation comedy that got Fess Parker out of a coonskin cap and into the Senate, may not last a full season on ABC. Perry Como's hour, also suffering from dropping ratings, is interested in big-name guest stars again.

NEW RATINGS

The new Nielsen ratings confirm the continuing popularity of CBS shows—the network has eight of the top 10, with "Beverly Hills" still far out in front. "The Wizard of Oz," the Judy Garland classic, slipped into the number two spot, followed by "Candid Camera," "Bonanza," "Red Skelton," "Gunsmoke," "Danny Thomas," "Lucille Ball," "Dick Van Dyke" and "Ben Casey."

Recommended tonight: "McHale's Navy," ABC, 9:30-10 (Eastern Standard Time); "Andy Williams Show," NBC, 10-11—Tennessee Ernie Ford in his first guest appearance this season.

FISSEL COW

cutting down on the number of cows. The family decided to try the milk producing business full-time.

Since then the herd has grown to approximately 30 cows. The family culls the herd "pretty hard." A first calf heifer must produce 500 pounds or more of butterfat and at least 14,000 pounds of milk or she is removed from the herd and sold.

Frequent feeding helps the butterfat production the Fissels find and the herd gets by not less than four times a day and sometimes five or six times a day, Mrs. Fissel feeds the grain and Mr. Fissel the ensilage.

INCREASE MILKING

Up to the present time the Fissels have been milking twice a day. They plan soon to milk three times a day to further increase production per cow.

Mrs. Fissel figures, "It takes two years to bring a cow up to capacity. They've got to get adjusted to the intake of the grain and the body has to be built up." Mr. Fissel is trying an experiment this year to see how Mrs. Fissel's feeding methods work. He bought even though it only produced 10,000 pounds of milk in its first lactation. "He thinks I can do miracles," says Mrs. Fissel.

The Fissels buy cows on type to get production. Fissel recently paid $390 for a month-old calf that was a granddaughter of a grand champion in New York. The calf, after riding to the Fissel farm in the trunk of Fissel's car, seems to be doing well.

A one-year-old cow was bought for $1,325 with the Fissels believing "you get what you pay for in cattle and cheap cows don't pay their way."

NEW TOBACCO STUDY

WASHINGTON (AP)—George V. Allen, president of the Tobacco Institute, Inc., today pledged the industry's cooperation in a government study on smoking and health.

The industry will cooperate also in an American Medical Association review, Allen said in a year-end statement, and the Tobacco Industry Research Committee will continue to support the work of independent scientists.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—"We hope to send another ship in two or three weeks," said Mrs. Berta Barreto de los Heros of the Cuban Families Committee. "We want to bring out the rest of the relatives and even sweethearts." She said: "Castro told me that he would allow another 1,000 relatives of prisoners to leave Cuba and that our family committee could select them."

KENNEDY AND AIDES CONFER

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—President Kennedy and his top military advisers doffed their coats on a sunny patio today for a far-ranging discussion of defense strategy and military spending.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, undersecretary Roswell L. Gilpatric and the Joint Chiefs of Staff met at the holiday White House.

Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, Air Force chief of staff, made an eleventh hour stand against cutting off development funds for the controversial Skybolt missile.

McNamara said in advance of the conference that it "certainly will be our recommendation" to scrap Skybolt, which Kennedy has pictured as obsolete, and perhaps unreliable, in an age of more powerful nuclear-tipped rockets.

Bitter Cold In Many Pa. Areas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Bitter cold enveloped Pennsylvania today, sending temperatures below zero in some communities.

GOP GAINED 150 SEATS IN LAST VOTING

By RAYMOND J. CROWLEY

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republicans scored net gains of about 150 seats in state legislatures in the Nov. 6 election, and in the process ousted Democrats from control of both Senate and House in three states—Pennsylvania, Colorado and Utah.

Democrats still will control both legislative chambers in 26 states. The Republicans will have such two-house command in 19 states; and in four states control will be divided.

Before the election, Democrats dominated both legislative branches in 28 states, the Republicans in 14; and in 7 states control will be divided.

ONLY ONE CHAMBER

The legislatures of the 50 states have about 7,500 members. Net Republican gains of around 150 are small in proportion to the total of seats but the gains are hailed by the GOP high command here as a sign of party progress. Republican leaders point, in particular, to a net pickup of 26 seats in the South as evidence of the growth of a two-party system there.

Democrats point to a victory in Hawaii, where they won control of the Senate and retained control of the House.

Democrats also picked up some seats in traditionally GOP northern New England—eight in New Hampshire and two in Maine—though the Republicans retain overwhelming majorities in both state capitals.

45 STATES ELECT

Forty-five states held election for their legislatures Nov. 6. The exceptions were Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, New Jersey and Virginia. Some of these five did hold special elections to fill vacancies.

The biggest Republican gain Nov. 6 was scored in Maryland where a judge's edict enlarged the House of Delegates to give greater influence to populous areas.

In Georgia, a Negro was elected to the state Senate for the first time in 92 years after historic reapportionment gave 25 of the 54 seats to nine urban counties.

Texas will have seven Republican state legislators, more than at any time since Reconstruction. The outgoing legislature had two.

GOP GAINS

Other Southern states in which Republicans gained were: Alabama 2, North Carolina 6, Oklahoma 13, Tennessee 2.

States in which Democrats controlled both chambers before Nov. 6, and still do, are: Alabama, Alaska (assuming Democrats can organize House), Arizona (nominal majority in House), Arkansas, California, Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maryland, Massachusetts, Mississippi, Missouri, New Mexico, North Carolina, Oklahoma, Oregon, Rhode Island, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia, Washington, West Virginia.

States where Republicans retained their previous two-chamber control are: Idaho, Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Maine, Minnesota, New Hampshire, New York, North Dakota, Ohio, South Dakota, Vermont, Wisconsin, Wyoming.

DENY LIE TEST TO PRISONER

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard refused to submit to lie detector tests during investigation of his wife's murder and so, the Ohio Supreme Court has decided, he forfeited any right to be given such tests now.

The Supreme Court Wednesday refused to order either polygraph or hypnosis tests or both for Sheppard, 38, who is serving life sentence for the July 4, 1954, death of his wife. Convicted of second-degree murder, Sheppard, now in Marion Correctional Institution, becomes eligible for parole within the next two years.

Attorney F. Lee Bailey of Boston, who made the request that Corrections Commissioner Maury Koblenz be compelled to allow the tests, told the court only fear of the results was blocking the examinations. Bailey contends such tests could establish Sheppard's innocence and bear out his story that his pregnant wife, Marilyn, was bludgeoned fatally by a bushy-haired intruder who then gapped with the doctor and knocked him unconscious.

NEW YORK (AP)—The strike that shut down nine major newspapers in its 26th day today, making it the longest newspaper blackout in the city's history.

The longest previous shutdown was a 19-day deliverer's union walkout four years ago. At that time the cost in wages was an estimated $5 million, plus $25 million in newspaper revenue.

The wage loss in the current strike by the International Typographers Union is estimated at well over $8 million.

TANEYTOWN—Juniors and seniors of the Future Business Leaders of America, Taneytown High School, will present a three-act comedy January 11 and 12 to sponsor a representative to the Maryland state convention of FBLA in April.

"Wedding Spells," directed by Mrs. Catherine Myers and Wayne Grubb, club advisors, is centered around Steve, who suffers a lapse of memory while shopping in Atlantic City with his new bride, whom he also loses. The play takes place in his apartment in New York City, where he is attempting to find his wife.

The cast of characters includes: Chalmers Warehouse—Steven Arlen, an adventurous, young man who has had recurrent lapses of memory and forgotten whom he has married; Steve Feeser—Charlie Cooney, a handsome, out-of-door type fellow and a friend of Steve, who aids in finding Steve's wife; Bonnie Brown—Mrs. Julia Pettingill, a flighty, near-sighted, middle-aged widow who adores men and tries her hand at Charlie; Travis Dutcher—Algernon Reeves, a typical English gentleman who is Steve's butler; Linda Lieb as Angelica Wayne, Paula Brauning as Frances Brown, Donna Eckard as Niki Murphy, Diane Fair as Billie, Frances Flohr as Ruth Auburn all play charming, young ladies who have been dating Steve. One has married him. Larry Glass as Blake, a policeman, Byron Barnes as Sigsbee and Gloria Copenhagen as Mrs. Gay, Billie's fretful mother round out the cast.

Both evening performances will start at 8 o'clock in the high school auditorium.

ASK CRUSADE TO CLEAN UP COMMERCIALS

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—A television viewer, aware that various campaigns are currently under way to save programs canceled by networks, suggests another kind of effort.

"I wonder if you and some of your colleagues would undertake a crusade to stop the cleaning of teeth in the living rooms of the nation?" she writes.

I'd like to start the campaign on a slightly larger base. I'd welcome a crusade from toothbrushers—particularly that fellow who continues to scrub away at a restaurant table. But I would also like to abolish the shavers, the perspiration offenders, the respiratory sufferers, the draining sinuses, the churning stomachs, the germ-laden mouths and throats, showering and bathing men and women.

HIGHER STANDARDS

In fact, any commercial which deals with functions normally performed in the privacy of one's bathroom or bedroom—and this also includes combing of hair—are likely to be offensive to a large and perhaps old-fashioned segment of the viewing audience.

However, if television were to ban the advertising of all of these articles, stations would probably wind up each year in the red. Perhaps we viewers ought to ask only for higher standards.

"Mr. Smith Goes to Washington," the situation comedy that got Fess Parker out of a con-sunk cap and into the Senate, may not last a full season on ABC. Perry Como's hour, also suffering from dropping ratings, is interested in big-name guest stars again.

NEW RATINGS

The new Nielsen ratings confirm the continuing popularity of CBS shows—the network has eight of the top 10, with "Beverly Hills" still far out in front. "The Wizard of Oz," the Judy Garland classic, slipped into the number two spot, followed by "Candid Camera," "Bonanza," Red Skelton, "Gunsmoke," Danny Thomas, Lucille Ball, Dick Van Dyke and "Ben Casey."

Recommended tonight: "McHale's Navy," ABC, 9:30-10 (Eastern Standard Time); "Andy Williams Show," NBC, 10-11—Tennessee Ernie Ford in his first guest appearance this season.

cutting down on the number of cows. The family decided to try the milk producing business full-time.

Since then the herd has grown to approximately 30 cows.

The family calls the herd "pretty hard." A first calf heifer must produce 500 pounds or more of butterfat and at least 14,000 pounds of milk or she is removed from the herd and sold.

Frequent feeding helps the butterfat production. The Fissels find and the herd gets hay not less than four times a day and sometimes five or six times a day. Mrs. Fissel feeds the grain and Mr. Fissel the ensilage.

INCREASE MILKING

Up to the present time the Fissels have been milking twice a day. They plan soon to milk three times a day to further increase production per cow.

Mrs. Fissel figures, "It takes two years to bring a cow up to capacity. They've got to get adjusted to the intake of the grain and the body has to be built up." Mr. Fissel is trying an experiment this year to see how Mrs. Fissel's feeding methods work out. He bought even though it only produced 10,500 pounds of milk in its first lactation. "He thinks I can do miracles," says Mrs. Fissel.

The Fissels buy cows on type, to get production. Fissel recently paid $300 for a month-old calf that was a granddaughter of a grand champion in New York. The calf, after riding to the Fissel farm in the trunk of Fissel's car, seems to be doing well.

A one-year-old cow was bought for $1,225 with the Fissels believing "you get what you pay for in cattle and cheap cows don't pay their way."

NEW TOBACCO STUDY

WASHINGTON (AP)—George V. Allen, president of the Tobacco Institute Inc., today pledged the industry's cooperation in a government study on smoking and health.

The industry will cooperate also in an American Medical Association review, Allen said in a year-end statement, and the Tobacco Industry Research Committee will continue to support the work of independent scientists.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—"We hope to send another ship in two or three weeks," said Mrs. Berta Barreto de los Heros of the Cuban Families Committee. "We want to bring out the rest of the relatives and even sweethearts." She said: "Castro told me that he would allow another 1,000 relatives of prisoners to leave Cuba and that our family committee could select them."

KENNEDY AND AIDES CONFER

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—President Kennedy and his top military advisers doffed their coats on a sunny patio today for a far-ranging discussion of defense strategy and military spending.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, undersecretary Roswell L. Gilpatric and the Joint Chiefs of Staff met at the holiday White House.

Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, Air Force chief of staff, made an eleventh hour stand against cutting off development funds for the controversial Skybolt missile.

McNamara said in advance of the conference that it "certainly will be our recommendation" to scrap Skybolt, which Kennedy has pictured as obsolete, and perhaps unreliable, in an age of more powerful nuclear-tipped rockets.

Bitter Cold In Many Pa. Areas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Bitter cold enveloped Pennsylvania today, sending temperatures below zero in some communities.

GOP GAINED 150 SEATS IN LAST VOTING

By RAYMOND J. CROWLEY

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republicans scored net gains of about 150 seats in state legislatures in the Nov. 6 election, and in the process ousted Democrats from control of both Senate and House in three states—Pennsylvania, Colorado and Utah.

Democrats still will control both legislative chambers in 26 states. The Republicans will have such two-house command in 19 states; and in four states control will be divided.

Before the election, Democrats dominated both legislative branches in 28 states, the Republicans in 14; and in 7 states control was divided.

ONLY ONE CHAMBER

The legislatures of the 50 states have about 7,500 members. Net Republican gains of around 150 are small in proportion to the total of seats but the gains are hailed by the GOP high command here as a sign of party progress. Republican leaders point, in particular, to a net pickup of 26 seats in the South as evidence of the growth of a two-party system there.

Democrats point to a victory in Hawaii, where they won control of the Senate and retained control of the House.

Democrats also picked up some seats in traditionally GOP northern New England—eight in New Hampshire and two in Maine—though the Republicans retain overwhelming majorities in both state capitals.

45 STATES ELECT

Forty-five states held election for their legislatures Nov. 6. The exceptions were Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, New Jersey and Virginia. Some of these five did hold special elections to fill vacancies.

The biggest Republican gain Nov. 6 was scored in Maryland where a judge's edict enlarged the House of Delegates to give greater influence to populous areas.

In Georgia, a Negro was elected to the state Senate for the first time in 92 years after historic reapportionment gave 25 of the 54 seats to nine urban counties.

Texas will have seven Republican state legislators, more than at any time since Reconstruction. The outgoing legislature had two.

GOP GAINS

Other Southern states in which Republicans gained were: Alabama 2, North Carolina 6, Oklahoma 13, Tennessee 2.

States in which Democrats controlled both chambers before Nov. 6, and still do, are:

Alabama, Alaska (assuming Democrats can organize House), Arizona (nominal majority in House), Arkansas, California, Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maryland, Massachusetts, Mississippi, Missouri, New Mexico, North Carolina, Oklahoma, Oregon, Rhode Island, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia, Washington, West Virginia.

States where Republicans retained their previous two-chamber control are:

Idaho, Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Maine, Michigan, New Hampshire, New York, North Dakota, Ohio, South Dakota, Vermont, Wisconsin, Wyoming.

DENY LIE TEST TO PRISONER

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard refused to submit to lie detector tests during investigation of his wife's murder and so, the Ohio Supreme Court has decided, he forfeited any right to be given such tests now.

The Supreme Court Wednesday refused to order either polygraph or hypnosis tests or both for Sheppard, 38, who is serving life sentence for the July 4, 1954, death of his wife. Convicted of second-degree murder, Sheppard, now in Marion Correctional Institution, becomes eligible for parole within the next two years.

Attorney F. Lee Bailey of Boston, who made the request that Corrections Commissioner Maury Koblenz be compelled to allow the tests, told the court only fear of the results was blocking the examinations. Bailey contends such tests could establish Sheppard's innocence and bear out his story that his pregnant wife, Marilyn, was bludgeoned fatally by a bushy-haired intruder who then gapped with the doctor and knocked him unconscious.

NEW YORK (AP)—The strike that shut down nine major newspapers is in its 20th day today, making it the longest newspaper blackout in the city's history.

The longest previous shutdown was a 19-day deliveries union walkout four years ago. At that time the cost in wages was an estimated $5 million, plus $25 million in newspaper revenue.

The wage loss in the current strike by the International Typographers Union is estimated at well over $6 million.

UNION STOPS STRIKE BREAK ON POTATO SHIP

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Stevedores in Charleston, S.C., have canceled plans to unload a cargo of seed potatoes today, as striking longshoremen shored up the single crack that had developed in their paralyzing work stoppage on East and Gulf Coast ports.

The Charleston local of the International Longshoremen's Association, AFL-CIO, broke the strike order Wednesday to unload bananas, and continued unloading them Wednesday night in defiance of orders from the union's national leadership to stop.

But the Charleston stevedores said they were canceling plans today to unload the seed potatoes today—under pressure from top union officials. South Carolina farmers, hard-hit because of poor fall crops, had appealed to the union to unload the potatoes before they sprout.

UNLOADED BANANAS

The unloading of the bananas prompted Capt. William V. Bradley, ILA president, to assign a union vice president to the Southern city to investigate. He said the Charleston local could lose its charter by the action.

In Galveston, Tex., about 100 dockworkers who belong to an organization not connected with the International Longshoremen crossed picket lines under police supervision to unload a Swedish banana boat. There was no violence.

Outside of these isolated instances, however, the strike has effectively closed all East and Gulf Coast ports to all but military, dangerous or emergency cargoes, which the ILA itself has exempted from the strike provisions.

Among the cargoes halted by the 5-day-old strike of 60,000 longshoremen are two shiploads of wheat in New Orleans destined for East Pakistan. The Pakistan Embassy in Washington says the grain is urgently needed.

No bargaining sessions were scheduled for today.

Snowplows churned in Copenhagen, Denmark, where temperatures hovered around freezing.

Paris, dusted with snow, awoke to freezing weather. Germany was mostly free of fresh snow, but it was cold—14 to 17 degrees.

The Dutch skated on their frozen canals, and in Oslo, Norway, the day was clear and freezing. But Hammerfest, which is farther north than Nome, Alaska, was having "mild" weather. It was 32 degrees above zero and most of the snow had been washed away by mild rain. Some residents thought it might be due to the Soviet nuclear tests some 900 miles to the east.

of another state are taxable. United Utilities and Bethlehem Steel Corporation, widely known corporations, come under this category and are subject to the tax. Shares in many mutual funds and investment trusts are also subject to the tax.

In filing returns it is advisable to list all securities owned, whether considered taxable or not. The commissioners will assess only those securities made taxable under the law. If in doubt as to whether or not certain stocks and bonds are taxable, inquire at the commissioners' office.

Audits and investigations every year uncover several thousand dollars worth of personal property tax due to errors and failure to file returns, which is assessed and collected by the commissioners' office.

Taxpayers who have not received forms by mail may obtain them at the commissioners' office or any Adams County bank. Assistance or additional information in filing returns may be obtained at the commissioners' office in the courthouse.

children came down with measles, three in a single family. The two families were isolated. Dr. Banning Lary of Miami said there was little cause for concern and no reason for a quarantine of the ship.

Moving into international waters, the African Pilot picked up an escort of three U.S. Coast Guard vessels.

GET BOX LUNCH

The freighter was designed to carry only 12 passengers and her life-saving equipment was inadequate.

There were only 500 cots set up in shelter deck areas but there were blankets for all, flown to Havana from the United States. Each person was given a box lunch including fried chicken, a ripe tomato, bread, butter and milk for the children.

Oldest of the refugees aboard was Angla Ceballos de Marero, 89, grandmother of one of the prisoners. The youngest was a baby born 22 days ago.

"CHRISTMAS BONUS"

As a "Christmas bonus," Castro agreed to let the relatives leave Cuba, following the prisoners who spent 20 months in Castro's crowded jails after the gallant but futile effort to free their country from his rule.

Chief topic of conversation aboard the ship was the plight of a man who was turned away as the African Pilot prepared to move out.

A shabbily dressed Negro raced up the rising gangplank shrieking "ayudame (help me)!" Wednesday night as the African Pilot made ready to cast off.

SEIZED BY GUARDS

Guards on deck, strictly

charged to let no more aboard the crowded craft, regretfully barred his entry. Two Cuban soldiers on the pier scrambled up and yanked their trembling countryman back to the dock.

A man in worker's clothes threw an arm around his shoulders and led him away. Two armed soldiers followed the pair around a corner of a warehouse crammed with $11 million in drugs and food which the African Pilot brought to Cuba Sunday as down payment on a $53 million commodity ransom for 1,113 men Castro's troops captured in the April 17, 1961 invasion at the Bay of Pigs.

The outbound African Pilot glided past Morro Castle, ancient stone sentinel of Havana Harbor, at 6:51 p.m.—about two hours later than scheduled.

Its human cargo traveled north with little or nothing more than the clothing each passenger wore. Other items—even Cuban money, of dubious value outside Cuba, they had to surrender before embarking.

A corps of American Red Cross nurses and doctors worked to ease the voyage for the voluntary exiles. Cots, blankets and sanitary equipment flown to Cuba for the voyage were doled out.

In another development, President Kennedy planned a conference at Palm Beach, where he is spending the Christmas holidays, with five liberated leaders of the invasion force which was beaten back in its Cuba attack 20 months ago.

Blames Adenauer For More Tensions

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev has accused Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of increasing tension in Berlin, prodding the world toward war "and endangering the lives of millions of people."

In a letter to Adenauer broadcast by Moscow radio, the Soviet premier reiterated his standard demand that Allied troops get out of Berlin. But he set no deadline. He also repeated that United Nations forces should replace the U.S., British and French garrisons in Berlin.

The letter, in reply to one from Adenauer complaining of border incidents in the divided city, assailed the West German chancellor sharply.

Khrushchev declared the West German government has no rights in Berlin and asserted: "By your policy, a policy of intensifying tension and prodding the world to new conflicts, you are endangering the lives of millions of people."

GHS Clashes With Alumni Friday At 7:30 P.M.; Three Other Games On Schedule

Only four county scholastic basketball teams have games scheduled for Friday evening, two opposing Alumni quintets.

One of the two tangle with the Alumni is Gettysburg High, unbeaten in five Blue Mountain League games and holders of first place in the circuit. The game will start at 7:30.

George Fair will again manage the Alumni and today he announced a group of 29 former Warrior players eligible to take part. All are asked to report at the new senior high gym Friday at 7 p.m. and all must furnish their own equipment.

Fairfield High, 2-3, also has an engagement with the Alumni Friday night.

The only league game on schedule Friday evening will be the Quincy-Bermudian Springs game on the latter's floor. This Adams-Franklin League game was postponed from last Friday due to hazardous driving conditions. Bermudian is still looking for its first victory after four losses, one in league competition.

Delone Catholic, which had a four-game winning streak snapped last week at Kennard-Dale, will attempt to start a new winning skein against the strong Spring Grove dribblers at McSherrystown.

Tonight Biglerville opposes its Alumni with a girls' game at 6:45 serving as the preliminary.

Abbottstown

MRS. DELLA BUTT
ABBOTTSTOWN—White gift of ferrets at last Sunday's service at St. John's Lutheran Church totaled $1,247. Other contributions to be credited to the 1962 accounts must be in the hands of the financial secretary by 10 p.m. December 30.

LeRoy Witters entertained the employees of the Abbottstown garment factory Friday evening at the Hofbrauhaus.

Kenneth Haverstock is spending the Christmas vacation with his parents.

Miss Gladys Alwine, New York City, is spending the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Emory Alwine.

Kenneth Klinedinst, Fort-Sill, Okla., is awaiting reassignment to Germany at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Klinedinst.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Slouthouse are spending the holidays with Rev. and Mrs. George Berkeimer and family, Ambler.

Walter Baker spent the holiday leave from the Navy with his father, Walter Baker, and family.

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—Harvey R. Bloss, 35, of Portland, Chautauque county, died Wednesday night in Buffalo General Hospital of injuries suffered Dec. 9 when his automobile collided with a freight train at a grade crossing near his home.

3 BIG UPSETS AS TOURNEYS GET UNDERWAY

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer
This is the season to be jolly, but it's all a folly to Southern California, Stanford and Bowling Green, who discovered rather quickly that the moment you set out on the court in one of the nation's holiday basketball tournaments the Yuletide spirit goes up the chimney.

The seventh-ranked Trojans, ninth-ranked Indians and highly touted Falcons still were trying to wipe the soot from their once-spotless records today following their first defeat in the three major upsets of Wednesday's opening action in the annual tournament warfare.

Southern Cal, which had won all nine of its games, was unceremoniously dumped from the unbeaten ranks by Colorado State U., 72-54 while Stanford, winner of seven, dropped a 62-61 decision to Northwestern on Ken Lutgens' tip-in with 4 seconds to go. Both upsets came in the first round of the Los Angeles Classic.

BOWLING GREEN BOWS

Bowling Green, 4-0 and the tourney favorite, lost to St. Joseph's, Pa., 58-57 on a last second shot by Jim Boyle in the Quaker City Classic at Philadelphia.

In all, eight major tournaments opened as the holiday program began to build toward a Saturday park that will see 19 coveted crowns up for grabs. With the three exceptions it was a form-filled evening.

Here's a capsule rundown of the other results:

Los Angeles Classic—St. Louis walloped Washington 64-39 and UCLA belted Utah 89-75. In tonight's semifinals it'll be Northwestern vs. Colorado State and St. Louis vs. UCLA.

OTHER TOURNEYS

Quaker City—BYU defeated LaSalle 84-73, Villanova knocked off Manhattan 72-54 and Providence drubbed Delaware 70-57. Friday's semifinal pairings are Providence and Villanova-St. Joseph's.

Holiday Festival at New York—Fourth-ranked and undefeated Illinois handed Penn its first loss 86-66, West Virginia squeezed by Boston College 65-64 in overtime, NYU beat Duquesne 71-66 and St. Bonaventure bopped Holy Cross 82-68. The semifinals Friday will be Illinois-NYU and West Virginia-St. Bonaventure.

Big Eight at Kansas City—Kansas stopped Colorado 70-64 and Iowa State topped Nebraska 82-68. All-College at Oklahoma City—Wyoming downed Creighton 80-74 and Oklahoma City thumped Baylor 76-60.

RESULTS IN WEST

Far West at Portland, Ore.—Iowa nipped Ariona 57-56 and Tregon overcame Washington State 67-57.

West Coast at San Francisco—San Jose defeated Pepperdine 64-54 and Santa Clara crushed University of Pacific 80-63.

Gulf South at Shreveport, La.—Centenary beat George Washington 86-78 and Louisiana Tech took West Texas 81-77.

Orrtanna

MRS. LUTHER WETZEL

ORRTANNA—A Christmas program was presented at the annual Christmas party of the Young Adult Sunday School class of the Mt. Carmel EUB Church at the church. After the opening hymn there was scripture reading by Mrs. Paul Wetzel and Harman Spence, departmental superintendents. The pastor, the Rev. Alfred K. Gotwall, offered prayer and Janie Wetzel and Timothy Shaffer and the Junior Department sang a song.

Deborah Shaffer and Vicki Haines presented "We've Been Shopping" and then pictures of "The Wonderful World of the Brothers Grimm" and "King of Kings" were presented. After a carol and the closing prayer, gifts were presented by the committee, Mrs. Clyde Metz and Linda Carbaugh. Santa made a visit and Mrs. Eugene McGlaughlin led children's games. Refreshments were served by members of the class taught by Mrs. Elmer Shaffer and Mrs. Dale Wetzel. The refreshment committee included Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Spence and Mr. and Mrs. George Haines. The program committee was headed by Mrs. Claire Rebert and included the department superintendents and the teachers.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wetzel entertained at a Christmas Eve dinner Monday in observance of the second birthday anniversary of their granddaughter, Karen Weigle. Others present were Karen's parents and sisters, Mr. and Mrs. William Weigle, Debbie, Susie and Benny Weigle, Gettysburg, R. 2; Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Wetzel, Gettysburg, and Karen's great-grandparents, Mr. and Mrs.

Canner Cagers Oppose Alumni This Evening

The Biglerville High School varsity basketball team, above, will try for its fourth consecutive victory tonight when it meets the Alumni in the annual game. The Cannors, being coached by Dan Bushman for the first time, have an overall 3-2 record with three straight triumphs in the Blue Mountain League. Preceding tonight's game a girls' team will oppose the Alumni at 6:45. Mount Nips Knights 64-62 In Tourney Opener; Meet NYAC For Title On Friday

Mt. St. Mary's College, still plagued with illness and injuries, moved into the championship game of the New York Athletic Club invitation basketball tournament by edging Fairleigh-Dickinson Wednesday evening 64-62.

The Mount will now meet host NYAC, surprise winner over Belmont Abbey 68-58 in the opening round game, Friday evening for the tournament title. The losers of Wednesday evening will play a preliminary consolation game.

LOSE O'REILLY

John O'Reilly, one of the stalwarts of the Mount outfit, became ill during the game and had to sit out most of the game. During his brief bit of play he tallied eight points.

Eddie Pfeiffer, the fiery little leader of the Mounties, also was hampered by illness but played the entire game and wound up with 24 points to lead the winner's attack. Dave Maloney was right behind Pfeiffer in scoring and landed 22 points.

Fran Fenerty, one of the reservists, came through with three quick goals late in the game to keep the Mount in front of the surging Knights. Rounding out the scoring for Mt. St. Mary's was John Carrell who netted four. Ed Folk, 6-5 Sophomore, failed to break into the scoring but turned in a fine defensive game off the boards to take up the slack when O'Reilly left the game.

BISONS BEAT AMERKS 4-3

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Buffalo Bisons, standing at the head of the class in the American Hockey League's Western Division, have ballooned their bulge to 11 points over runner-up Rochester after whipping the Americans in a battle of attrition.

Eighty-four shots were rapped goalward Wednesday night as the Bisons and Amerks met at Buffalo. Number 84, a 25-foot shot with 2 minutes, 40 seconds remaining by Brian Smith, proved the clincher in a 4-3 Bisons' victory.

Cleveland moved into a tie with Rochester for the second spot, gaining a 2-2 tie in overtime with Pittsburgh in the only other game scheduled.

Rochester's Gerry McNamara was continually peppered in the Amerks' goal. He managed to turn aside 44 shots, but he was unable to stem the avalanche. Barry Cullen, Larry Wilson, Ed Kachur and Smith tallied for Buffalo while Dick Gamble, Jim Pappin and Gene Umbriaco connected for Rochester. Bisons' goalie Denis DeJordy made 33 saves.

AKRON, N. Y. (AP)—Fire wrecked the two-story Masonic Temple in this Erie County community Wednesday and the loss was expected to exceed $100,000. The concrete-block building once was Akron High School.

The cause was not determined.

Luther Wetzel, A birthday cake with candles was included in the menu. Karen received gifts and gifts for Christmas were also exchanged by the group.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Wetzel returned Wednesday to Wernersville after spending the Christmas season with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Date Wetzel.

Bedenk, Coach At PSU, To Retire Soon

UNIVERSITY PARK—F. J. (Joe) Bedenk, Penn State baseball coach since 1931 and a member of the Nittany Lion athletic staff since 1929, today announced his retirement from the university effective January 1.

In addition to his coaching duties, Bedenk is a professor of physical education and will be retired with the rank of professor emeritus.

Bedenk will be succeeded as baseball coach by Charles (Chuck) Medlar, Bedenk's assistant and pitching specialist for the past 14 years. Medlar also will continue his duties as head trainer for Lion athletic teams.

CELTICS BEAT SAN FRANCISCO

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Wilt Chamberlain won his battle, but the Boston Celtics won the game.

That was the rather familiar story in the National Basketball Association Wednesday night, with the champion Celtics turning back San Francisco 116-113 despite a brilliant performance by the Warriors' 7-foot-1 center.

Detroit beat Chicago 123-116 and St. Louis closed up on Western Division leader Los Angeles, edging the Lakers 106-104 in the only other games.

Chamberlain, whose personal duels with Boston's Bill Russell form one of the highlights of the NBA, turned in one of his most outstanding defensive showings.

Big Wilt scored 43 points, blocked at least a dozen shots, took down 32 rebounds and held Russell to eight points.

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—Robert Eggleston, 70, was killed Wednesday when he was struck by a truck while crossing a downtown street.

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—Jet winds of 161 miles-an-hour swept over New York State Wednesday in the direction of New England at an altitude of 25,000 feet, the Weather Bureau said.

The bureau said pilots would avoid the altitude until the winds subsided.

ENDICOTT, N. Y. (AP)—William Rockwell, 31, of Freeport, died in a hospital here Wednesday of injuries received in an automobile accident Dec. 15, near the Southern Tier village of Owego.

May Announce Liston Rematch

TORONTO (AP)—Bruce Kidd, a distance runner who mystifies perfectionists with his ungainly and unorthodox style, was named Canada's outstanding athlete of 1962 today for the second consecutive year.

The 19-year-old from Toronto, who combines a brilliant scholastic record with a career in world track, received the honors from the country's sports editors and broadcasters.

A month ago Kidd whipped older and more experienced men in the British Empire Games 6-mile run at Perth, Australia, winning Canada's first individual track gold medal in international competition since 1950. He also placed third in the 3-mile run.

Runner-up to Kidd in the balloting was 30-goal scorer Bobby Hull of the Chicago Black Hawks of the National Hockey League.

Stable Groom And 18 Horses Perish In Fire

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—The second fire in less than a year at Buffalo Raceway in nearby Hamburg took the lives of a stable groom and 18 standardbred horses Wednesday night.

Robert Wimberly, 55, of Philadelphia, suffered a fatal heart attack and died in a Buffalo Hospital shortly after he had led several horses from the flaming main barn at the harness track.

A track spokesman said Wimberly collapsed while leading a horse from the barn, but managed to walk to the ambulance.

About 80 trotters and pacers were housed in the multi-sectioned barn when the fire broke out. Most were led to other buildings, but some broke loose in panic and roamed around the Erie County Fairgrounds where the track is located. Some were reported on nearby highways.

PREVENT SPENDING

Newly installed fire walls in the barn, which is located on the backstretch of the raceway's half-mile track, were credited with preventing the flames from spreading to the rest of the building.

A spokesman at the track estimated the loss in horses at $50,000 and damage to the building at $60,000.

The barn had facilities for 110 trotters and pacers during the harness season.

Firemen probed the ruins in an effort to determine the cause.

Last New Year's Eve, 18 trotters and pacers perished in a fire at an adjacent barn. The loss in horses then was set at $100,000, with $40,000 the damage to the barn and equipment.

Last Oct. 14, a groom and 28 horses at Batavia Downs, the area's other harness track, died in a fire in a stable area. The loss was estimated at $300,000.

The fire Wednesday night was brought under control about 80 minutes after discovery.

CHOOSE COUSY FOR HIS 13TH ALL-STAR TILT

NEW YORK (AP)—Bob Cousy, the "Boston Celtics" all-time great playmaker who is winding up his career this season, was picked for the National Basketball Association's All-Star game for the 13th time in as many years.

Selection of Cousy and seven other players for the East in the 13th annual All-Star game at Los Angeles Jan. 16 was announced today by NBA President Maurice Podoloff.

"Eight players for the West were named Wednesday. The eight for each side were picked by basketball writers in the NBA cities."

COACHES CHOOSE 3

NBA coaches will select the other three men for each team. Red Auerbach, coach of the champion Celtics, will handle the East and Fred Schaus of the Los Angeles Lakers will coach the West. The East leads 7-5.

The teams:

East—Forwards, Tom Heinsohn, Boston, Jack Tryman, Cincinnati, and Lee Shaffer, Syracuse; centers, Bill Russell, Boston and John Kerr, Syracuse; guards, Oscar Robertson, Cincinnati, Bob Cousy, Boston, and Richie Guerin, New York.

West—Forwards, Elgin Baylor, Los Angeles, Bob Pettit, St. Louis, and Bailey Howell, Detroit; centers, Wilt Chamberlain, San Francisco, and Walt Bellamy, Chicago; guards, Jerry West, Los Angeles, Guy Rodgers, San Francisco, and Don Ohl, Detroit.

WILKINSON IS WORRIED ABOUT DEERE

By BEN OLAN

Associated Press Sports Writer
There's a good reason for Oklahoma's Bud Wilkinson to be walking around with a frown on his face today. The sooner the Sooners coach hears some good news about Monte Deere the better he'll feel.

Deere, who directed Oklahoma to victories in its last seven games and to seventh-place in the national rankings, remained in a hotel Wednesday fighting off an attack of flu and tonsillitis as his team held a secret practice for its Jan. 1 Orange Bowl meeting with Alabama in Miami, Fla. Oklahoma wound up the regular campaign with an 8-2 record while Bama was 9-1.

Wilkinson was concerned by Deere's absence because he wanted the quarterback to operate some new plays he intends to use against the Crimson Tide. The chances are, however, that Deere will be ready for the big game.

ONE PULLED MUSCLE

Meanwhile, the Tide flew into Miami and coach Bear Bryant reported his squad in top physical condition with the exception of tackle Butch Henry, who was limping with a pulled leg muscle.

The Orange Bowl tilt is one of eight BIG ones to be played within the next week. On Saturday, Penn State, 9-1, goes against Florida, 6-4, in the Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, Fla. The same day the East and West meet in the Shrine game in San Francisco and the North and South in the Blue-Gray game in Montgomery, Ala.

West Texas State and Ohio University, each with an 8-2 record, clash in the Sun Bowl at El Paso, Tex., Monday.

JAN. 1 MENU

On New Year's Day, it's Southern California, 10-0, against Wisconsin, 8-1, in the Rose Bowl in Pasadena, Calif.; Texas, 9-0-1, vs. Louisiana State, 8-1-1, in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas, Tex., and Mississippi, 9-0, against Arkansas, 9-1, in the Sugar Bowl at New Orleans.

Penn State went into final preparations for the Gator Bowl game Wednesday night following a late arrival in St. Augustine, Fla., due to bad weather. Coach Rip Engle hustled his forces to a high school practice field and its first workout since breaking the temporary bowl camp in Annapolis, Md., last Saturday.

Mails Lunch In Mistake For

Greetings: One Gettysburg working man lost his lunch today in an effort to send a handful of holiday greetings to his friends — while postal clerks at the local post office shook their heads in amazement and agreed that anything can turn up in a mail box.

This morning a somewhat embarrassed man, unknown to the staff, turned up at the local office and turned in a paper bag filled with stamped and addressed greetings to be mailed.

He explained that when he left home this morning his wife gave him two paper bags — one containing his lunch and the other the greetings. He mailed the lunch bag at the letter box at the First National bank building and went on his way with the bag of Christmas cards in his hand.

Discovering his error he went to the post office to mail the cards and see what could be done about his lunch. But he was told that mail-collecting postmen would not reach the office until after 12 o'clock from the center square section.

He left without identifying himself or leaving instructions about the future of his intended lunch. Hard-pressed clerks later munched a sandwich or two while they tackled the record heaps of holiday mail all about them.

PUC Approves New Crossing In Gettysburg: In a Public Utility commission order dated Monday and received here this morning the application of the Gettysburg borough for permission to construct a grade crossing at the intersection of West High street and a spur track of the Reading railroad is approved and the construction work is ordered.

Borough Engineer LeRoy H. Winebrenner said today that work probably will begin as soon as weather permits. The appropriation of the necessary funds already has been made by council.

The state approval was given "upon full consideration of matters and things involved." The commission members wrote that they "find and determine that the construction of the crossing at grade in the borough of Gettysburg... is necessary or proper for the service, accommodation, convenience or safety of the public."

Hampton Square To Be Lighted: The Hampton Square, where many truck and auto drivers have come to grief, is to be illuminated all night in the future, it has been decided by the Reading township road board.

In the past all lights in the center of the plot in the square have been extinguished at 11 each night. Motorists not familiar with the road have come upon the oval in the square before realizing it with the result that there have been many accidents.

Only last week a large truck struck the Starry home on the square and did considerable damage. The road board announced the lights in the square will be permitted to burn all night in the future to determine whether or not this measure will be sufficient to eliminate accidents there.

One Rural Home Is Under Quarantine: Only one home in rural Adams county remains under quarantine and that residence, located in Hamilton township, is to be released before Christmas, William I. Shields, county health officer reported Monday.

On Monday he released the home of Wayne Asper, Cumberland township. A son, Ronald, aged 18 months, was ill. On Sunday he lifted the quarantine at the home of Grover Dove, Gardeners R. 1. On Saturday the tag was removed from the home of H. Ty Zeigler, Gettysburg R. 3.

Today's Talk

BOOKS

Find out what books your friend reads and you'll know what manner of man or woman you have for a friend. Books contain the wisdom — as well as the foolishness of the ages. The greatest thoughts, the deepest experiences the results of the most profound and prolonged experiments, are all embalmed in books.

Grow useful from books. The character of a man is shown by the books he selects. The character of a nation is largely determined by the books that its men and women read. The wealth of the world is in its books, not in its gold and silver and precious stones and structures and lands.

Grow useful from books. Good books are real. They are cross sections of life. They tell the truth and conceal nothing. You take or leave what such a book teaches. You know, without asking, its true value. You think, act, walk, work — live with it. For the time you are of it — a part. You live over the thought that the writer lived. Though long years in his grave — again he breathes, and warmth is in his blood again. How marvelous is a book!

Grow useful from books. Good books make sympathy a world trait. Progress is but the accumulation of book power. With books gone the world would rot away. Good books will put poetry and music into your small efforts.

Grow useful from books. The world's greatest doers have been the world's greatest readers. Poets lift up the soul, and give to man a colossal greatness.

Grow useful from books. Read good books regularly and systematically. Learn books. LIVE books.

Just Folks

INESCAPABLE

These are the things which we cannot change:

Weather and time and the flowing tide.

We face whatever the fates arrange

And willing or no put our whims aside.

As the day is ordered we must abide.

This we learn as the years go by:

Sorrow is something that all must bear;

The joys we'd keep are the ones that fly;

Skies are gray when we'd have them fair;

Disappointment falls everywhere.

He lives best who can best reshape

His dreams anew to the wish denied;

Who bravest bears what he can't escape.

Of wind and weather and flowing tide

And keeps his faith when he's trouble-tried.

WINTER HIKE FOR SCOUTS ON JANUARY 12

Pictures of Scouting activities were shown by Scoutmaster Edgar A. Wolfe at the meeting of Boy Scout Troop 84 Wednesday evening at the Community Center. The tentative date for the annual winter hike was announced for Saturday, January 12. Plans for this evening will be furthered at the meeting next Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. at the Community Center.

A very large congregation attended the annual Christmas service on Sunday evening in Centenary Methodist Church. The Children's Department of the Sunday School presented a play and a skit. There was caroling by the congregation, accompanied by the organ by Mrs. Estella Furlow. The Rev. William R. Jones, pastor, offered prayer and read a poem. The annual congregational Christmas party followed the service, in the church social hall. Santa Claus arrived and distributed treats to the children. Refreshments were served to all in attendance by the Woman's Society of Christian Service and the Sunday School.

Preparatory and Holy Communion services will be held in Grace Lutheran Church, Two Taverns, on Friday at 7:30 p.m. and Sunday at 10 a.m.

CLASS TO MEET

A holiday meeting will be held by the Starr Bible Class of St. Paul's Lutheran Church at 7:30 p.m. Friday at the home of the class teacher, Luther W. Ritter, Glenwyn Dr. There will be a gift exchange. The hostesses will be Mrs. C. Edgar Pfeiffer, Mrs. Irvin R. Kindig, Mrs. George Basehor and Mrs. Minnie S. Miller.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence O. Bankert, Prince St., and their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Keith Michael, St. Cloud, Minn., spent the weekend with the former's son-in-law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. M. L. Nafziger and daughters, Woodbridge, Va.

Christ Ambassadors Youth Service of Bethel Assembly of God Church, along the Fish and Game Rd., will meet at the church Friday at 7:30 p.m.

The weekly public party of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, Littlestown Aerie No. 2226, will be held at 8 p.m. Friday in the social room of the F.O.E. home, W. King St.

PLAN BANQUET

The Littlestown Women's Bowling League, which has completed its first half of the season, is planning for the year-end banquet. Committees named are: Banquet, Betty Worley, chairman, Shirley Boyd, Pat Harbaugh and Mary Selby; program, Helen Jacobs, chairman, Pat Welty and Betty Ebaugh; trophy, Pat Keagy, chairman, Esther Harner and Bonnie Strine. The league will resume bowling on Tuesday, January 8, following the holiday recess.

Members of Explorer Post 84 and their guests will attend the annual Sno Ball on Friday night at the Hotel Yorktowne, York.

Atty. McGrannery To Be Buried Friday

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pontifical Requiem Mass will be celebrated Friday in St. Matthew's Cathedral for James P. McGrannery, former U.S. attorney general and federal judge.

Burial will follow in Arlington National Cemetery with full military honors.

McGrannery, attorney general under President Harry Truman, died Sunday at the age of 63 while spending the Christmas holidays in Palm Beach, Fla., with his wife and three children.

McGrannery was a native of Philadelphia and lived and practiced law in Washington after his retirement as attorney general in 1953.

The viewing will be at Gawler Funeral home, 5130 Wisconsin Ave. N.W., from 4:30 p.m. to 10 p.m. today.

BRIDGE FALLS, KILLING 12

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (AP) — Part of a bridge under construction over the Virilla River collapsed under the weight of a bulldozer Wednesday, killing 12 workmen and injuring 11 others.

Tuesday and Thursday evening from 7:30 to 10:30 o'clock.

New Mail Route To Baltimore Starts Friday: When passenger and mail service on the Western Maryland railroad between Baltimore and Gettysburg is discontinued on Thursday, a new star mail route will go into operation Friday, serving Gettysburg and Baltimore and eight intermediate post offices.

The contract for the new route has been awarded to J. Hayes Beard, Gettysburg R. 2, on the basis of competitive bids submitted. The contract covers the period from January 1 to June 30, 1963.

Mr. Beard, who already operates two other star routes out of the local post office, will make six round trips weekly between Gettysburg and Baltimore. There will be no service on Sundays.

Robert Sherwood's Daughter Suicides

NEW YORK (AP) — Mary Sherwood Elms, 39, daughter of the late Pulitzer Prize-winning playwright Robert E. Sherwood, was found dead Wednesday in her Manhattan apartment. Police said her wrists had been slashed by a razor.

An autopsy was scheduled for today.

Authorities termed the death an apparent suicide, and quoted friends and the maid who found the body as saying Mrs. Elms had been despondent about a recent divorce.

Sherwood, an author of books as well as a playwright, died in 1955.

Commercial Atomic Power Seen In '63

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The president of Westinghouse Electric Corp. predicts continued high business activity in the electrical manufacturing industry in 1963, further spurred by the advent of commercial atomic power.

President Mark W. Cresap Jr., in a year-end statement Wednesday, said:

"For the electrical manufacturers, the 1963 economic challenge will be to improve earnings so that they can support and speed the research, engineering and the development of advanced manufacturing methods which gave birth to the atomic power business and has brought America world leadership in it."

He said sales are expected to increase only slightly in 1963, and urged the introduction of new products and services and more efficient production techniques to improve profits.

Father Of Three Burned Girls Dies

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (AP) — Clarence E. Shaver, Harveys Lake, father of three girls who burned to death Nov. 28, died Wednesday night in Nesbitt Memorial Hospital where he was a patient at the time of the fire. Because of his condition he was never told of the tragedy.

Shaver suffered a stroke Nov. 25 and had been in the hospital since.

The bodies of his daughters, Mildred Virginia 15; Cynthia, 5, and Susan, 2, were found in the ruins of the Shaver home more than six hours after the fire was discovered.

The fire in Shaver home at Truip Corners, Harveys Lake, was believed to have been caused by an overheated stove in the kitchen.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A Ride Airlines cargo plane forced down here Wednesday by engine trouble has been attached by the City of Philadelphia, seeking to satisfy a judgment of $23,000.

The city claims Riddle, of Miami, Fla., owes that much on a lease vacated in 1961, but which doesn't expire until 1964.

Consider Bridge To Link Sweden, Denmark; Would Carry Highway, Railroad

By BRACK CURRY

STOCKHOLM (AP) — Sweden and Denmark are considering a mammoth project to link the two countries by bridge.

Its completion would bring a new "city of two nations" with a population of four to five million people. As one of the world's largest cities it would have immense commercial and industrial importance.

The project has wide official and public support. A committee appointed by the two governments has recommended construction of a 3 1/2-mile bridge across the Oresund — the body of water that separates Sweden and the Danish island of Zealand. The bridge would cost 750 million Swedish crowns — $144.8 million — and would take 10 years to build, including preparatory work. The committee recommends that it run between the Swedish city of Helsingborg and the Danish city of Elsinore, at the narrowest point of the Oresund.

RAIL LINES TOO

It would be of double-deck construction with a four-lane highway above for vehicles and rail lines underneath. Ships could pass beneath it.

The committee says this permanent link between Sweden and Denmark would so increase commercial and industrial activity that a population increase would naturally follow. It predicts that by the end of this century one fourth of the population of Sweden and Denmark will live along the

CLOUDS OVER NEW TALKS ON KASHMIR

RAWALPINDI, Pakistan (AP) — Indian and Pakistani ministers opened negotiations over Kashmir today under a new cloud of mistrust blown up by announcement of a Pakistan-Red China agreement on their share of the border of the disputed state.

A vaguely worded Pakistani-Red Chinese announcement said Wednesday night an agreement in principle had been reached on the 200 miles of border between Red China's Sinkiang Province and that part of Kashmir on Pakistan's side of the U.N. cease-fire line dividing the Himalayan range.

In New Delhi, the announcement aroused surprise that there was certain to turn into anger. There was no immediate public reaction from the Indian negotiators here, however.

Pakistan President Mohammed Ayub Khan called in the Pakistani and Indian delegation leaders soon after they sat down at the conference table. A reliable source said Ayub wanted to clarify the agreement with Red China.

It was understood he appealed for a settlement on Kashmir, over which India and Pakistan have feuded since 1947. "In the interests of friendly relations between the two countries and the security of the subcontinent."

It was because of Red China's thrust deep into India's Himalayan borderlands two months ago that India and Pakistan agreed, at the urging of Britain and the United States, to renew attempts to negotiate over Kashmir.

TO ALLAY FEARS

Britain and the United States wanted a settlement of the feud to ease themselves off a spot — a desire to meet nonaligned India's requests for arms and at the same time to satisfy Pakistan's fears the arms would ultimately be turned against her, an ally of the West.

Ayub Khan and Indian Prime Minister Nehru have agreed to meet if their lower-level negotiators can make enough progress to promise a settlement.

Red China claims about 15,000 square miles of Kashmir and has taken practically all that she claims in the Ladakh part of the state on India's side of the U.N. cease-fire line.

BOWING TO PEKING

Fighting has stopped under China's self-proclaimed cease-fire, but the Chinese are not pulling back as they are in India's north-eastern border area. Nehru has declared he will never bow to the Red Chinese claim.

But Indian officials have feared ever since last May, when Pakistan announced she would negotiate an interim boundary agreement with Red China, that Pakistani officials would give way to Peking.

According to India, the Chinese claim 3,700 square miles of Kashmir on the northeast slopes of the Karakoram Mountain range and on Pakistan's side of the U.N. cease-fire line. They said Pakistan's maps show only about half of this area as belonging to Pakistan.

India's chief negotiator for the talks here, Railways Minister Sardar Swaran Singh, said in an interview Wednesday night that under certain conditions India might agree to one of Pakistan's most important demands, a plebiscite in Kashmir.

Mother And Three Children Killed

MT. VERNON, Ill. (AP) — Five persons, including a mother and her three children, were killed in a two-car accident on U.S. 460 Wednesday night near this Southern Illinois town. Seven others were injured.

Dead are Mrs. Mary K. Shelton, 42, Joyce Shelton, 8, Kay Shelton, 11, Chester Shelton, 12 and Kenneth Lewis, 19.

Police said a car driven by Floyd Shelton, 48, was attempting a left turn into a country road, when it was struck by a car driven by Larry Martin, 18. Lewis was a passenger in Martin's car.

All were from Mt. Vernon.

Mails Lunch In Mistake For

Greetings: One Gettysburg working man lost his lunch today in an effort to send a handful of holiday greetings to his friends — while postal clerks at the local post office shook their heads in amazement and agreed that anything can turn up in a mail box.

This morning a somewhat embarrassed man, unknown to the staff, turned up at the local office and turned in a paper bag filled with stamped and addressed greetings to be mailed.

He explained that when he left home this morning his wife gave him two paper bags — one containing his lunch and the other the greetings. He mailed the lunch bag at the letter box at the First National bank building and went on his way with the bag of Christmas cards in his hand.

Discovering his error he went to the post office to mail the cards and see what could be done about his lunch. But he was told that mail-collecting postmen would not reach the office until after 12 o'clock from the center square section.

He left without identifying himself or leaving instructions about the future of his intended lunch. Hard-pressed clerks later munched a sandwich or two while they tackled the record heaps of holiday mail all about them.

PUC Approves New Crossing

In Gettysburg: In a Public Utility commission order dated Monday and received here this morning the application of the Gettysburg borough for permission to construct a grade crossing at the intersection of West High street and a spur track of the Reading railroad is approved and the construction work is ordered.

Borough Engineer LeRoy H. Winebrenner said today that work probably will begin as soon as weather permits. The appropriation of the necessary funds already has been made by council.

The state approval was given "upon full consideration of matters and things involved." The commission members wrote that they "find and determine that the construction of the crossing at grade in the borough of Gettysburg... is necessary or proper for the service, accommodation, convenience or safety of the public."

Hampton Square To Be

Lighted: The Hampton Square, where many truck and auto drivers have come to grief, is to be illuminated all night in the future. It has been decided by the Reading township road board.

In the past, all lights with the exception of a red light in the center of the lot in the square have been extinguished at 11 each night. Motorists not familiar with the road have come upon the oval in the square before realizing it with the result that there have been many accidents.

Only last week a large truck struck the stone home on the square and did considerable damage. The road board announced the lights in the square will be permitted to burn all night in the future to determine whether or not this measure will be sufficient to eliminate accidents there.

One Rural Home Is Under

Quarantine: Only one home in rural Adams county remains under quarantine and that residence, located in Hamilton township is to be released before Christmas.

Shelton, county health officer reported Monday.

On Monday he released the home of Wayne Asper, Commerce township. A son, Ronald, aged 18 months, was ill on Sunday he lifted the quarantine at the home of Grover Dove, Gardner R. 1. On Saturday the tag was removed from the home of H. T. Zeigler, Gettysburg R. 3.

Today's Talk

BOOKS

Find out what books your friend reads and you'll know what manner of man or woman you have for a friend. Books contain the wisdom — as well as the foolishness of the ages. The greatest thoughts, the deepest experiences the results of the most profound and prolonged experiments, are all embalmed in books.

Grow useful from books. The character of a man is shown by the books he selects. The character of a nation is largely determined by the books that its men and women read. The wealth of the world is in its books, not in its gold and silver and precious stones and structures and lands.

Good books are real. They are cross sections of life. They tell the truth and conceal nothing. You take or leave what such a book teaches. You know, without asking, its true value. You think, act, walk, work — live with it. For the time you are of it — a part. You live over the thought that the writer lived. Though long years in his grave — again he breathes, and warmth is in his blood again. How marvelous is a book!

Good books make sympathy a world trait. Progress is but the accumulation of book power. With books gone the world would rot away. Good books will put poetry and music into your smallest efforts.

Read good books regularly and systematically. Learn books. LIVE books.

Just Folks

INESCAPABLE

These are the things which we cannot change:
Weather and time and the flowing tide,
We face whatever the fates arrange
And willing or no put our whims aside,
As the day is ordered we must abide.

This we learn as the years go by:
Sorrow is something that all must bear;
The joys we'd keep are the ones that fly;
Skies are gray when we'd have them fair;
Disappointment falls everywhere.

He lives best who can best reshape
His dreams anew to the wish denied;
Who bravest bears what he can't escape.
Of wind and weather and flowing tide
And keeps his faith when he's trouble-tried.

Consider Bridge To Link Sweden, Denmark; Would Carry Highway, Railroad

By BRACK CURRY

STOCKHOLM (AP) — Sweden and Denmark are considering a mammoth project to link the two countries by bridge.

Its completion would bring a new "city of two nations" with a population of four to five million people. As one of the world's largest cities it would have immense commercial and industrial importance.

The project has wide official and public support. A committee appointed by the two governments has recommended construction of a 3½-mile bridge across the Oresund—the body of water that separates Sweden and the Danish island of Zealand. The bridge would cost 750 million Swedish crowns—$144.8 million—and would take 10 years to build, including preparatory work. The committee recommends that it run between the Swedish city of Helsingborg and the Danish city of Elsinore, at the narrowest point of the Oresund.

One question worrying the planners is whether it would be legal to construct a bridge across an international sea channel. Danish experts say international law does not lay down any definite policy on the question.

The decision to build or not to build may come in 1963.

RAIL LINES TOO

It would be of double-deck construction with a four-lane highway above for vehicles and rail lines underneath. Ships could pass beneath it.

The committee says this permanent link between Sweden and Denmark would so increase commercial and industrial activity that a population increase would naturally follow. It predicts that by the end of this century one fourth of the population of Sweden and Denmark will live along the

CLOUDS OVER

NEW TALKS

ON KASHMIR

RAWALPINDI, Pakistan (AP) — Indian and Pakistani ministers opened negotiations over Kashmir today under a new cloud of mistrust blown up by announcement of a Pakistan-Red China agreement on their share of the border of the disputed state.

A vaguely worded Pakistani-Red Chinese announcement said Wednesday night an agreement in principle had been reached on the 200 miles of border between China's Sinkiang Province and that part of Kashmir on Pakistan's side of the U.N. cease-fire line dividing the Himalayan state.

In New Delhi, the announcement aroused surprise that was certain to turn into anger. There was no immediate public reaction from the Indian negotiators here, however.

Pakistan President Mohammed Ayub Khan called in the Pakistani and Indian delegation leaders soon after they sat down at the conference table. A reliable source said Ayub wanted to clarify the agreement with Red China.

It was understood he appealed for a settlement on Kashmir, over which India and Pakistan have feuded since 1947, "in the interests of friendly relations between the two countries and the security of the subcontinent."

It was because of Red China's thrust deep into India's Himalayan borderlands two months ago that India and Pakistan agreed, at the urging of Britain and the United States, to renew attempts to negotiate over Kashmir.

TO ALLAY FEARS

Britain and the United States wanted a settlement of the feud to ease themselves off a spot—a desire to meet nonaligned India's requests for arms and at the same time to satisfy Pakistan's fears the arms would ultimately be turned against her, an ally of the West.

Ayub Khan and Indian Prime Minister Nehru have agreed to meet if their lower-level negotiators can make enough progress to promise a settlement.

Red China claims about 15,000 square miles of Kashmir and has taken practically all that she claims in the Ladakh part of the state on India's side of the U.N. cease-fire line.

BOWING TO PEKING

Fighting has stopped under China's self-proclaimed cease-fire, but the Chinese are not pulling back as they are in India's northeastern border area. Nehru has declared he will never bow to the Red Chinese claim.

But Indian officials have feared ever since last May, when Pakistan announced she would negotiate an interim boundary agreement with Red China, that Pakistani officials would give way to Peking.

According to India, the Chinese claim 3,700 square miles of Kashmir on the northeast slopes of the Karakoram Mountain range and on Pakistan's side of the U.N. cease-fire line. They said Pakistan's maps show only about half of this area as belonging to Pakistan.

India's chief negotiator for the talks here, Railways Minister Sardar Swaran Singh, said in an interview Wednesday night that under certain conditions India might agree to one of Pakistan's most important demands, a plebiscite in Kashmir.

Mother And Three Children Killed

MT. VERNON, Ill. (AP)—Five persons, including a mother and her three children, were killed in a two-car accident on U.S. 460 Wednesday night near this Southern Illinois town. Seven others were injured.

Dead are Mrs. Mary K. Shelton, 42, Joyce Shelton, 8, Kay Shelton, 11, Chester Shelton, 12 and Kenneth Lewis, 19.

Police said a car driven by Floyd Shelton, 48, was attempting a left turn into a country road, when it was struck by a car driven by Larry Martin, 18. Lewis was a passenger in Martin's car. All were from Mt. Vernon.

GIANTS BEING

CAUTIOUS ON

GAME QUOTES

By JACK HAND

Associated Press Sports Writer

BEAR MOUNTAIN, N.Y. (AP)

—When Allie Sherman says he hopes to have a balanced attack in Sunday's National Football League title game with Green Bay, that means the New York Giants hope to give Y.A. Tittle an assist by running against the Packers.

Run against the Packers? Impossible, you say? Well, the Los Angeles Rams ran against them for 207 yards in the last game of the season. Detroit moved 153 yards on the ground against the Packers Thanksgiving Day and they rushed for only 91 yards against the Giants earlier.

Sherman is the cautious type. He wouldn't admit his club still bore the mental bruises of its 1961 title game with the Packers if that 37-0 score wasn't hanging up for all to read.

WALKING ON EGGS

"We know what we want to do Sunday," he said Wednesday after the club's workout in the spacious Army field house at neighboring West Point. "We'll find out in the game what we can do."

The Giants are walking on eggs, trying to avoid any quote that would give ammunition to Vince Lombardi to fire up his Packers at their subzero practice field.

"We assume they will be tougher," said Sherman, of the Packers.

Alex Webster, Giant fullback, echoed the same thought when he said, "They still are the same ball club. They should be better, playing together another year."

CHANGES IN GIANTS

The Giants are not the same ball club that met the Packers last year. For instance, two of the four backs are different. A year ago it was Joel Wells, now retired, teamed up with Webster at running back and Kyle Rote, now backfield coach, at flank

GHS Clashes With Alumni Friday At 7:30 P.M.; Three Other Games On Schedule

Only four county scholastic basketball teams have games scheduled for Friday evening, two opposing Alumni quintets.

One of the two tugging with the Alumni is Gettysburg High, unbeaten in five Blue Mountain League games and holders of first place in the circuit. The game will start at 7:30.

George Fair will again manage the Alumni and today he announced a group of 29 former Warrior players eligible to take part. All are asked to report at the new senior high gym Friday at 7 p.m. and all must furnish their own equipment.

Fairfield High, 2-3, also has an engagement with the Alumni Friday night.

The only league game on schedule Friday evening will be the Quincy-Bermudian Springs game on the latter's floor. This Adams-Franklin League game was postponed from last Friday due to hazardous driving conditions. Bermudian is still looking for its first victory after four losses, one in league competition.

Delone Catholic, which had a four-game winning streak snapped last week at Kennard-Dale, will attempt to start a new winning skin against the strong Spring Grove dribblers at McSherrystown.

Tonight Biglerville opposes its Alumni with a girls' game at 6:45 serving as the preliminary.

Abbottstown

MRS. DELLA BUTT
ABBOTTSTOWN—White gift offerings at last Sunday's service at St. John's Lutheran Church totaled $1,247. Other contributions to be credited to the 1962 accounts must be in the hands of the financial secretary by 10 p.m., December 30.

LeRoy Witters entertained the employees of the Abbottstown Garment factory Friday evening at the Hofbrauhaus.

Kenneth Haverstock is spending the Christmas vacation with his parents.

Miss Gladys Alwine, New York City, is spending the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Emory Alwine.

Kenneth Klinedinst, Fort Sill, Okla., is awaiting reassignment to Germany at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Klinedinst.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Slothour are spending the holidays with Rev. and Mrs. George Berkeimer and family, Ambler.

Walter Baker spent the holiday leave from the Navy with his father, Walter Baker, and family.

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — Harvey R. Bloss, 35, of Portland, Chautauqua County, died Wednesday night in Buffalo General Hospital of injuries suffered Dec. 9 when his automobile collided with a freight train at a grade crossing near his home.

3 BIG UPSETS AS TOURNEYS GET UNDERWAY

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

This is the season to be jolly, but it's all a folly to Southern California, Stanford and Bowling Green, who discovered rather quickly that the moment you set out on the court in one of the nation's holiday basketball tournaments the Yuletide spirit goes up the chimney.

The seventh-ranked Trojans, ninth-ranked Indians and highly touted Falcons still were trying to wipe the soot from their once-spotless records today following their first defeat in the three major upsets of Wednesday's opening action in the annual tournament warfare.

Southern Cal, which had won all nine of its games, was unceremoniously dumped from the unbeaten ranks by Colorado State U., 72-54 while Stanford, winner of seven, dropped a 62-61 decision to Northwestern on Ken Lutgens' tip-in with 4 seconds to go. Both upsets came in the first round of the Los Angeles Classic.

BOWLING GREEN BOYS

Bowling Green, 4-0 and the tourney favorite, lost to St. Joseph's, Pa., 58-57 on a last second shot by Jim Boyle in the Quaker City Classic at Philadelphia.

In all, eight major tournaments opened as the holiday program began to build toward a Saturday park that will see 19 coveted crowns up for grabs. With the three exceptions it was a formula-filled evening.

Here's a capsule rundown of the other results:

Los Angeles Classic—St. Louis walloped Washington 64-39 and UCLA belted Utah 89-75. In tonight's semifinals it'll be Northwestern vs. Colorado State and St. Louis vs. UCLA.

OTHER TOURNEYS

Quaker City—BYU defeated LaSalle 84-73, Villanova knocked off Manhattan 72-54 and Providence drubbed Delaware 70-57. Friday's semifinal pairings are Providence and Villanova-St. Joseph's.

Holiday Festival at New York—Fourth-ranked and undefeated Illinois handed Penn its first loss 98-66, West Virginia squeezed by Boston College 65-64 in overtime, NYU beat Duquesne 71-66 and St. Bonaventure bopped Holy Cross 82-68. The semifinals Friday will be Illinois-NYU and West Virginia-St. Bonaventure.

Big Eight at Kansas City—Kansas stopped Colorado 70-64 and Iowa State topped Nebraska 82-68. All-College at Oklahoma City—Wilmington Creighton 80-74 and Oklahoma City thumped Baylor 76-60.

RESULTS IN WEST

Far West at Portland, Ore.—Iowa nipped Arizona 57-56 and Tregon overcame Washington State 67-57.

West Coast at San Francisco—San Jose defeated Pepperdine 64-54 and Santa Clara crushed University of Pacific 80-63.

Gulf South at Shreveport, La.—Centenary beat Georgia Tech 86-78 and Louisiana Tech took West Texas 81-77.

Orrtanna

MRS. LUTHER WETZEL

ORRTANNA—A Christmas program was presented at the Annual Christmas party of the Young Adult Sunday School class of the Mt. Carmel EUB Church at the church. After the opening hymn there was scripture reading by Mrs. Paul Wetzel and Harman Spence, departmental superintendents. The pastor, the Rev. Alfred K. Gotwalt, offered prayer and Janie Wetzel and Timothy Shaffer and the Junior Department sang a song.

Deborah Shaffer and Vicki Haines presented "We've Been Shopping" and then pictures of "The Wonderful World of the Brothers Grimm" and "King of Kings" were presented. After a carol and the closing prayer, gifts were presented by the committee, Mrs. Clyde Metz and Linda Carbaugh. Santa made a visit and Mrs. Eugene McLaughlin led children's games. Refreshments were served by members of the class taught by Mrs. Elmer Shaffer and Mrs. Dale Wetzel. The refreshment committee included Mr. and Mrs. Cloyd Spence and Mr. and Mrs. George Haines. The program committee was headed by Mrs. Claire Rebert and included the department superintendents and the teachers.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wetzel entertained at a Christmas Eve dinner Monday in observance of the second birthday anniversary of their granddaughter, Karen Weigle. Others present were Karen's parents and sisters, Mr. and Mrs. William Weigle, Debbie, Susie and Bonny Weigle, Gettysburg R. 2; Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Wetzel, Gettysburg, and Karen's great-grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Mrs. Dale Wetzel.

Canner Cagers Oppose Alumni This Evening

The Biglerville High School varsity basketball team, above, will try for its fourth consecutive victory tonight when it meets the Alumni in the annual game. The Cannons, being coached by Dan Bushman for the first time, have an overall 3-2 record with three straight triumphs in the Blue Mountain League. Preceding tonight's game a girls' team will oppose the Alumnae at 6:45. Mount Nips Knights 64-62 In Tourney Opener; Meet NYAC For Title On Friday

Mt. St. Mary's College, still plagued with illness and injuries, moved into the championship game of the New York Athletic Club invitation basketball tournament by edging Fairleigh-Dickinson Wednesday evening 64-62.

The Mount will now meet host NYAC, surprise winner over Belmont-Abbey 68-58 in the other opening round game, Friday evening for the tournament title. The losers of Wednesday evening will play a preliminary consolation game.

LOSE O'REILLY

John O'Reilly, one of the stalwarts of the Mount outfit, became ill during the game and had to sit out most of the game. During his brief bit of play he tallied eight points.

Eddie Pfeiffer, the fiery little leader of the Mounties, also was hampered by illness but played the entire game and wound up with 24 points to lead the winner's attack. Dave Maloney was right behind Pfeiffer in scoring and landed 22 points.

Fran Fenerty, one of the re-servists, came through with three quick goals late in the game to keep the Mount in front of the surging Knights. Rounding out the scoring for Mt. St. Mary's was John Carrell who netted four.

Ed Folk, 6-5 Sophomore, failed to break into the scoring but turned in a fine defensive game off the boards to take up the slack when O'Reilly left the game.

BISONS BEAT AMERKS 4-3

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Buffalo Bisons, standing at the head of the class in the American Hockey League's Western Division, have ballooned their bulge to 11 points over runner-up Rochester after whipping the Americans in a battle of attrition. Eighty-four shots were rapped goalward Wednesday night as the Bisons and Amerks met at Buffalo. Number 84, a 25-foot shot with 2 minutes, 40 seconds remaining by Brian Smith, proved the clincher in a 4-3 Bisons' victory.

Cleveland moved into a tie with Rochester for the second spot, gaining a 2-2 tie in overtime with Pittsburgh in the only other game scheduled.

Rochester's Gerry McNamara was continually peppered in the Amerks' goal. He managed to turn aside 44 shots, but he was unable to stem the avalanche. Barry Cullen, Larry Wilson, Ed Kachur and Smith tallied for Buffalo while Dick Gamble, Jim Pappin and Gene Umbrico connected for Rochester. Bisons' goalie Denis DeJordy made 33 saves.

AKRON, N. Y. (AP) — Fire wrecked the two-story Masonic Temple in this Erie County community Wednesday and the loss was expected to exceed $100,000. The concrete-block building once was Akron High School.

The cause was not determined.

Luther Wetzel. A birthday cake with candles was included in the menu. Karen received gifts and gifts for Christmas were also exchanged by the group.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Wetzel returned Wednesday to Wernersville after spending the Christmas season with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mrs. Dale Wetzel.

Bedenk, Coach At PSU, To Retire Soon

UNIVERSITY PARK — F. J. (Joe) Bedenk, Penn State baseball coach since 1931 and a member of the Nittany Lion athletic staff since 1929, today announced his retirement from the university effective January 1.

In addition to his coaching duties, Bedenk is a professor of physical education and will be retired with the rank of professor emeritus.

Bedenk will be succeeded as baseball coach by Charles (Chuck) Medlar, Bedenk's assistant and pitching specialist for the past 14 years. Medlar also will continue his duties as head trainer for Lion athletic teams.

CELTICS BEAT SAN FRANCISCO

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Wilt Chamberlain won his battle, but the Boston Celtics won the game.

That was the rather familiar story in the National Basketball Association Wednesday night, with the champion Celtics turning back San Francisco 116-113 despite a brilliant performance by the Warriors' 7-foot-1 center.

Detroit beat Chicago 123-116 and St. Louis closed up on Western Division leader Los Angeles, edging the Lakers 106-104 in the only other games.

Chamberlain, whose personal duels with Boston's Bill Russell form one of the highlights of the NBA, turned in one of his most outstanding defensive showings.

Big Wilt scored 43 points, blocked at least a dozen shots, took down 32 rebounds and held Russell to eight points.

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — Robert Eggleston, 70, was killed Wednesday when he was struck by a truck while crossing a downtown street.

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — Jet winds of 161 miles-an-hour swept over New York State Wednesday in the direction of New England at an altitude of 25,000 feet, the Weather Bureau said.

The bureau said pilots would avoid the altitude until the winds subsided.

ENDICOTT, N. Y. (AP) — William Rockwell, 31, of Freeport, died in a hospital here Wednesday of injuries received in an automobile accident Dec. 15, near the Southern Tier village of Owego.

May Announce Liston Rematch

TORONTO (AP)—Bruce Kidd, a distance runner who mystifies perfectionists with his ungainly and unorthodox style, was named Canada's outstanding athlete of 1962 today for the second consecutive year.

The 19-year-old from Toronto, who combines a brilliant scholastic record with a career in world track, received the honors from the country's sports editors and broadcasters.

A month ago Kidd whipped older and more experienced men in the British Empire Games 6-mile run at Perth, Australia, winning Canada's first individual track gold medal in international competition since 1950. He also placed third in the 3-mile run.

Runner-up to Kidd in the balloting was 50-goal scorer Bobby Hull of the Chicago Black Hawks of the National Hockey League.

Stable Groom And 18 Horses Perish In Fire

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — The second fire in less than a year at Buffalo Raceway in nearby Hamburg took the lives of a stable groom and 18 standardbred horses Wednesday night.

Robert Wimberly, 55, of Philadelphia, suffered a fatal heart attack and died in a Buffalo Hospital shortly after he had led several horses from the flaming main barn at the harness track.

A track spokesman said Wimberly collapsed while leading a horse from the barn, but managed to walk to the ambulance.

About 80 trotters and pacers were housed in the multi-sectioned barn when the fire broke out. Most were led to other buildings, but some broke loose in panic and roamed around the Erie County Fairgrounds where the track is located. Some were reported on nearby highways.

PREVENT SPENDING

Newly installed fire walls in the barn, which is located on the backstretch of the raceway's half-mile track, were credited with preventing the flames from spreading to the rest of the building.

A spokesman at the track estimated the loss in horses at $50,000 and damage to the building at $60,000.

The barn had facilities for 110 trotters and pacers during the harness season.

Firemen probed the ruins in an effort to determine the cause.

Last New Years Eve, 18 trotters and pacers perished in a fire at an adjacent barn. The loss in horses then was set at $100,000, with $40,000 the damage to the barn and equipment.

Last Oct. 14, a groom and 28 horses at Batavia Downs, the area's other harness track, died in a fire in a stable area. The loss was estimated at $500,000.

The fire Wednesday night was brought under control about 90 minutes after discovery.

CHOOSE COUSY FOR HIS 13TH ALL-STAR TILT

NEW YORK (AP)—Bob Cousy, the Boston Celtics' all-time great playmaker who is winding up his career this season, was picked for the National Basketball Association's All-Star game for the 13th time in as many years.

Selection of Cousy and seven other players for the East in the 13th annual All-Star game at Los Angeles Jan. 16, was announced today by NBA President Maurice Podoloff.

Eight players for the West were named Wednesday. The eight for each side were picked by basketball writers in the NBA cities.

COACHES CHOOSE 3

NBA coaches will select the other three men for each team. Red Auerbach, coach of the champion Celtics, will handle the East and Fred Schaus of the Los Angeles Lakers will coach the West. The East leads 7-5.

The teams: East—Forwards, Tom Heinsohn, Boston, Jack Twyman, Cincinnati, and Lee Shaffer, Syracuse; centers, Bill Russell, Boston and John Kerr, Syracuse; guards, Oscar Robertson, Cincinnati, Bob Cousy, Boston, and Richie Guerin, New York.

WILKINSON IS WORRIED ABOUT DEERE

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

There's a good reason for Oklahoma's Bud Wilkinson to be walking around with a frown on his face today. The sooner the Sooner coach hears some good news about Monte Deere the better he'll feel.

Deere, who directed Oklahoma to victories in its last seven games and to seventh-place in the national rankings, remained in a hotel Wednesday fighting off an attack of flu and tonsillitis as his team held a secret practice for its Jan. 1 Orange Bowl meeting with Alabama in Miami, Fla. Oklahoma wound up the regular campaign with an 8-2 record while Bama was 9-1.

Wilkinson was concerned by Deere's absence because he wanted the quarterback to operate some new plays he intends to use against the Crimson Tide. The chances are, however, that Deere will be ready for the big game.

ONE PULLED MUSCLE

Meanwhile, the Tide flew into Miami and coach Bear Bryant reported his squad in top physical condition with the exception of tackle Butch Henry, who was limping with a pulled leg muscle.

The Orange Bowl tilt is one of eight BIG ones to be played within the next week. On Saturday, Penn State, 9-1, goes against Florida, 6-4, in the Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, Fla. The same day the East and West meet in the Shrine game in San Francisco and the North and South in the Blue-Gray game in Montgomery, Ala.

West Texas State and Ohio University, each with an 8-2 record, clash in the Sun Bowl at El Paso, Tex., Monday.

JAN. 1 MENU

On New Year's Day, it's Southern California, 10-0, against Wisconsin, 8-1, in the Rose Bowl in Pasadena, Calif.; Texas, 9-0-1, vs. Louisiana State, 8-1-1, in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas, Tex., and Mississippi, 9-0, against Arkansas, 9-1, in the Sugar Bowl at New Orleans.

Penn State went into final preparations for the Gator Bowl game Wednesday night following a late arrival in St. Augustine, Fla., due to bad weather. Coach Rip Engle hustled his forces to a high school practice field and its first workout since breaking the temporary bowl camp in Annapolis, Md., last Saturday.

ONE-TIME U.S. AMBASSADOR TO U.N. PASSES

BURLINGTON, Vt. (AP)—Warren R. Austin, 85, who campaigned against U.S. entry in the League of Nations after World War I, and became U.S. ambassador to the United Nations after World War II, died at his home Tuesday.

Austin, a Republican, turned internationalist in the 1930s when he supported Franklin D. Roosevelt's foreign policy while opposing him on domestic issues.

NAMED BY TRUMAN

He served in the Senate from 1931 until he was appointed to the U.N. mission by former President Harry S. Truman in 1946. He became head of the mission until 1953 when he was succeeded by Henry Cabot Lodge.

It was Austin who led the fight for a U.N. resolution naming Communist China as the aggressor in Korea after the Reds came to the rescue of the North Koreans when they had been mauled by U.N. forces in 1950.

He accused Red China of trying "to shoot its way into the United Nations, and dramatically produced a 1950 model Soviet machine gun captured from the Korean Reds as proof.

"ABLE SENATOR"

Told of Austin's death, Truman said in his independence, Mo., home: "I'm sorry as I can be to hear about his death. He was an able and distinguished senator and did a wonderful job while he was in the public service."

Austin was born in Highgate, Vt. and after graduation from the University of Vermont, entered his father's law office. He was admitted to the bar in 1902.

He married Mildred Marie Lucas, whom he had met at college, 61 years ago. She was with him when he died. They had two sons, Warren Jr., and Col. Edward Lucas Austin of the U.S. Army.

'PIKE POLICE NAB ROBBERS

RAVENNA, Ohio (AP)—Three men were arrested Wednesday in connection with a $140 armed robbery of a grocery store in Freedom, Pa., Tuesday night.

The Ohio Turnpike Patrol said Robert J. Lenigan, 32, and Albert R. Sheets, 32, both of Pittsburgh, admitted the robbery.

The third man, Charles L. Groves, 50, of Wooster, Ohio, was held for investigation of robbery.

Turnpike patrolmen, alerted by a broadcast description of a car seen leaving the robbery scene, stopped an auto driven by Groves near the Akron Interchange. He was arrested after patrolmen found a sawed-off shotgun on the car's front seat.

A half-hour later Lenigan and Sheets were taken into custody while attempting to hitchhike a ride to Pittsburgh at Brady's Leap service plaza, which is halfway between the Warren and Streetsboro interchanges on the toll road. Lenigan was carrying a German luger but offered no resistance, authorities said.

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—Havana Radio claimed that 400 Cuban longshoremen and 200 members of the Cuban Red Cross unloaded and checked merchandise aboard the U.S. freighter African Pilot in 19 hours and 5 minutes.

The broadcast, heard here, said the longshoremen, working in shifts, had set a record.

IRATE GUARD SEEK RECRUITS

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army National Guard—wearing a "we'll show McNamara" chip on its shoulder—will open an aggressive recruiting drive in the new year.

Informal sources, disclosing this Wednesday, said they are confident the Guard can reach its goal of 400,000 men. It now is about 25,000 short.

They indicated the effort will be spurred by a desire to disprove Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara's skepticism that it can be done.

Earlier this year, McNamara sought to trim Army Guard and Reserve strength by 58,000 men on grounds it was not possible without lowering standards to recruit enough men to maintain the Guard at 400,000 and the Reserve at 300,000. Under his proposal, the Guard would have taken a 33,000-man cut and the Reserve a 25,000-man reduction.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Harmodio Arias, 76, former president of Panama, died Sunday aboard an airliner en route from Boston to Panama. He had been in a Boston hospital because of heart trouble.

RAMBUNCTIOUS
ODD NEWS IN '62

By RUSSELL LANDSTROM
PHILADELPHIA (AP) — It took a long time for the mayor of Phoenixville to satisfy a boyhood yearning, but he caught up with a daffy destiny last July. He heaved a stone through a window while a cop looked on.

His honor strode up to the policeman, who was directing traffic at a place where a building was being pulled down, and said right out what he was going to do. The policeman shrugged and went on with his job as the mayor let fly at the glass pane he could not resist.

TOP ODDBALL NEWS

That has to be ranked among the top oddball stories in Pennsylvania in 1962.

If you are one long habituated to patient endurance and frustration this is bound to be a bell-ringer.

A driver for a Pittsburgh transit company yanked his bus to a sudden stop at a crowded crossing, strode to a telephone, called his boss, and said he was through, he was going to go home and try to forget.

Shaken by the rowdy antics of high school pupils riding his bus, the driver said wearily, "I can't stand it any more. I've had it."

The old year can be sent down as the one in which reverse English was put on that old bromide about the kitchen sink. A man in York told police burglars broke into a house he owned and stole only the sink.

DIVING BOARD STOLEN

Only slightly less whimsical was the theft of a 250-pound diving board from the pool of a Pittsburgh country club.

Since screwy thievery always gets a play, let's mention the fellow who broke into the cellar of a house near Wilkes-Barre and made off with 4,300 worms valued at $120. The worms were being kept in storage for the fishing season.

Down Lancaster way a man weighing 530 pounds was jailed for illegal sale of fireworks. Pleading guilt, the man told the judge his enormous bulk made it hard for him to find normal jobs. A special bed was rigged up for the outsize prisoner. As for his diet, HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Around the lots in 80 dots . . . It's now just plain Universal instead of Universal-International, the film company having dropped the latter title after 16 redundant years . . . In view of the film's success, it's surprising no one has announced "Baby Jane Rides Again" . . .

And since Bette Davis and Joan Crawford proved their names still pack voltage, how about casting some of Hollywood's other neglected grande dames: Claudette Colbert, Irene Dunne, Barbara Stanwyck, Greer Garson etc.? Mort Sahl is currently sporting the blackest beard since Rasputin . . .

Wonder what happened to that fine old cliché, "You can't call me anything I haven't already called myself"? It turns up in "Jumbo" . . .

Lots of entertainment in "Jumbo," but someone should applaud the double who did all that stunt stuff for the stars . . . "Billy Barnes' L.A." is a smash revue, but strictly for local consumption. Joyce Jameson's lament for an unloved star (Marilyn Monroe) is a tearjerker . . . Perceptive salts will note in though, the warden said, "he may weigh less when he gets out for he'll get regular rations to eat the same as everybody else."

No wrap-up such as this would be complete without representation of the heart of gold or conscience-touched wrongdoer.

SENTIMENTAL THIEVES

Two men held up the manager of a Philadelphia motor inn. Said one, "this is a hell of a way to make a living." After the manager handed over $74 of his own money the same gunman said, "have you any kids?"

The manager said yes, whereupon the robber gave back $4, saying, "buy the kids some candy."

In Lancaster County, a prisoner on an outside work detail bolted. Other prisoners, not the guards, took after him and caught him. They said they "didn't want their privileges jeopardized."

In the arts and crafts department of left field news, a vegetable vendor who produced his own play and played all 20 roles himself, was tops. The show ran for two weeks at a Philadelphia suburban theater and cost the playwright about $800. The best house during the run was 26 paid admissions. Four persons attended on the opening night. Seven showed up for the finale.

NINA II MAKES HISTORIC TRIP

NASSAU, Bahamas (AP)—Nina II, a close copy of the smallest of Christopher Columbus' ships, reached San Salvador Island Tuesday night 117 days after sailing from Spain in an effort to retrace the voyage of discovery.

The Nina II sailed from Palos, Spain, with a nine-man crew on Sept. 19, hoping to reach land at San Salvador at the eastern fringe of the Bahamas on Oct. 12, the place and date that Columbus made his famous landfall in 1492. Columbus' three ships, the Santa Maria, Pinta and Nina, sailed from Spain on Aug. 3, 1492, with 120 men and made the voyage in 70 days.

Aboard Nina II were the captain, Carlos Etayo, 42, a retired Spanish naval lieutenant who long dreamed of the venture and financed the building of the ship Robert Marx, 28, a Pittsburgh-born underwater explorer; Michael Viales, a Frenchman, and six other Spaniards.

The ship, a 40-foot caravel built of oak from plans of the Nina in the Columbus Museum in Spain, carried no radio, engine or other modern equipment. Its crew lived on food such as the 1492 crew had—lentils, honey, rice, beans and biscuits—and depended on 15th century navigation instruments.

ORAN, Algeria (AP)—Six hundred persons in a refugee camp near Oran fell ill Tuesday, apparently from food poisoning. An inquiry was opened to find the cause of the sickness. The refugees are Algerians made homeless by the independence war.

Lisbon, Portugal (AP)—A strong earth tremor hit Lisbon and central Portugal Wednesday, causing some damage to buildings and near panic among residents of the Portuguese capital.

First reports said there were no casualties, but in Lisbon windows were broken and chimneys toppled.

And since Bette Davis and Joan Crawford proved their names still pack voltage, how about casting some of Hollywood's other neglected grande dames: Claudette Colbert, Irene Dunne, Barbara Stanwyck, Greer Garson etc.? Mori Sahl is currently sporting the blackest beard since Rasputin . . .

Wonder what happened to that fine old cliché, "You can't call me anything I haven't already called myself"? It turns up in "Jumbo" . . . Lots of entertainment in "Jumbo," but someone should applaud the doubles who did all that stunt stuff for the stars . . . "Billy Barnes' L.A." is a smash revue, but strictly for local consumption. Joyce Jameson's lament for an unloved star (Marilyn Monroe?) is a tearjerker . . . Perceptive salts will note in

NINA II MAKES HISTORIC TRIP

NASSAU, Bahamas (AP)—Nina II, a close copy of the smallest of Christopher Columbus' ships, reached San Salvador Island Tuesday night 117 days after sailing from Spain in an effort to retrace the voyage of discovery.

The Nina II sailed from Palos, Spain, with a nine-man crew on Sept. 19, hoping to reach land at San Salvador at the eastern fringe of the Bahamas on Oct. 12, the place and date that Columbus made his famous landfall in 1492.

Columbus' three ships, the Santa Maria, Pinta and Nina, sailed from Spain on Aug. 3, 1492, with 120 men and made the voyage in 70 days.

Aboard Nina II were the captain, Carlos Etayo, 42, a retired Spanish naval lieutenant who long dreamed of the venture and financed the building of the ship Robert Marx, 28, a Pittsburgh-born underwater explorer; Michael Viales, a Frenchman, and six other Spaniards.

The ship, a 40-foot caravel built of oak from plans of the Nina in the Columbus Museum in Spain, carried no radio, engine or other modern equipment. Its crew lived on food such as the 1492 crew had—lentils, honey, rice, beans and biscuits—and depended on 15th century navigation instruments.

ORAN, Algeria (AP)—Six hundred persons in a refugee camp near Oran fell ill Tuesday, apparently from food poisoning. An inquiry was opened to find the cause of the sickness. The refugees are Algerians made homeless by the independence war.

Lisbon, Portugal (AP)—A strong earth tremor hit Lisbon and central Portugal Wednesday, causing some damage to buildings and near panic among residents of the Portuguese capital.

First reports said there were no casualties, but in Lisbon windows were broken and chimneys toppled.

The heart of our business

■ One customer laughingly tells us we stock more items than an old-fashioned general store. That's because our customers, thank goodness, are pretty healthy and don't need enough prescriptions to keep us busy. Prescriptions are really the heart of our business. Because of them, we're open for the greater part of the day. Despite the fact that many pharmacists sell everything from books to bobby pins, we're still professional men . . . always ready when medication is needed.

SENTIMENTAL THIEVES

Two men held up the manager of a Philadelphia motor inn. Said one, "this is a hell of a way to make a living." After the manager handed over $74 of his own money the same gunman said, "have you any kids?"

The manager said yes, whereupon the robber gave back $4, saying, "buy the kids some candy."

In Lancaster County, a prisoner on an outside work detail bolted. Other prisoners, not the guards, took after him and caught him. They said they "didn't want their privileges jeopardized."

In the arts and crafts department of left field news, a vegetable vendor who produced his own play and played all 20 roles himself, was tops. The show ran for two weeks at a Philadelphia suburban theater and cost the playwright about $800. The best house during the run was 26 paid admissions. Four persons attended on the opening night. Seven showed up for the finale.

ONE-TIME U.S. AMBASSADOR TO U.N. PASSES

BURLINGTON, Vt. (AP)—Warren R. Austin, 85, who campaigned against U.S. entry in the League of Nations after World War I, and became U.S. ambassador to the United Nations after World War II, died at his home Tuesday.

Austin, a Republican, turned internationalist in the 1930s when he supported Franklin D. Roosevelt's foreign policy while opposing him on domestic issues.

NAMED BY TRUMAN

He served in the Senate from 1931 until he was appointed to the U.N. mission by former President Harry S. Truman in 1946. He became head of the mission until 1953 when he was succeeded by Henry Cabot Lodge.

It was Austin who led the fight for a U.N. resolution naming Communist China as the aggressor in Korea after the Reds came to the rescue of the North Koreans when they had been mauled by U.N. forces in 1950.

He accused Red China of trying "to shoot its way into the United Nations, and dramatically produced a 1950 model Soviet machine gun captured from the Korean Reds as proof.

"ABLE SENATOR"

Told of Austin's death, Truman said in his Independence, Mo., home: "I'm sorry as I can be to hear about his death. He was an able and distinguished senator and did a wonderful job while he was in the public service."

Austin was born in Highgate, Vt., and after graduation from the University of Vermont, entered his father's law office. He was admitted to the bar in 1902.

He married Mildred Marie Lucas, whom he had met at college, 61 years ago. She was with him when he died. They had two sons, Warren Jr., and Col. Edward Lucas Austin of the U.S. Army.

IRATE GUARD SEEK RECRUITS

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army National Guard—wearing a "we'll show McNamara" chip on its shoulder—will open an aggressive recruiting drive in the new year.

Informed sources, disclosing this Wednesday, said they are confident the Guard can reach its goal of 400,000 men. It now is about 25,000 short.

They indicated the effort will be spurred by a desire to disprove Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara's skepticism that it can be done.

Earlier this year, McNamara sought to trim Army Guard and Reserve strength by 58,000 men on grounds it was not possible without lowering standards to recruit enough men to maintain the Guard at 400,000 and the Reserve at 300,000. Under his proposal, the Guard would have taken a 33,000-man cut and the Reserve a 25,000-man reduction.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Harmodio Arias, 76, former president of Panama, died Sunday aboard an airliner en route from Boston to Panama. He had been in a Boston hospital because of heart trouble.

Sargent Shriver, director of the Peace Corps and President Kennedy's brother-in-law, says he might run for governor of Illinois, but he didn't say when, nor did he give a definite yes or no.

Asked on a taped radio-television interview program in Washington about reports linking his name with a possible race for governor, Shriver said he had always been interested in public service and "if an opportune time and an appropriate opportunity arose which fitted into my situation and to the situation in Illinois, I would be happy to consider running for office."

Frank A. Stanton, a former FBI agent, has been named chief investigator in the U.S. Bureau of Public Road's Office of Audits and Investigations. Stanton will be responsible for investigating allegations of impropriety in connection with the federal aid program.

Dr. Dorothy Ma and her daughter, Molly Kwauk, spent their first Christmas together in 15 years following a year of waiting, a special act of Congress and a trip to Hong Kong. Dr. Ma left her daughter in Shanghai and was studying at Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center in New York City when China fell to the Communists. She remained here, became a citizen and is now chief of anesthesiology at Veterans Hospital in Louisville, Ky.

Molly, 25, who is retarded and suffered from tuberculosis, was able to leave China a year ago when the Reds eased emigration rules, but an act of Congress was required for her to reach the United States. Dr. Ma flew to Hong Kong to bring her to Louisville, where they spent Christmas together.

The Rev. Robert Hoffman was wrapped in blankets during the Sunday service at the Urbandle Community Congregation and to the situation in Illinois, I would be happy to consider running for office."

So was his choir and congregation. The heat was off in the church—on purpose. It was part of the Iowa Council of Churches' emergency appeal for blankets to send to Algeria. After the service, when the heat was turned on, the blankets were donated to the cause.

Said the Rev. Mr. Hoffman: "A blanket may not be a sacramental element in the usual sense, but a blanket worn in church in remembrance of suffering in Algeria is not unlike bread and wine in remembrance of Christ."

Joseph P. Kennedy's personal fortune was estimated at $300 million in an article in the current issue of Fortune magazine, which says the President's father made considerable money in post-war real estate and oil ventures. The article describes the Kennedy fortune as being about one-half tied up in trust funds for Kennedy children and grandchildren.

"Real estate makes up at least one-quarter," Fortune said. "The remaining one-quarter consists of oil holdings, tax-exempt municipals, corporate stocks and other securities, and millions in cash reserves, which Kennedy holds as a speculative asset."

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

By SID MOODY

If that White House-Kremlin tie line is ever installed, it might be a busy one.

For when Khrushchev is up pacing the floor chances are President Kennedy is, too. They both have the same problems.

A review of the leading stories of 1962 shows anew that most of the major ones involved both the United States and Soviet Russia.

USED MISS, RIOTS

Even stories that seem at first of purely domestic concern had overtones that touched the opposite capital. Russia used the stock market crash of last May and the Oxford riots over James Meredith to document its propaganda campaigns that the United States is awash with bigotry and Wall St. imperialists.

The United States, which produced record crops in 1962 to overflow the surplus bins even further, could hardly miss the significance of the Kremlin's admitted failure of its agricultural plans and the resultant shakeup of its bureaucracy.

And Washington, burdened with a chronic unemployment problem that lessened but still lingered in 1962, could take some comfort from the Russian announcement several months ago that 47,000 workers had found Siberia less than a good place to work and had walked off the job.

BOTH AIDED INDIA

India was an embarrassment to both parties. Both Khrushchev and Kennedy found themselves offering arms to Nehru to resist the invasion of Russia's surly protégé, Communist China. This got Russia's Chinese ally mad and there was a noticeable cooling by Pakistan towards Uncle Sam's stepped up weapons aid to the Nehru regime it mistrusts.

There was another meeting of minds between the Kremlin and the capital — a kind of cold war horse trade. The US swapped Russian spy Rudolf Abel in exchange for U2 pilot Francis Gary Powers, who a few months later found himself in a divorce action with his wife.

The chronic sore point between the two great powers — Berlin — festered mightily during the early part of the year. It looked as though Russia finally intended to live up to its latest deadline to sign an East German peace treaty, thereby making a Berlin blockade a definite possibility. But the United States got there first with its own blockade, of Cuba, and the tough talk over Berlin faded into uneasy silence.

TRUCE IN LAOS

Russia and the U.S. dominated negotiations that finally resulted in a truce in Laos. It was more of an uneasy cease-fire which did not remove American suspicions that Communist troops remained in the Laotian hinterlands. But it did remove the prospect of a growing U.S. involvement in an area the Pentagon felt was all but indefensible.

Next door, however, in South Viet Nam, the United States waged a growing campaign against the Communist Viet Cong that approached all-out war. Both sides increased their commitment, neither got a decision.

Both Russia and the United States spoke urgently of the need to cease nuclear testing. And both tested devastating weapons. One, an American rocket, lit up the skies 800 miles away in Honolulu. A Russian blast in the Arctic was estimated at 40 megatons, about 40 times as great as the power of a warhead in the Minuteman, solid fueled rocket the U.S. began to make operative at year's end.

CRACK IN CURTAIN

The Russians lifted the iron curtain a crack by offering to allow robot seismic devices — nicknamed "little black boxes" — on Soviet territory to monitor nuclear tests. The western powers said such detection was insufficient.

The race in space was a nose cone to nose cone affair. The National Aeronautics and Space Administration shot three American astronauts around the earth. John Glenn became a national hero for his three-orbit trip which almost seemed commonplace when astronaut Walter Schirra doubled it several months later.

Then the Russians swept away any American smugness when, in August, they orbited two cosmonauts at the same time. One, Maj. Andrian Mikolayev, stayed up almost four days. Just before Christmas a United States Mariner satellite passed within the hailing distance of Venus and radioed back closeup data.

BOTH HAD PROBLEMS

Both Kennedy and Khrushchev had some governmental problems of their own. Kennedy found the going a little slow with Congress.

For when Khrushchev is up pacing the floor chances are President Kennedy is, too. They both have the same problems.

A review of the leading stories of 1962 shows anew that most of the major ones involved both the United States and Soviet Russia.

USED MISS, RIOTS

Even stories that seem at first of purely domestic concern had overtones that touched the opposite capital. Russia used the stock market crash of last May and the Oxford riots over James Meredith to document its propaganda campaigns that the United States is awash with bigotry and Wall St. imperialism.

The United States, which produced record crops in 1962 to overflow the surplus bins even further, could hardly miss the significance of the Kremlin's admitted failure of its agricultural plans and the resultant shakeup of its bureaucracy.

And Washington, burdened with a chronic unemployment problem that lessened but still lingered in 1962, could take some comfort from the Russian announcement several months ago that 47,000 workers had found Siberia less than a good place to work and had walked off the job.

BOTH AIDED INDIA

India was an embarrassment to both parties. Both Khrushchev and Kennedy found themselves offering arms to Nehru to resist the invasion of Russia's surly protégé, Communist China. This got Russia's Chinese ally mad and there was a noticeable cooling by Pakistan towards Uncle Sam's stepped up weapons aid to the Nehru regime it mistrusted.

There was another meeting of minds between the Kremlin and

The race in space was a nose cone to nose cone affair. The National Aeronautics and Space Administration shot three American astronauts around the earth. John Glenn became a national hero for his three-orbit trip which almost seemed commonplace when astronaut Walter Schirra doubled it several months later.

Then the Russians swept away any American smugness when, in August, they orbited two cosmonauts at the same time. One, Maj. Andrian Mikolayev, stayed up almost four days. Just before Christmas a United States Mariner satellite passed within the hailing distance of Venus and radioed back closeup data.

BOTH HAD PROBLEMS

Both Kennedy and Khrushchev had some governmental problems of their own. Kennedy found the going a little slow with Congress, asked for a more amenable one in the fall election and still wasn't sure he had gotten it when returns showed the Democrats retaining their numerical edge. Khrushchev solved his difficulties more typically. He purged — peaceably, this time — a number of Kremlin brass and gave some of the younger boys a chance to solve persistent farm and industrial problems.

If they had had their phone in during the year, K and K could have talked about the troubles they were having with those two agrarian reformers, Mao Tse-Tung

State Museum Seeks Diaries, Logbooks, Etc., Of Erie Battle

A hunt for unpublished logbooks, letters, diaries and other papers dealing with the Erie command during the War of 1812 was launched today by the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission.

Among "missing" documents are the logbooks of Perry's squadron which defeated the British fleet in the famed Battle of Lake Erie on September 10, 1813, many muster rolls of the crews and troops stationed at Erie before and after the American ships were built there, and an unknown quantity of written orders directed to the various commanders.

Dr. S. K. Stevens, commission director, said many historians regard Perry's victory of September 10 as the turning point of the war for American forces. Perry's spirited message, "We have met the enemy and they are ours," lifted sagging morale and became, itself, as immortal as the battle record.

MAY BE FOUND
It is believed chances for survival of the logbooks are reasonable. There are indications some were "procured" as souvenirs by officers and crew members of the ships, and thus, one or more may now be in the care of some descendant, private manuscript collector, or be in the care of some or historical society.

The American ships were the brigs Niagara, Lawrence, and Caledonia, the schooners Ariel, Scorpion, Porcupine and Tigress, and the sloop Tippecanoe. Another American ship away on a supply run during the September 10 battle was the Ohio, mastered by the man credited as father of the fleet, Captain Dobbins, of Erie.

The Commission, Doctor Stevens emphasized, is primarily interested in locating the logbooks and related records, and in making copies of the manuscripts for the study of historians.

HAVE GREAT VALUE
Letters and diaries written by crew members and shore troops have great value to the overall study, Doctor Stevens said. He also pointed out that the Erie story is much more extensive than the three hours the two fleets battled.

"It took most of a year to build the ships for Perry's fleet, and this was done in Erie under constant threat of British attack. There were skirmishes on land and water, and the men who were both building and guarding the vessels were very aware of British hopes to destroy the American squadron before it could be launched and engage the British fleet then in command of the lake."

Dr. Stevens said that, despite Perry's victory, Erie remained a strategic war front until the Treaty of Ghent ended hostilities early in 1815. During this period, the controversial American raid on Long Point, viewed as an atrocity by the British, was launched from Erie, and eventually resulted in British retaliation by the burning of Washington, D. C., the historian said.

Accordingly, letters and diaries written after Perry's victory also are pertinent, Doctor Stevens said.

Butler Brothers Top Spud Growers

HARRISBURG (AP)—Two Butler County brothers—Francis and William Griffin of Prospect R. D. 1—will be honored Jan. 10 at the 1963 state farm show as Pennsylvania's champion potato growers for 1962.

The Griffin brothers were cited Tuesday by the Pennsylvania Co-operative Potato Growers Association for digging 779 bushels of potatoes from a checked and measured acre in a 20-acre field. Runnersup were Richard M. Briggs of Nescopeck, Luzerne County, with 743 bushels per acre. J. Clair Graybill of Manheim R. 3, Lancaster County with 707 bushels; Knorr Farms, Catawissa, Columbia County, 703 bushels; and Kermit Geiger, Breinigsville, Lehigh County, 636 bushels.

A Lovelier You

By MARY SUE MILLER

MANNERS FOR TEENS. A teen's first formal dance can be a nervous-making moment. Girls write me that "how to act" is a worse problem than "what to wear." So for the good of everybody's poise, the protocol is outlined herewith:

1. On arrival at a dance, leave your coat in the cloakroom, but do not remove your gloves.
2. Rejoin your escort promptly and, preceding him, pass through the reception line. Or, in the absence of a line, seek out the hosts or chaperones before dancing or joining other guests.
3. Reserve the first and last dance for your escort—at least.
4. When you begin dancing, you may remove your gloves. However, at many dances, gloves are not removed until punch or supper is served.
5. If supper is served, you must have it with your escort.
6. Although you are dancing with your favorite partner, you cannot refuse a boy who cuts in. You must defer to the custom.
7. Should you get stuck with a partner, finesse it. Suggest getting some punch and join another group. A reshuffle is sure to occur.
8. When leaving, making your farewells to the hosts before retrieving your coat.
9. And the most important point of all—a dance, however large and grand, is given for enjoyment. "Formal" never means "stiff." The belle of the ball is gay and at ease.

MOST FLATTERING COLORS.
In fashion, nothing makes you lovelier than color. It can enhance your skin, hair, eyes and figure; it can express your individuality and style. Great powers, those! To learn how to put them to work for you, read our leaflet, "YOUR MOST FLATTERING COLORS."

To obtain a copy, send your request to Mary Sue Miller, Box 158, The Gettysburg Times, Dundee, Ill., enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope and five cent in coin.

WIDOW WINS BIG VERDICT

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The widow and two young daughters of a state trooper killed on the Pennsylvania Turnpike in 1960 will receive $135,000 from a settlement approved in U.S. District Court Wednesday.

Trooper Francis M. Tessitore, 28, Hazleton, and a motorist stopped by him, James Mullin, 25, both were killed when hit by a truck.

Police quoted the truck driver, William E. Henricks, Jamison, then 17, as saying he fell asleep while driving.

Mrs. Louise Tessitore and her daughters, Renee, 4, and Lisa, 2, won the settlement from Henricks and the Utilities Line Construction Co., Jenkintown.

TV ACCEPTS SECONDARY XMAS ROLE

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—The Christmas commercial, which started with gift themes on Halloween—or so it seemed—disappeared at midnight Monday as if a magic eraser had moved over the television screens.

The holiday, for many the end of a four-day weekend, was obviously considered to be less than ideal for relaxed, concentrated viewing. Tuesday, although the regular daytime shows tried to compete with family talk and unwrapping gifts in millions of living rooms, many of the performers acted as if they didn't believe they had very large or attentive audiences. Some local news shows without much news to report, introduced behind-the-camera helpers. Even the weather girls made their reports in leisurely manners.

The most impressive Christmas television was the religious service. Watching a church service through the miracle of television is not the same thing as going to church, but the midnight services were impressive. Millions could see cathedrals they may never visit in person.

CROSBY UNEASY

Bing Crosby seemed subdued and almost uncomfortable in his Christmas Eve special on ABC. Costar Mary Martin, an energetic performer, appeared to be carrying the major burden in the low-key show.

It was rather disappointing—bits and pieces of music and talk, and none of it too engaging. Highlight was the singing of United Nations Children's Choir—cute children of U.N. personnel.

It was ABC's initial dip into color television and the producers appeared a little frightened and tentative about it.

Martin Perkins, whose "Zoo Parade" was the delight of youngsters and adults from the early days of television until 1957, will be back with a new animal-life series on Jan. 6. This time the show is called "Wild Kingdom," and it will be seen on NBC Sundays, 3:30.

Los Angeles claims the world's shortest railroad. The Angels' Flight Railway operates two cable cars a distance of one block.

SUBMIT LOW BID

BALTIMORE (AP)—The apparent low bid for construction of a women's barracks at Fort Ritchie, Md., has been submitted by the Waynesboro (Pa.) Construction Co. It was listed at $269,464.

Bids from six firms were opened by the Baltimore district of the Army Corps of Engineers last Friday, but the outcome was not announced until Wednesday. The government estimate on the project was $248,000.

CUSTODY QUESTION

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—President Judge Adrian Bonnelly of county court plans to meet with the James A. Paul family sometime early next week to mediate in a custody question involving a four-year-old girl. Bonnelly said Wednesday he has asked the Lutheran Children's Bureau to leave the girl, Diane, with the Pauls, her foster family, until the question is settled.

State Museum Seeks Diaries, Logbooks, Etc., Of Erie Battle

A hunt for unpublished logbooks, letters, diaries and other papers dealing with the Erie campaign during the War of 1812 was launched today by the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission.

Among "missing" documents are the logbooks of Perry's squadron which defeated the British fleet in the famed Battle of Lake Erie on September 10, 1813, many muster rolls of the crews and troops stationed at Erie before and after the American ships were built there, and an unknown quantity of written orders directed to the various commanders.

Dr. S. K. Stevens, commission director, said many historians regard Perry's victory of September 10 as the turning point of the war for American forces. Perry's spirited message, "We have met the enemy and they are ours," lifted sagging morale and became, itself, as immortal as the battle record.

MAY BE FOUND
It is believed chances for survival of the logbooks are reasonable. There are indications some were "procured" as souvenirs by officers and crew members of the ships, and thus, one or more may now be in the care of some descendant, private manuscript collector, or be in the care of some or historical society.

The American ships were the brigs Niagara, Lawrence, and Caledonia, the schooners Ariel, Scorpion, Porcupine and Tigress, and the sloop Tippecanoe. Another American ship away on a supply run during the September 10 battle was the Ohio, mastered by the man credited as father of the fleet, Captain Dobbins, of Erie.

The Commission, Doctor Stevens emphasized, is primarily interested in locating the logbooks and related records, and in making copies of the manuscripts for the study of historians.

HAVE GREAT VALUE
Letters and diaries written by crew members and shore troops have great value to the overall study, Doctor Stevens said. He also pointed out that the Erie story is much more extensive than the three hours the two fleets battled.

"It took most of a year to build the ships for Perry's fleet, and this was done in Erie under constant threat of British attack. There were skirmishes on land and water, and the men who were both building and guarding the vessels were very aware of British hopes to destroy the American squadron before it could be launched and engage the British fleet then in command of the lake."

Dr. Stevens said that, despite Perry's victory, Erie remained a strategic war front until the Treaty of Ghent ended hostilities early in 1815. During this period, the controversial American raid on Long Point, viewed as an atrocity by the British, was launched from Erie, and eventually resulted in British retaliation by the burning of Washington, D. C., the historian said.

Accordingly, letters and diaries written after Perry's victory also are pertinent, Doctor Stevens said.

Butler Brothers Top Spud Growers
HARRISBURG (AP)—Two Butler County brothers—Francis and William Griffin of Prospect R. D. 1—will be honored Jan. 10 at the 1963 state farm show as Pennsylvania's champion potato growers for 1962.

The Griffin brothers were cited Tuesday by the Pennsylvania Cooperative Potato Growers Association for digging 779 bushels of potatoes from a checked and measured acre in a 20-acre field.

Runnersup were Richard M. Briggs of Nescopeck, Luzerne County, with 743 bushels per acre, J. Clair Graybill of Manheim R. 3, Lancaster County with 707 bushels; Knorr Farms, Catawissa, Columbia County, 703 bushels; and Kermit Geiger, Breinigsville, Lehigh County, 636 bushels.

TV ACCEPTS SECONDARY XMAS ROLE

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—The Christmas commercial, which started with gift themes on Halloween—or so it seemed—disappeared at midnight Monday as if a magic eraser had moved over the television screens.

The holiday, for many the end of a four-day weekend, was obviously considered to be less than ideal for relaxed, concentrated viewing. Tuesday, although the regular daytime shows tried to compete with family talk and unwrapping gifts in millions of living rooms, many of the performers acted as if they didn't believe they had very large or attentive audiences. Some local news shows without much news to report, introduced behind-the-camera helpers. Even the weather girls made their reports in leisurely manners.

The most impressive Christmas television was the religious services. Watching a church service through the miracle of television is not the same thing as going to church, but the midnight services were impressive. Millions could see cathedrals they may never visit in person.

CROSBY UNEASY
Bing Crosby seemed subdued and almost uncomfortable in his Christmas Eve special on ABC. Costar Mary Martin, an energetic performer, appeared to be carrying the major burden in the low-key show.

It was rather disappointing—bits and pieces of music and talk, and none of it too engaging. Highlight was the singing of United Nations Children's Choir—cute children of U.N. personnel.

It was ABC's initial dip into color television and the producers appeared a little frightened and tentative about it.

Martin Perkins, whose "Zoo Parade" was the delight of youngsters and adults from the early days of television until 1957, will be back with a new animal-life series on Jan. 6. This time the show is called "Wild Kingdom," and it will be seen on NBC Sundays, 3:30.

Los Angeles claims the world's shortest railroad. The Angels' Flight Railway operates two cable cars a distance of one block.

WIDOW WINS BIG VERDICT
PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The widow and two young daughters of a state trooper killed on the Pennsylvania Turnpike in 1960 will receive $135,000 from a settlement approved in U.S. District Court Wednesday.

Trooper Francis M. Tessitore, 28, Hazleton, and a motorist stopped by him, James Mullin, 25, both were killed when hit by a truck.

Police quoted the truck driver, William E. Henricks, Jamison, then 17, as saying he fell asleep while driving.

Mrs. Louise Tessitore and her daughters, Renee, 4, and Lisa, 2, won the settlement from Henricks and the Utilities Line Construction Co., Jenkintown.

Judge George Welsh ordered part of the money put in trust for the girls.

SUBMIT LOW BID
BALTIMORE (AP)—The apparent low bid for construction of a women's barracks at Fort Ritchie, Md., has been submitted by the Waynesboro (Pa.) Construction Co. It was listed at $269,464.

Bids from six firms were opened by the Baltimore district of the Army Corps of Engineers last Friday, but the outcome was not announced until Wednesday. The government estimate on the project was $248,000.

CUSTODY QUESTION
PHILADELPHIA (AP)—President Judge Adrian Bonnelly of county court plans to meet with the James A. Paul family sometime early next week to mediate in a custody question involving a four-year-old girl.

Bonnelly said Wednesday he has asked the Lutheran Children's Bureau to leave the girl, Diane, with the Pauls, her foster family, until the question is settled.

TWO MAYORS IN RAIL DISPUTE

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Philadelphia Mayor James Tate has accused his Camden, N.J., counterpart of bad judgment for persistent opposition to a proposed high speed rail line route through downtown Camden.

Camden Mayor Alfred Pierce has protested the proposed route would perpetuate a "Chinese Wall" through his city.

Tate said at a news conference Wednesday that Pierce is "misinformed and is playing politics" in the controversy. Tate said

Pierce "doesn't rely on information from competent people in the Delaware River Port Authority."

Tate's remarks were made in reference to a reported invitation from Pierce to look at a proposed alternate route, along the Camden waterfront.

Tate said he received no invitation.

Mother, Son Found Dead In Trailer

ALEXANDRIA, Va. (AP) — A Navy petty officer and his mother were found dead Tuesday in his house trailer by another member of the family when she arrived for Christmas dinner.

The dead were Mrs. Jessie L. Miller, 65, Belleville, Pa., and Samuel B. Miller, a second class petty officer.

Miller's sister, Mrs. Hilda An-astasis, also of Belleville, said no one answered her knocks at the trailer door and that there were no footprints in the snow, other than her's, leading to and from the trailer.

Police said the deaths may have been caused by carbon monoxide

New Surgery Ahead For Boy With Arm Sewed On

By JAMES CALOGERO

BOSTON, (AP) — Red-haired and freckle-faced Everett Knowles Jr. calmly awaits a new operation in which his right arm — and medical history — is at stake.

The 13-year-old boy has been told by Dr. Ronald Malt of Massachusetts General Hospital that he must undergo the surgeon's knife again, possibly early in January.

Everett says that he'll be ready whenever the doctor is.

ALREADY MADE HISTORY

Young Knowles already has undergone a series of history-making operations in which his completely severed right arm was reconnected to his body, although he can't use it yet.

He may become the first person in medical history ever to have a completely severed limb reconnected, with life, feel and usefulness.

The daring attempt at a medical breakthrough began last May 23 when young Knowles' right arm was cut off cleanly by a freight train as he was walking home from school in suburban Somerville.

EACH SUCCESSFUL

Each of the several separate operations has been deemed successful, but with the usual caution of medical men, Massachusetts General Hospital doctors refuse to say at this stage that the boy's arm will be restored to usefulness.

Dr. Malt said the operation he contemplates deals with the nerve fibres, which already have been connected at the point the arm was severed, about two inches below the amput.

Third Victim Of Car Crash Dies

LEBANON, Pa. (AP) — A violent three-car crash on ice-covered Route 22 near Lebanon claimed its third victim Wednesday night when Harvey M. Dollar, 33, of Allentown died at Lancaster General Hospital.

Dollar remained in critical condition for more than 12 hours before succumbing. He suffered a fractured skull, fractured jaw and multiple cuts and bruises.

Killed outright in the crash Wednesday morning were William F. Grazier, 18, and Gerald J. Vinarso, both of Pittsburgh, who were enroute to New York City to look for jobs.

Grazier was driving one car and Dollar another. The third driver, Stan J. Petrovich, 22, of Locustdale, escaped injury.

Police said the Grazier car apparently skidded out of control, swerved to the opposite lane, hit the Petrovich car, then bounded into the Dollar vehicle.

Girl Swims Thru Ice To Rescue Dog

WASHINGTON (AP) — A lively little nipper of a dog whimpered from an ice floe in the Potomac River.

Pretty Barbara Foster spotted it, stripped down to her undies and swam 50 yards to the rescue as evening rush hour traffic whizzed by Wednesday near the Jefferson Memorial.

The shivering German shepherd eyed her as she made her way through the chill water, then promptly bit her four times before the two were picked up by a Fire Department rescue boat.

"Ingrate mongrel," said the police. "You wouldn't leave a human out there to drown, would you?" asked Miss Foster, 20, a junior at the University of Illinois.

FOUR CAUGHT ROBBING STORE

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — A Christmas Day attempt to rob a department store safe at a suburban shopping center resulted in the arrest of four men who were caught in the act, police said Wednesday.

Detective R. T. Burgess said that two officers assigned to patrol the shopping center saw four men enter the rear of the J. C. Penney store. The officers radioed for help and police surrounded the building.

"We caught them red-handed," Burgess said. "They had cut a big hole out of the side of the safe with acetylene torches."

The four men, held without bond on attempted burglary charges, were booked as Joe C. Cash, 25, an escapee from jail at Franklin, Tenn.; Jackie W. Phillips, 21, College Park, Ga.; Billy from the Bible, without comment, at the opening of each school day.

The State Council of Education's recent resolution mandating 24 hours of post-graduate study before a teacher can obtain a permanent certificate to teach.

—Higher teacher salaries.

In a major convention-eve event the group held a testimonial dinner for its retiring executive secretary, Dr. Harvey E. Gayman.

Gayman, 72-year-old Bucks County native who has been with the PSEA since 1928 (including the last 24 as its chief staff officer), leaves office the end of the month.

His place will be taken by Dr. Ralph Swan, 36, a deputy secretary in the State Department of Public Instruction.

Family Food Facts

Convenience foods often are described as those having "built-in maid service." Somewhere along the way — from the farm to your dinner table — someone has done much of the work of getting your food ready to eat.

Tom Piper, Penn State marketing agent, says that today most families buy foods with some degree of built-in service. These range from simple necessities — bread, canned fruits and vegetables — to instant potatoes, canned biscuits or a complete frozen dinner ready to heat and serve.

Convenience foods usually save us time and effort. Sometimes they save us money, but time is usually the biggest saving. How much time is saved? One study showed that three "ready-to-serve" meals for a family of four can be prepared in 1.6 hours. It takes five and a half hours to prepare the same foods at home. So the ready-to-serve meals saved four hours that could be used in other ways.

What about cost? In the same study, the meals prepared at home cost $4.90 and the ready-to-serve form cost $6.70. The homemaker worked four hours to save $1.80 or an average hourly wage of 45 cents. So some convenience foods do cost more. On the other hand, some convenience foods cost little if any more than regular foods. Frozen orange juice is an example. The oranges are squeezed at a plant near the grove and the juice is sent to you in a concentrated form. This saves enough to offset processing costs.

Convenience foods sometimes save storage costs, at the grocers and in modern kitchens. In today's homes and apartments, where price is figured by the cubic foot, there's little room for a 50-pound bag of sugar or flour. But combined in a neatly packed-aged mix, these ingredients earn their keep in any family larder. Quality is another important factor. Conveniently wrapped in the latest plyo-film material, fresh fruits and vegetables may be shipped across the country and without loss of quality. Yes, convenience foods contribute to better living and even though they may cost more — you must decide how much they are worth to you.

Better buys at the foodmarket this weekend will include fresh pork and pork products, scheduled for promotional emphasis as the traditional New Year's Day fare. New Surgery Ahead For Boy With Arm Sewed On

By JAMES CALOGERO
BOSTON, (AP) — Red-haired and freckle-faced Everett Knowles Jr. calmly awaits a new operation in which his right arm — and medical history — is at stake.

The 13-year-old boy has been told by Dr. Ronald Malt of Massachusetts General Hospital that he must undergo the surgeon's knife again, possibly early in January.

ALREADY MADE HISTORY

Young Knowles already has undergone a series of history-making operations in which his completely severed right arm was reconnected to his body, although he can't use it yet.

He may become the first person in medical history ever to have a completely severed limb reconnected, with life, feel and usefulness.

The daring attempt at a medical breakthrough began last May 23 when young Knowles' right arm was cut off cleanly by a freight train as he was walking home from school in suburban Somerville.

EACH SUCCESSFUL

Each of the several separate operations has been deemed successful, but with the usual caution of medical men, Massachusetts General Hospital doctors refuse to say at this stage that the boy's arm will be restored to usefulness.

Dr. Malt said the operation he contemplates deals with the nerve fibres, which already have been connected at the point the arm was severed, about two inches below the armpit.

Third Victim Of Car Crash Dies

LEBANON, Pa. (AP) — A violent three-car crash on ice-covered Route 22 near Lebanon claimed its third victim Wednesday night when Harvey M. Dollar, 33, of Allentown died at Lancaster General Hospital.

Dollar remained in critical condition for more than 12 hours before succumbing. He suffered a fractured skull, fractured jaw and multiple cuts and bruises.

Killed outright in the crash Wednesday morning were William F. Grazier, 18, and Gerald J. Vinnarso, both of Pittsburgh, who were enroute to New York City to look for jobs.

Grazier was driving one car and Dollar another. The third driver, Stan J. Petrovich, 22, of Locustdale, escaped injury.

Police said the Grazier car apparently skidded out of control, swerved to the opposite lane, hit the Petrovich car, then bounded into the Dollar vehicle.

Girl Swims Thru Ice To Rescue Dog

WASHINGTON (AP)—A lively little nipper of a dog whimpered from an ice floe in the Potomac River.

Pretty Barbara Foster spotted it, stripped down to her undies and swam 50 yards to the rescue as evening rush hour traffic whizzed by Wednesday near the Jefferson Memorial.

The shivering German shepherd eyed her as she made her way through the chill water, then promptly bit her four times before the two were picked up by a Fire Department rescue boat.

"Ingrate mongrel," said the police. "You wouldn't leave a human out there to drown, would you?" asked Miss Foster, 20, a junior at the University of Illinois.

FOUR CAUGHT ROBBING STORE

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—A Christmas Day attempt to rob a department store safe at a suburban shopping center resulted in the arrest of four men who were caught in the act, police said Wednesday.

Detective R. T. Burgess said that two officers assigned to patrol the shopping center saw four men enter the rear of the J. C. Penney store. The officers radioed for help and police surrounded the building.

"We caught them red-handed," Burgess said. "They had cut a big hole out of the side of the safe with acetylene torches."

The four men, held without bond on attempted burglary charges, were booked as Joe C. Cash, 25, an escapee from jail at Franklin, Tenn.; Jackie W. Phillips, 21, College Park, Ga.; Billy

LENDERS LURE EXTRA MONEY INTO SAVINGS

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The battle to lure personal savings into institutional hands may be still fiercer in 1963 although the drive to raise interest rates is abating.

The fight could turn to new inducements to start savings accounts, such as gifts and souvenirs, and more services to clients of the variety of institutions which vie for the saver's dollars.

And the competition next year also may sharpen in the lending side of the business. For the total of savings is piling up in the coffers of most potential lenders. Unless a major increase in economic growth spurs demand for loans, many institutions will be looking over the more lucrative forms of lending with zeal, and perhaps venturing into some of these for the first time.

MONEY AT WORK

They have to keep their dollars at work profitably to maintain the higher rates of interest many of them put into effect this year.

Despite the competition this year, most types of savings institutions report increased assets. But the rate of growth for many slowed noticeably.

Savings and loan association accounts gained by $9.3 billion in 1962, up 7 per cent from 1961. The total for the 6,384 in the nation is put at $80.2 billion by the U.S. Savings & Loan League, bringing the total of accounts and other assets to $93.6 billion. Their mortgage lending volume rose by $20.5 billion to a total of $84.8 billion. The league says advance mortgage commitments of $2.3 billion at year's end should mean continued high lending levels in the early months of 1963.

Mutual savings bank accounts totaled $40.5 billion at the end of September, the Federal Home Loan Bank Board reports.

BONDS GAIN

It puts savings accounts in commercial banks at $85 billion. Holdings of E and H U.S. Savings Bonds at $45 billion show a gain of about a billion in the year.

A comparable yearly gain is reported by the Credit Union National Association. This fast growing competitor of older savings institutions now holds a record $7.1 billion in assets. Almost a million new members in the year bring the total to 13.7 million. Together their accounts come to $6.4 billion. Loans rose half a billion to $5.4 billion; the association dropped some 1,000 inactive unions and added 1,200 newly formed ones for a total now of 21,200 unions.

The Bureau of Federal Credit Unions reports granting 600 new charters this year, bringing the total to 10,700 with seven million members. Their assets rose 13 1/2 per cent to $3.4 billion, with members' savings $3 billion.

In another form of savings, the Federal Home Loan Bank Board puts the reserves of life insurance companies at $104 billion, up $4.8 billion in 1962. The Institute of Life Insurance says 120 million persons are protected up to a total of $680 billion in force. It looks for further gains in number of those protected and the total involved.

Americans have other forms of savings, such as home ownership, stock holdings. Many of them did not do so well in stocks, and some sold and put the returns into the savings institutions.

And the new year should see still further switching from one form to another, as returns change and or opportunity for capital gains arise, with all the competitors working hard to benefit.

MASONIC HEADS ARE INSTALLED

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—W. LeRoy McKinley, of Newtown Square, a lawyer, was installed for another term today as right worshipful grand master of the Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons in Pennsylvania.

Others installed for another one-year term include:

Earl F. Herold, Butler, deputy grand master; Robert E. Deyoe, Oil City, senior grand warden; John K. Young, Philadelphia, junior grand warden; Louis Bacharach, Philadelphia, grand treasurer; and Ashby B. Paul, Harrisburg, grand secretary.

Members of the grand lodge also elected these men for another year on the committee of masonic homes:

McKinley, Herold, Deyoe, Young, Scott C. Rea, Sunbury; Judge Robert E. Woodside Jr., Millersburg; Scott S. Leibb, Harrisburg; Dr. C. Howard Witmer, Lancaster; William E. Yeager, Warren; Ellis E. Stern, Coatesville and Willis R. Michael, York.

MAN ARRESTED FOR HOLDUP

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Police arrested a suburban Glendene man Wednesday in connection with a holdup at the Havertown Savings and Loan Association last July.

The man, Raymond Featherer, 33, was charged with armed holdup and robbery and larceny of auto.

Police said he was arrested in Upper Darby, driving a stolen car he allegedly planned to use for another holdup. Officers said Featherer admitted the $2,849 robbery last July.

Police quoted him as saying he needed the money to pay hospital expenses for his daughter.

Police at first had thought a woman pulled the holdup. They said that when Featherer was arrested he was wearing a brown wig, brown coat and black sweater and slacks. They said he admitted the robbery after officers discovered the impersonation while questioning him.

Use City Funds On Commuter Trains

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Passenger Service Improvement Corp. will pay $1,728,000 from city funds to the Pennsylvania and Reading Railroads to operate five bargain-fare commuter rail lines in the city in 1963, it was announced Wednesday by Mayor James H. J. Tate and PSIC officials.

The Pennsylvania Railroad will receive $929,000 and the Reading $799,000.

The 1963 amount is $47,000 less than this year. Five commuter lines instead of six will be under PSIC subsidy in 1963.

DEATHS

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP)—Harry Carroll, 70, composer, whose songs included "I'm Always Chasing Rainbows" and "By The Sea," died Wednesday two weeks after suffering a heart attack. Carroll wrote "Trail of the Lonesome Pine" when he was 17.

SHEEPSKOT, Maine (AP)—Philip S. Donnell, 73, former dean of Oklahoma State University's engineering school and at one time vice president of the university, died Tuesday.

TOKYO (AP)—Li Chieh-jen, 72, a noted Chinese writer, died in Chengtu, southwest China, Monday, the New China News Agency reported Thursday. He was a deputy to the National People's Congress (Parliament) and a national committee member of the China Federation of Library and Art Circles.

PETER O'TOOLE ENDS FILMING OF 'LAWRENCE'

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—It was the end of a long campaign for Peter O'Toole.

"Campaign is a good word for it," sighed the English actor who is starring in "Lawrence of Arabia."

It had taken him from the searing sands of Jordan and Morocco to the rainless plains of Spain and finally, to the watering places of remote Hollywood. He sipped his beer and sighed again.

"When I agreed to do this picture, they told me it would take five months," he said. "That was two months ago October."

BOSS A PERFECTIONIST

He had reckoned without the wiles of his employer, producer Samuel Spiegel, a man bent on perfectionism ("On the Waterfront," "Bridge on the River Kwai").

With the successful launching of the Hollywood premiere of "Lawrence of Arabia," O'Toole's duties for Spiegel were finally ended except for one more picture the actor is contracted for. ("Sam keeps muttering something about my playing a Texan. Ridiculous.")

Theirs was not an immediate attachment, O'Toole recalled.

"We met first in 1958, and Sam was unimpressed," he recalled.

"I didn't care much for Sam at first, either. But I must say I have grown to like him. Sam is a burglar, of course. But he has the face of a burglar, and that's his charm. Other producers can be burglars but they don't look like it."

FOND TERM

It should be added that "burglar" is a show biz term of semi-endeavor for a sharp operator who generally gets the best of a deal.

You may have gathered that O'Toole is an outspoken type. He is. He is a rangy fellow with taffy-colored hair and casual dress. He is also one of England's best young actors.

This was his first trip to Hollywood.

Would he be willing to work here?

"Yes, I have worked in other deserts. I have even worked in 'Stratford-on-Avon.'"

"CULTURAL DESERT"

He made it plain that he considered the Bard's birthplace a cultural desert. "A terrible place," he commented. "I spent nine of the worst months of my life there."

"The plays are well done at Stratford, but the theater is a monstrosity," George Bernard Shaw, who hated Shakespeare, sent the designer a one-word message: "Congratulations."

And as his patient leaves, the old doctor comments silently, "That's what I ought to prescribe for myself, too."

Yep, that's the national malady of the moment—post-Christmas letdown. But in the bottomless torpor of mind and body that grips us all now there is one consoling thought: The disease is temporary and almost never fatal.

480 MAY DIE OVER NEW YEAR

CHICAGO (AP)—The nation's traffic deaths during the four-day Christmas holiday totaled 646 and the National Safety Council estimates that 420 to 480 persons may be killed in motor vehicle accidents during the extended New Year's weekend.

Severe weather—cold, snow, sleet and rain—was blamed in large part for the Christmas holiday traffic toll by safety experts. In addition to the traffic fatalities, 107 persons perished in fires and 85 others died in miscellaneous accidents for an over-all total of 838.

The council had estimated a traffic death toll of 650 to 750. The final count compared to the record of 706 set during a four-day Christmas observance in 1956.

In estimating the New Year's traffic death toll, the council said that during a four-day nonholiday weekend at this time of year, about 410 persons are killed. The count starts at 6 p.m. local time; Friday and ends at midnight Tuesday, Jan. 1, a total of 102 hours.

129 Accidental Deaths In Canada

TORONTO (AP)—Canada's five-day Christmas weekend set a record of 129 accidental deaths, including 85 on the highways, 21 in fires, 10 drownings and 13 from other causes.

Only two of the 10 provinces—Newfoundland and Prince Edward Island—reported no accidental deaths.

The previous holiday record was 122 for the three-day dominion day weekend in 1960. The last five-day weekend, Christmas 1956, had a toll of 73.

Canada along with other members of the British Commonwealth celebrates the day after Christmas as Boxing Day.

TANKER GROUND

DELAWARE CITY, Del. (AP)—A tanker carrying high octane gasoline was aground in mud in the Delaware River channel two miles southeast of here today.

The 76-foot American vessel, the Montpelier Victory, was in no danger, and all 45 persons aboard were safe, the captain told the U.S. Coast Guard after it went aground Wednesday.

BOYLE'S Grab Bag

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Now come upon the spirit of man the time of the great letdown.

The lights still blink at night on the Christmas tree, but they have lost a great deal of their joy.

The new bike already has its first scratch; there is a hole in the new drum—heaven be praised for that!—and the children are cranky and cross.

The good housewife sits down determinedly to make out a list of presents that have to be taken back and exchanged for more useful articles.

But the pencil droops in her hand as she looks around her cluttered home and sighs: "What a mess. Will I ever get this place straightened up again?"

BURNS TIES

The man of the house secretly takes out two of the four neckties he received, and furtively throws them down the incinerator.

He worries about the unpaid bills. He rises late to go to work, and broods over the treadmill of his job. He entertains wild daydreams of running away from home and becoming a beachcomber on a far away South Seas isle. He wonders idly whether the pretty girls there really do weave garlands of flowers to hang around a fellow's neck, or whether that's all just Hollywood poppycock.

There is no help in nature. The tired foot falls on snow or slush. The Weather Bureau and the almanac agree that more storms lie ahead. The first robin of spring is still getting a suntan down south. Everyone who felt so bouncy and happy and generous just a few days ago now feels worn out and self-pitying and suspicious of the character and intentions of his neighbors. Yes, there's something gone wrong with us all.

SICK SYMPTOMS

The waiting rooms of doctors are suddenly thronged with patients afflicted with sniffles and symptoms of a vast ennui.

The young physicians listen to descriptions of these ailments sympathetically, and worry perhaps whether the community is in the grip of some new contagious malady.

The old doctor is wiser. He looks out the window absent-mindedly as his middle-aged patient gives a catalog of his aches and pains and winds up by asking hopefully:

"Do you think I've got walking pneumonia, doc?"

Actually the old doctor knows his patient is merely suffering from seasonal idiosyncrasy, but he can't put it to him in quite that way. "No, it isn't pneumonia, John," he tells him. "You're just a victim of post-Christmas letdown. There's nothing wrong with you that a couple of aspirin tablets, smaller meals, a little exercise and two hours more sleep a night won't cure."

4 MORE FLEE TO FREEDOM

BERLIN (AP)—Four young men escaped from East Germany to West Berlin during the night, bringing to 14 the number of successful escapes reported during the Christmas holidays.

A 26-year-old man climbed unobserved across the 3-foot-high wall on the border of the American sector borough of Neukölln.

Three men, 19 to 22, forced their way through the barbed wire on the British sector border with East Germany. An East German border guard spotted them and set off a flare. But they had reached safety.

The biggest group to escape consisted of four adults and four children in a bus that rammed through the barriers at the autobahn checkpoint of Babelsberg, just on the outskirts of West Berlin. The owner of the bus, Hans Weidner, 40, a war cripple who walks painfully on crutches, had planned the escape for six months.

Today the group was resting in the West Berlin refugee reception center.

One of the other two holiday escapes was a border guard. He came over in uniform, carrying his Tommy gun, on Christmas afternoon.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The International Longshoremen's Association AFL-CIO placed pickets along the Philadelphia waterfront Wednesday. They were the first pickets to appear since the union resumed its coast-wide strike Sunday.

The IILA delayed picketing to allow members to spend Christmas with their families.

The strike, which resumed at the expiration of an 80-day injunction issued under the Taft-Hartley Act, halted movement of dry cargo in the port of Philadelphia and other ports from Maine to Texas.

ARLIN ADAMS HAS PLANS FOR PENNSYLVANIA

By NORM LA COE

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Arlin M. Adams, 41-year-old Philadelphia lawyer who will take charge of Pennsylvania's health and welfare program next Jan. 15, is a man who is going into his new job with a determination to get things done better and faster.

Says Adams: "We must move forward at a much faster pace."

He wants better care for the elderly, more recreation facilities to help curtail juvenile delinquency, more citizen action in welfare programs, better care for mentally retarded and emotionally disturbed children.

CURATIVE TO PREVENTIVE

"The job," says Adams, "is a very large job. I'm looking forward to it eagerly."

Adams was appointed Wednesday to the $20,000 a year post by go-elect William Scranton.

One thing Adams wants to do is shift the emphasis in dealing with troubled young people from curative to preventive.

"We must learn to work through the schools, and find the troubled youngsters as they develop, and treat them promptly, rather than treat them in the courts, when it is much too late."

SETS RAPID PACE

Adams always has set his own pace, and a rapid pace it has always been.

While studying at Temple University, Adams held a full-time job with a fruit produce company. He managed to be graduated with honors just the same.

He also worked during his first year of law study at the University of Pennsylvania law school. At the end of the year, he stood near the top of the class, and was elected editor-in-chief of the law review, a position based both on grades and class esteem.

Adams interrupted his law school to serve in the Pacific as a Navy lieutenant. After the war, he returned, and was graduated in 1947.

FATHER OF 3

He served as a law clerk for state Supreme Court Justice Horace Stern, then joined the firm of Schnader, Harrison, Segal and Lewis, with which he now is a partner. He does not intend to give up his law practice while holding his cabinet job.

Adams has served in a number of community and public offices, but has never held an elective position. He is a member of the board of governors of the Philadelphia Bar Association, and has served as chairman of the judiciary committee.

He is married to the former Neysa Cristol, and the couple has three daughters. Carol, 13, and Judy and Jane, 8-year-old twins.

SAYS WEATHER CUT P.A. TOLL

HARRISBURG (AP)—State Police Commissioner Frank G. McCartney credited snow and ice today for making the long Christmas holiday in Pennsylvania one of the safest on record.

On roads patrolled by state police during the 102-hour period, only three traffic fatalities occurred, McCartney said. The total was 15.

In connection with this report, the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission said it went through its fourth straight major holiday with out a fatal accident.

"Ice and snow on the roads made drivers more cautious than usual," Col. McCartney said. "This was what helped cut down accidents the most."

ICY AIR HEADS TOWARD EAST

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Temperatures moderated in most sections of the West and Midwest today but fairly cold weather held a tight grip across the major part of the nation.

There were some subzero readings this morning in Utah and in sections of the Midwest. However, marks were far higher than the record lows for the date Wednesday morning in many Western and Midwest cities, with readings as low as 31 below zero.

The icy air moved eastward from the north central region and temperatures during the night were a few degrees below zero in parts of Illinois, Indiana, Michigan and near zero in Ohio. Below zero marks also were reported across snow-covered areas in Utah, with a -7 in Delta.

It was a little chilly in the Southeast, except in most of Florida. Freezing weather prevailed in Tennessee, with temperatures in the 20s in western sections and in the 30s in northern sections of Georgia and Alabama and western North Carolina.

Only sections out of the freezing belt were the Pacific Coast, the extreme Southwest, southern Texas, the Southern tier of states from Louisiana eastward, the Carolinas and much of Virginia.

4 CHANGES IN FOOD STAMP PLAN LISTED

HARRISBURG (AP)—The State Public Welfare Department announced four major revisions today in the federal food stamp program in Fayette County, effective Jan. 1.

The changes include:

—Use of banks instead of state offices for sale of food coupons. Offices now located in Uniontown, Conneville, Masontown and Brownsville will be closed after the first of the year.

—A new food stamp authorization card, showing the amount to be paid for coupons, the value of the coupons to be received free, and the dates during which the coupons must be obtained. The cards will be mailed to each family taking part in the program twice a month.

—Purchase of food stamps twice a month, instead of just once a month—as had been allowed before. Failure to make regular purchases will automatically cancel eligibility and require recertification for further purchases.

—New identification cards, for all families participating in the program.

With the closing of the food stamp offices, eligibility for the program will be certified by the Fayette County Board of Assistance in Uniontown.

ADD LUZERNE

Both the authorization card and new identification cards will be processed in Harrisburg, then sent out to the needy families.

The food stamp program has been in operation in Fayette County for almost a year and a half now. The county was one of eight selected by the federal government as a test area. So successful has it been in Pennsylvania, that on Oct. 1, Luzerne County, another of the state's hard pressed coal areas, was added to the list of participants.

TWO MAYORS IN RAIL DISPUTE

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Philadelphia Mayor James Tate has accused his Camden, N.J., counterpart of bad judgment for persistent opposition to a proposed high speed rail line route through downtown Camden.

Camden Mayor Alfred Pierce has protested the proposed route would perpetuate a "Chinese Wall" through his city.

Tate said at a news conference Wednesday that Pierce is "mis-informed and is playing politics" in the controversy. Tate said

Pierce "doesn't rely on information from competent people in the Delaware River Port Authority."

Mother, Son Found Dead In Trailer

ALEXANDRIA, Va. (AP) — A Navy petty officer and his mother were found dead Tuesday in his house trailer by another member of the family when she arrived for Christmas dinner. The dead were Mrs. Jessie L. Miller, 65, Belleville, Pa., and Samuel B. Miller, a second class petty officer.

Miller's sister, Mrs. Hilda Anstasis, also of Belleville, said no one answered her knocks at the trailer door and that there were no footprints in the snow, other than her's, leading to and from the trailer.

Police said the deaths may have been caused by carbon monoxide.

LENDERS LURE EXTRA MONEY INTO SAVINGS

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The battle to lure personal savings into institutional hands may be still fiercer in 1963 although the drive to raise interest rates is abating.

The fight could turn to new inducements to start savings accounts, such as gifts and souvenirs, and more services to clients of the variety of institutions which vie for the saver's dollars.

And the competition next year also may sharpen in the lending side of the business. For the total of savings is piling up in the coffers of most potential lenders. Unless a major increase in economic growth spurs demand for loans, many institutions will be looking over the more lucrative forms of lending with zeal, and perhaps venturing into some of these for the first time.

MONEY AT WORK

They have to keep their dollars at work profitably to maintain the higher rates of interest many of them put into effect this year.

Despite the competition this year, most types of savings institutions report increased assets. But the rate of growth for many slowed noticeably.

Savings and loan association accounts gained by $9.3 billion in 1962, up 7 per cent from 1961. The total for the 6,384 in the nation is put at $80.2 billion by the U.S. Savings & Loan League, bringing the total of accounts and other assets to $93.6 billion. Their mortgage lending volume rose by $20.5 billion to a total of $84.8 billion. The league says advance mortgage commitments of $2.3 billion at year's end should mean continued high lending levels in the early months of 1963.

Mutual savings bank accounts totaled $40.5 billion at the end of September, the Federal Home Loan Bank Board reports.

BONDS GAIN

It puts savings accounts in commercial banks at $85 billion. Holdings of E and H U.S. Savings Bonds at $45 billion show a gain of about a billion in the year.

A comparable yearly gain is reported by the Credit Union National Association. This fast growing competitor of older savings institutions now holds a record $7.1 billion in assets. Almost a million new members in the year bring the total to 13.7 million. Together their accounts come to $6.4 billion. Loans rose half a billion to $5.4 billion. The association dropped some 1,000 inactive unions and added 1,200 newly formed ones for a total now of 21,200 unions.

The Bureau of Federal Credit Unions reports granting 600 new charters this year, bringing the total to 10,700 with seven million members. Their assets rose 13½ per cent to $3.4 billion, with members' savings $3 billion.

In another form of savings, the Federal Home Loan Bank Board puts the reserves of life insurance companies at $104 billion, up $4.8 billion in 1962. The Institute of Life Insurance says 120 million persons are protected up to a total of $680 billion in force. It looks for further gains in number of those protected and the total involved.

Americans have other forms of savings, such as home ownership, stock holdings. Many of them did not do so well in stocks, and some sold and put the returns into the savings institutions.

And the new year should see still further switching from one form to another, as returns change and or opportunity for capital gains arise, with all the competitors working hard to benefit.

MASONIC HEADS ARE INSTALLED

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—W. Le Roy McKinley, of Newtown Square, a lawyer, was installed for another term today as right worshipful grand master of the Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons in Pennsylvania.

Others installed for another one-year term include: Earl F. Herold, Butler, deputy grand master; Robert E. Deyoe, Oil City, senior grand warden; John K. Young, Philadelphia, junior grand warden; Louis Bacharach, Philadelphia, grand treasurer, and Ashby B. Paul, Harrisburg, grand secretary.

McKinley, Herold, Deyoe, Young, Scott C. Rea, Sunbury; Judge Robert E. Woodside Jr., Millersburg; Scott S. Leiby, Harrisburg; Dr. C. Howard Witmer, Lancaster; William E. Yeager, Warren; Ellis E. Stern, Coatesville and Willis R. Michael, York.

MAN ARRESTED FOR HOLDUP

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Police arrested a suburban Glenolden man Wednesday in connection with a holdup at the Havertown Savings and Loan Association last July.

The man, Raymond Featherer, 33, was charged with armed holdup and robbery and larceny of auto.

Police said he was arrested in Upper Darby, driving a stolen car he allegedly planned to use for another holdup. Officers said Featherer admitted the $2,849 robbery last July.

Police quoted him as saying he needed the money to pay hospital expenses for his daughter.

Police at first had thought a woman pulled the holdup. They said that when Featherer was arrested he was wearing a brown wig, brown coat and black sweater and slacks. They said he admitted the robbery after officers discovered the impersonation while questioning him.

Use City Funds On Commuter Trains

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Passenger Service Improvement Corp. will pay $1,728,000 from city funds to the Pennsylvania and Reading Railroad to operate five bargain-fare commuter rail lines in the city in 1963, it was announced Wednesday by Mayor James H. J. Tate and PSIC officials.

The Pennsylvania Railroad will receive $929,000 and the Reading $799,000.

The 1963 amount is $47,000 less than this year. Five commuter lines instead of six will be under PSIC subsidy in 1963.

DEATHS

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP)—Harry Carroll, 70, composer, whose songs included "I'm Always Chasing Rainbows," and "By The Sea," died Wednesday two weeks after suffering a heart attack. Carroll wrote "Trail of the Lonesome Pine" when he was 17.

SHEEPSCOT, Maine (AP)—Philip S. Donnell, 73, former dean of Oklahoma State University's engineering school and at one time vice president of the university, died Tuesday.

TOKYO (AP)—Li Chieh-jen, 72, a noted Chinese writer, died in Chengtu, southwest China, Monday, the New China News Agency reported Thursday. He was a deputy to the National People's Congress (Parliament) and national committee member of the China Federation of Library and Art Circles.

Americans have other forms of savings, such as home ownership, stock holdings. Many of them did not do so well in stocks, and some sold and put the returns into the savings institutions.

And the new year should see still further switching from one form to another, as returns change and or opportunity for capital gains arise, with all the competitors working hard to benefit.

PETER O'TOOLE ENDS FILMING OF 'LAWRENCE'

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—It was the end of a long campaign for Peter O'Toole.

"Campaign is a good word for it," sighed the English actor who is starring in "Lawrence of Arabia."

It had taken him from the searing sands of Jordan and Morocco to the rainless plains of Spain and finally, to the watering places of remote Hollywood. He sipped his beer and sighed again.

"When I agreed to do this picture, they told me it would take five months," he said. "That was two years ago October."

BOSS A PERFECTIONIST

He had reckoned without the wiles of his employer, producer Samuel Spiegel, a man bent on perfectionism ("On the Waterfront," "Bridge on the River Kwai").

With the successful launching of the Hollywood premiere of "Lawrence of Arabia," O'Toole's duties for Spiegel were finally ended except for one more picture the actor is contracted for. ("Sam keeps muttering something about my playing a Texan. Ridiculous.")

There was not an immediate attachment, O'Toole recalled.

"We met first in 1958, and Sam was unimpressed," he recalled.

"I didn't care much for Sam at first, either. But I must say I have grown to like him. Sam is a burglar, of course. But he has the face of a burglar, and that's his charm. Other producers can be burglars but they don't look like it."

FOND TERM

It should be added that "burglar" is a show biz term of endearment for a sharp operator who generally gets the best of a deal.

You may have gathered that O'Toole is an outspoken type. He is. He is a rangy fellow with tawny-colored hair and casual dress. He is also one of England's best young actors.

This was his first trip to Hollywood.

Would he be willing to work here?

"Yes, I have worked in other deserts. I have even worked in Stratford-on-Avon."

"CULTURAL DESERT"

He made it plain that he considered the Bard's birthplace a cultural desert. "A terrible place," he commented. "I spent nine of the worst months of my life there."

"The plays are well done at Stratford, but the theater is a monstrosity. George Bernard Shaw, who hated Shakespeare, sent the designer a one-word message: 'Congratulations.'"

480 MAY DIE OVER NEW YEAR

CHICAGO (AP)—The nation's traffic deaths during the four-day Christmas holiday totaled 646 and the National Safety Council estimates that 420 to 480 persons may be killed in motor vehicle accidents during the extended New Year's weekend.

Severe weather — cold, snow, sleet and rain — was blamed in large part for the Christmas holiday traffic toll by safety experts. In addition to the traffic fatalities, 107 persons perished in fires and 85 others died in miscellaneous accidents for an over-all total of 838.

The council had estimated a traffic death toll of 650 to 750. The final count compared to the record of 706 set during a four-day Christmas observance in 1956.

In estimating the New Year's traffic death toll, the council said that during a four-day nonholiday weekend at this time of year, about 410 persons are killed. The count starts at 6 p.m. (local time) Friday and ends at midnight Tuesday, Jan. 1, a total of 102 hours.

129 Accidental Deaths In Canada

TORONTO (AP)—Canada's five-day Christmas weekend set a record of 129 accidental deaths, including 85 on the highways, 21 in fires, 30 drownings and 13 from other causes.

Only two of the 10 provinces—Newfoundland and Prince Edward Island — reported no accidental deaths.

The previous holiday record was 122 for the three-day dominion day weekend in 1960. The last five-day weekend, Christmas 1956, had a toll of 73.

Canada along with other members of the British Commonwealth celebrates the day after Christmas as Boxing Day.

TANKER GROUND
DELAWARE CITY, Del. (AP)—A tanker carrying high octane gasoline was aground in mud in the Delaware River channel two miles southeast of here today.

The 746-foot American vessel, the Montpelier Victory, was in no danger, and all 45 persons aboard were safe, the captain told the U.S. Coast Guard after it went aground Wednesday.

BOYLE'S Grab Bag

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Now come upon the spirit of man the time of the great letdown.

The lights still blink at night on the Christmas tree, but they have lost a great deal of their joy.

The new bike already has its first scratch; there is a hole in the new drum—heaven be praised for that!—and the children are cranky and cross.

The good housewife sits down determinedly to make out a list of presents that have to be taken back and exchanged for more useful articles.

But the pencil droops in her hand as she looks around her cluttered home and sighs: "What a mess. Will I ever get this place straightened up again?"

BURNS TIES

The man of the house secretly takes out two of the four neckties he received, and furtively throws them down the incinerator.

He worries about the unpaid bills. He rises late to go to work, and broods over the treadmill nature of his job. He entertains wild daydreams of running away from home and becoming a beachcomber on a far away South Seas isle.

He wonders idly whether the pretty girls there really do weave garlands of flowers to hang around a fellow's neck, or whether that's all just Hollywood poppycock.

There is no help in nature. The tired foot falls on snow or slush. The Weather Bureau and the almanac agree that more storms lie ahead. The first robin of spring is still getting a suntan down south.

Everyone who felt so bouney and happy and generous just a few days ago now feels worn out and self-pitying and suspicious of the character and intentions of his neighbors. Yes, there's something gone wrong with us all.

SICK SYMPTOMS

The waiting rooms of doctors are suddenly thronged with patients afflicted with sniffles and symptoms of a vast ennui.

The young physicians listen to descriptions of these ailments sympathetically, and worry perhaps whether the community is in the grip of some new contagious malady.

The old doctor is wiser. He looks out the window absent-mindedly as his middle-aged patient gives a catalog of his aches and pains and winds up by asking hopefully:

"Do you think I've got walking pneumonia, doc?"

Actually the old doctor knows his patient is merely suffering from seasonal idiocy, but he can't put it to him in quite that way.

"No, it isn't pneumonia, John," he tells him. "You're just a victim of post-Christmas letdown. There's nothing wrong with you that a couple of aspirin tablets, smaller meals, a little exercise and two hours more sleep a night won't cure."

And as his patient leaves, the old doctor comments silently: "That's what I ought to prescribe for myself, too."

Yep, that's the national malady of the moment—post-Christmas letdown. But in the bottomless torpor of mind and body that grips us all now there is one consoling thought: The disease is temporary and almost never fatal.

4 MORE FLEE TO FREEDOM

BERLIN (AP)—Four young men escaped from East Germany to West Berlin during the night, bringing to 14 the number of successful escapes reported during the Christmas holidays.

A 26-year-old man climbed unobserved across the 3-foot-high wall on the border of the American sector borough of Neukölln.

Three men, 19 to 22, forced their way through the barbed wire on the British sector border with East Germany. An East German border guard spotted them and set off a flare. But they had reached safety.

The biggest group to escape consisted of four adults and four children in a bus that rammed through the barriers at the autobahn checkpoint of Babelsberg, just on the outskirts of West Berlin. The owner of the bus, Hans Weidner, 40, a war cripple who walks painfully on crutches, had planned the escape for six months.

Today the group was resting in the West Berlin refugee reception center.

One of the other two holiday escapes was a border guard. He came over in uniform, carrying his Tommy gun, on Christmas afternoon.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The International Longshoremen's Association (ILA-CIO) placed pickets along the Philadelphia waterfront Wednesday. They were the first pickets to appear since the union resumed its coast-wide strike Sunday.

The ILA delayed picketing to allow members to spend Christmas with their families.

The strike, which resumed at the expiration of an 80-day injunction issued under the Taft-Hartley Act, halted movement of dry cargo in the port of Philadelphia and other ports from Maine to Texas.

ARLIN ADAMS HAS PLANS FOR PENNSYLVANIA

By NORM LA COE

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Arlin M. Adams, 41-year-old Philadelphia lawyer who will take charge of Pennsylvania's health and welfare program next Jan. 15, is a man who is going into his new job with a determination to get things done better and faster.

Says Adams: "We must move forward at a much faster pace."

He wants better care for the elderly, more recreation facilities to help curtail juvenile delinquency, more citizen action in welfare programs, better care for mentally retarded and emotionally disturbed children.

CURATIVE TO PREVENTIVE

"The job," says Adams, "is a very large job. I'm looking forward to it eagerly."

Adams was appointed Wednesday to the $20,000 a year post by govt. William Scranton.

One thing Adams wants to do is shift the emphasis in dealing with troubled young people from curative to preventive.

SETS RAPID PACE

Adams always has set his own pace, and a rapid pace it has always been.

While studying at Temple University, Adams held a full-time job with a fruit produce company. He managed to be graduated with honors just the same.

He also worked during his first year of law study at the University of Pennsylvania law school. At the end of the year, he stood near the top of the class, and was elected editor-in-chief of the law review, a position based both on grades and class esteem.

Adams interrupted his law school to serve in the Pacific as a Navy lieutenant. After the war, he returned, and was graduated in 1947.

FATHER OF 3

He served as a law clerk for state Supreme Court Justice Horace Stern, then joined the firm of Schnader, Harrison, Segal and Lewis, with which he now is a partner. He does not intend to give up his law practice while holding his cabinet job.

Adams has served in a number of community and public offices, but has never held an elective position. He is a member of the board of governors of the Philadelphia Bar Association, and has served as chairman of the judiciary committee.

He is married to the former Neysa Cristol, and the couple has three daughters: Carol, 13, and Judy and Jane, 8-year-old twins.

SAYS WEATHER CUT PA. TOLL

HARRISBURG (AP)—State Police Commissioner Frank G. McCarty credited snow and ice today for making the long Christmas holiday in Pennsylvania one of the safest on record.

On roads patrolled by state police during the 102-hour period, only three traffic fatalities occurred, McCarty said. The total was 15.

In connection with this report, the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission said it went through its fourth straight major holiday without a fatal accident.

"Ice and snow on the roads made drivers more cautious than usual," Col. McCarty said. "This was what helped cut down accidents the most."

ICY AIR HEADS TOWARD EAST

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Temperatures moderated in most sections of the West and Midwest today but fairly cold weather held a tight grip across the major part of the nation.

There were some subzero readings this morning in Utah and in sections of the Midwest. However, marks were far higher than the record lows for the date Wednesday morning in many Western and Midwest cities, with readings as low as 31 below zero.

The icy air moved eastward from the north central region and temperatures during the night were a few degrees below zero in parts of Illinois, Indiana, Michigan and near zero in Ohio. Below zero marks also were reported across snow-covered areas in Utah, with a -7 in Delta.

It was a little chilly in the Southeast, except in most of Florida. Freezing weather prevailed in Tennessee, with temperatures in the 20s in northern sections and in the 30s in northern sections of Georgia and Alabama and western North Carolina.

Only sections out of the freezing belt were the Pacific Coast, the extreme Southwest, southern Texas, the Southern tier of states from Louisiana eastward, the Carolinas and much of Virginia.

Recognition For Students Sunday

The annual student recognition day service will be held at the Gettysburg Methodist Church Sunday at 10:45 a.m.

Set aside as a time to recognize members of the congregation pursuing studies in higher education, the theme of the service this year is "How Education Has Influenced My Faith." Three students, Kathy Degnan, Joanne Engelke and Roger Craver, will present talks on this theme. Others taking part in the service will be Pat Timlin, Doris Yingling and Sam Kessel.

Students from the church and their colleges are: Forrest Craver III and Roger Craver, Dickinson; Kathy Degnan, Gettysburg; Joanne Engelke, West Virginia Wesleyan; Roger Engelke, Pratt Institute; William Jarvis, Gettysburg; Samuel Kessel, Penn State; Richard Noel, Gettysburg;

No Landing Sites Yet For Returning Moonmen

By JOHN BARBOUR
WASHINGTON (AP) — It's a good thing there aren't American astronauts on the moon, waiting for instructions on where to land on earth.
There are a flock of imaginary landing fields abuilding all over the U.S. Southwest, constructed of political pressure, guesswork and just plain wishing.
You can picture the homeward bound astronauts now. Heading for New Mexico, a new rumor makes them change course for Texas, and finally they land in Washington because they overshot another field in California.
NO LANDING SITE YET
This, of course, is absurd. They could have landed in Australia all along.
The fact is, no one has selected a landing site yet for the Apollo moonship or for the Gemini two-man spacecraft.
For the men of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration there is more concern with getting men into space than with the frenetic rumors of where they will come down again.
Some things about the landing site for Gemini's two-man spacecraft, equipped with various landing devices, can be said with some certainty.
TO USE PARAWING
D. Brainerd Holmes, director of manned space flight for NASA, explains that some early Gemini test flights may be aimed at water landings, although the spacecraft is being designed primarily to touch down on land.
It will use parachutes to break its fall, as does Mercury, and will put out a parawing so that it can be flown a little like a heavy glider. Its center of gravity actually will be off center, and by changing its attitude, this will enable it to aim itself better at a site on the earth's surface.
The parawing will allow it to come in for an airplane-like landing on skids which will be extended from ports on its body, like an airplane's landing gear.
LIMITS LANDING AREA
With a Titan rocket booster, Gemini will need all energy possible to get into its proper orbit. It will be shot from Cape Canaveral and, to get the added boost of the earth's rotation, will be aimed eastward. But this will limit its possible landing areas.
This means it will ride in a space belt around the earth, never higher than 30 degrees above the equator and never lower than 30 degrees below the equator. The amount of the United States within this area is puny.
West to east from the spacecraft's eye there is a mountainous corner of western Texas, then the southern tip of Texas from Houston south to the Rio Grande, then the swamps, bayous and beaches of southern Louisiana, then the peninsula of Florida.

3 YOUNGSTERS FALL 500 FEET TO THEIR DEATH

OGDEN, Utah (AP) — It was cold but the sun was shining and the air fresh when three youngsters set out on a hike in Waterfall Canyon, a favorite playground in this northern Utah city.
Dr. Paul Southwick said his daughter, Shauna, 9, and her friends, Mark Way, 9, and Bonnie Ross, 8, didn't say how far they were going when they got parental approval of their venture.
The children left home about 3 p.m. Wednesday. They had been told not to stay away too long. At dusk, the parents and neighbors searched the foothills, then the twisting trail that leads to the top of the canyon and its waterfall.
A 7:35 p.m. with the temperature a few degrees above zero and dropping, Dr. Southwick called officers. A jeep posse and a mountain rescue unit joined the search.
Two and a half hours later, the broken bodies of the children were found at the base of the 500-foot cliff.
Mark and Bonnie were dead. Shauna died enroute to a hospital. There is little water at the canyon summit this time of year but there is enough seepage to put a glaze of ice on the cliff.

Rick Nelson Will Wed Pretty Blonde

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Rick Nelson will marry pretty blonde Kristin Harmon, 18, the daughter of former football star Tom Harmon and actress Elyse Knox.
The Harmon announced the engagement at a family party Christmas eve. They said the wedding will be in the spring. Harmon, now a sportscaster, was a star halfback with the University of Michigan and also played with the professional Los Angeles Rams.
Nelson, 22, is one of the stars in his family's television comedy series, "The Adventures of Ozzie and Harriet."

PLAN HEARINGS ON CHANGES IN WELFARE SETUP

HARRISBURG (AP)—The State and Local Welfare Commission plans three days of public hearings next month to discuss proposed reorganization of Pennsylvania's public welfare system.
Stanley J. Brody, executive secretary of the commission, said Wednesday the hearings will be held Jan. 21 in Pittsburgh, Jan. 22 in Harrisburg and Jan. 23 in Philadelphia.
The commission was created by an act of the 1961 legislature to formulate a plan for the proper division of public welfare responsibilities and functions between the state and counties and the proper organization of public welfare services in the counties.
COUNTY PLAN
It already has recommended that a public welfare department be established in each county. These county agencies would be responsible for developing and coordinating all the various public welfare services.
The role of the state, then would become one of planning, leadership and research. Regional directors would relieve the state of most of the burden of supervision.
Brody said it is the intent of the commission that a regional office be located within easy reach of every county agency.
The exact number of regions proposed has not been fixed, he said, but estimates range from five to 11.
The commission proposes that each county levy a tax equal to seven-tenths of one mill of its property value to pay for the cost of its welfare services.
The state would pay for the excess costs on sliding scale based on the number of people within the county on public assistance.
Brody estimated this would cost the state between $12 million and $30 million a year beyond the present public welfare budget.
The range accounts for possible increased federal aid and for the possibility that uniform standards of institutional care may reduce the cost of free care.
The commission will draw up its final program after the January hearings.

MISSING MAN SURRENDERS AS WITNESS

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—John J. Fitzpatrick, former sergeant-at-arms of city council, sought for several weeks as a witness for the grand jury investigation of city hall, surrendered to the police today.
Fitzpatrick appeared at a police station and told Sgt. James Dolan, "I'm the Fitzpatrick everybody's been looking for. I've come to give myself up."
Dist. Atty. James C. Crumlish Jr. immediately sent Francis Lederer, chief of county detectives, to question Fitzpatrick.
Fitzpatrick indicated he had been in Chicago, but did not elaborate.
WAS ACQUITTED
The grand jury is investigating several aspects of city government, including zoning changes. Earlier this year Fitzpatrick was acquitted of trying to influence a zoning change.
In another development, Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., turned down a request to testify before the grand jury.
Crumlish disclosed that Scott turned down the request on the ground "that he has no first hand information to offer than that which has been given by other witnesses already." Crumlish said he assumed the other witnesses referred to were Philadelphia Republican Alliance leaders.

Chinese Seeking Red Leadership

WASHINGTON (AP)—Assistant Secretary of State W. Averell Harriman says Communist China is bidding openly to take over the leadership of the world Communist movement from the Soviet Union.
Differences between the two will grow as the fight for leadership is waged, Harriman said Wednesday in an interview. "Which one will gain is anyone's guess," he added.
Harriman, a former ambassador to Moscow, is President Kennedy's top adviser on Far Eastern affairs.
Both Communist nations, he said, want to "destroy everything we believe in." Of the two, he said, the Chinese "have a more dangerous point of view and may become the more dangerous threat to the Free World."

MISSING MAN SURRENDERS AS WITNESS

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—John J. Fitzpatrick, former sergeant-at-arms of city council, sought for several weeks as a witness for the grand jury investigation of city hall, surrendered to the police today.
Fitzpatrick appeared at a police station and told Sgt. James Dolan, "I'm the Fitzpatrick everybody's been looking for. I've come to give myself up."
Dist. Atty. James C. Crumlish Jr. immediately sent Francis Lederer, chief of county detectives, to question Fitzpatrick.

NOT GUILTY BUT PAY COSTS LAW IS CHALLENGED

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The American Civil Liberties Union has challenged a 158-year-old Pennsylvania law, believed unique in the United States, whereby a defendant can be acquitted, but still ordered to pay court costs.

Specifically the civil liberties union has filed an appeal for Jay Giaccio, who was acquitted by a Chester County jury last April of a weapons charge. But then jury then ordered Giaccio to pay court costs—$230.95.

The civil liberties union says such a situation occurs many times each year in Pennsylvania, but in its brief says that this is the first time the law has ever been appealed.

CALLS UNCONSTITUTIONAL

The brief in Giaccio's case also forms the basis for another challenge of the law, that one involving a Pittsburgh libel case.

The civil liberties union argues that the law is unconstitutional because it violates the due process clause of state and federal constitutions and the basic principle of fairness. It applies only to misdemeanors.

The civil liberties union also believes the law was drafted by mistake.

Lawyers say the "not guilty but pay the costs" law is generally considered a compromise verdict. If the jury has some doubt there being enough evidence to convict, but knows it can charge court costs, it might take the more lenient course.

ONLY IN PENNA.

The civil liberties union argues, that to order an acquitted defendant to pay court costs or go to prison until he does so is to punish a man for an unspecified crime he has never been charged with or given a chance to defend himself against.

In the civil liberties brief drawn by Peter Hearn and James C.N. Paul, who teaches law at the University of Pennsylvania, it is argued that the provision is not found in common law, nor before 1804, nor in any other state.

The civil liberties union has asked the original courts in Chester and Allegheny counties to reverse orders by juries requiring defendants to pay costs. A spokesman in Philadelphia said the civil liberties union will take the case to federal courts if necessary. The decision is pending in each case.

CITE EXAMPLES

In the Chester County case Giaccio, of Schuylkill township was indicted and acquitted on charges of pointing a deadly weapon at someone. A charge of discharging a deadly weapon was dismissed. In Pittsburgh, W. L. King, editor of the "Voice of the Nazarenes," was acquitted in November of criminal libel charges but assessed court costs. The civil liberties union assisted him in his fight against the assessment.

The libel charges concerned an alleged oath of the Knights of Columbus, a Catholic laymen's organization.

Cubans

2,000 TO LEAVE

"The next boat that takes supplies of medicines and foodstuffs to Havana will return with 2,000 more Cubans," said a committee official.

There was no immediate confirmation of this.

Kennedy told the Cuban delegation in Palm Beach that he "hopes some day to visit a free Cuba."

claimed him as their third adopted Korean child. Another was a four-year-old girl who will become the second adopted Korean child of a Johnstown family. One other youngster from Korea was with the group, but was turned over to its American parents in Chicago. The children arrived in custody of a Japanese woman who was flying to New York and agreed to be nurse for the children enroute.

Mr. and Mrs. Snyder secured the infant through the Adams County Child Welfare Services and the International Social Service.

The Snyder's first child arrived about four and a half months after they made the request. For the second child it took about a year. The authorities in Korea made every effort to match the children, so Lisa Ann resembles Laura Ann. Another infant had been chosen for the Snyders in Korea but became ill and died and as a result the Snyders had to wait longer than usual. When Lisa Ann came along she was chosen instead, and the Snyders and Laura Ann are happy that it was Lisa Ann who finally arrived at the home in Twin Oaks.

in Exploring, helping the youth toward his eventual career and helping him to become a mature adult. In Exploring it is not the Explorer advisor who makes the program — it must be the youths. And they have to carry out the program. We must let them make their own mistakes so that they can learn to stand on their own two feet, to become men of independence of thought, responsible men who have learned how to work together and do a job."

Plans were made for four meetings a year of the explorer advisors, committeemen and institutional representatives to discuss common problems and "keep abreast of the Explorer program which is constantly developing."

Navy Seaplane Still Missing

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—There still is no trace today of a Navy seaplane missing since Wednesday night. Thirteen men were aboard. The plane, a Martin Marlin, was attached to Patrol Squadron 42, which lost a plane in the Gulf of Alaska Sept. 24. Ten perished in that crash.

Last word from the seaplane was a position report from 350 miles southwest of San Diego. It was returning to North Island Naval Air Station from a routine patrol.

NEW FOOD AND DRUG POST FOR DR. F. KELSEY

By HARRY KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dr. Frances O. Kelsey, hailed as national heroine for keeping thalidomide off the American market, today was put at the head of a new U.S. office which will pass on requests to test new drugs on humans.

Her appointment as director of the investigational drug branch was part of a reorganization at the Food and Drug Administration's new drug division which was approved today by Secretary of Welfare Anthony J. Celebrezze.

In a statement Celebrezze said the retooling of the drug division into five branches will permit the FDA to cope with its increased responsibilities in the new drug area.

MORE AUTHORITY

As a backlash of the outcry over thalidomide — a sedative blamed for deformities of thousands of infants born in Europe — Congress last October enacted a law giving the FDA stronger authority over production and sales of prescription drugs.

To carry out the new law and to make administration changes the FDA proposed a rash of tighter regulations which after being discussed and criticized are now being redrafted.

An FDA spokesman said today that the regulations dealing with the testing of drugs on humans will be issued fairly soon.

TO CHECK NEW DRUGS

Dr. Kelsey's investigational drug branch, according to the FDA announcement, "is being established to evaluate reports of proposed clinical tests of new drugs" which manufacturers and others will submit in compliance with the investigational drug regulations.

"Frankly, I don't know what it (the new job) will consist of" until the regulations come out, Dr. Kelsey told a newsmen.

But broadly her duties, for which she will receive $15,045 yearly, will be to check on reports of firms proposing to test new drugs on humans.

NEW AUTHORITY

She will be operating under new powers which give the FDA authority, among other things, to: Require substantial evidence that a drug is effective as well as safe before it may be approved for marketing. Bar the marketing of a new drug until it has received the affirmative approval of the FDA which also received additional time to pass on the safety and effectiveness of the drugs.

GOT GOLD MEDAL

Require that new drugs be tested on animals before they are given to humans in clinical testing.

Dr. Kelsey became known as the heroine of the thalidomide episode by refusing to permit U.S. marketing of the German drug despite what she described as the "great pressure brought to bear."

For this, Dr. Kelsey, 48, received a gold medal for distinguished government service from President Kennedy who told her that the hopes "we have for our children" were riding with her decision to bar the drug.

SANTA CLAUS ATTENDS Santa Claus, from Fantasyland, distributed gifts and the committee chairman presented a gift to him. Members also disclosed the gifts they had received from their secret sisters for their birthday or Christmas.

The next meeting will be held January 15 instead of January 8, as originally scheduled, and will be a dinner in charge of the public relations committee, comprising Mrs. Frederic Griest, chairman, Mrs. Violet Hill, Mrs. Thomas Brenner and Mrs. Doris Shoemaker.

The party was in charge of the hospitality committee with Mrs. Carver, chairman, Mrs. Eberhart, Mrs. Richard Dick and Mrs. Edith Ditchburn, assisted by Mrs. H. W. Baker, Mrs. Violet Hill, Miss Jane Stallsmith and Mrs. Elizabeth Heming.

The Soroptimist Club held its annual Christmas party at the Peace Light Inn Thursday evening. In the photograph below are, reading from left to right, first row, Mrs. Donald Myers, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Henry Bream, second vice president; Dr. Elizabeth Gregg, president; Mrs. H. W. SEEKS TO KEEP FORTUNE FROM HIS DAUGHTER

NICE, France (AP) — Author Somerset Maugham has gone into a French court in an effort to deny his daughter any of his fortune when he dies—and to get back $2 million he says he has given her since she was born 47 years ago.

The British author, 88, claimed in a suit filed in Nice that Elizabeth Mary Maugham—now the wife of Lord John Hope—is not legally his daughter because she was conceived while her mother was married to another man.

Lady Hope is the daughter of the late Syrie Bernardo Maugham, a well-known interior decorator whose marriage to the writer ended in 1928. She died in 1955.

Maugham contended in his suit that the daughter was conceived while her mother was still married to Henry Welcome. Welcome divorced his wife, naming Maugham as co-respondent, and she and the writer subsequently married.

The contention that Lady Hope is legally someone else's daughter apparently was made to deny her any share of her father's estate when he dies. Maugham revealed at the same time that last April he adopted Alan Frank Searle, his secretary for 32 years, as his son. Searle is 50.

U.S. CAPITAL LOSES COLOR

WASHINGTON (AP)—To many, she's the jewel on the Potomac. But to a committee of architects—who are supposed to know about such things—Washington, D.C., is a city on the wane.

They say the nation's capital, to which hundreds of thousands of tourists throng each year, just is not much to look at.

The gloomy report on Washington was compiled by a committee of the American Institute of Architects. It's published—136 pages of it—in the institute's January Journal.

In the century and a half since Pierre L'Enfant laid out his basic, classical design for the city, it has lost its luster and gone esthetically downhill, says the committee. The group is headed by Paul Thiry, chief architect of the Seattle World's Fair.

Reasons for the reported decline of the city are sudden changes in population, transportation methods and ways of living.

The architects depicted Washington as "a confusion of planning boards and agencies, each concerned with but one fragment of the total picture. Clearly, a centralized planning authority is needed."

DR. ROWLAND

Dr. Rowland began research in the steroid field in 1953 with Prof. H. R. Nace of Brown University. He received his Ph.D. in chemistry at Brown, in 1958, with a thesis on preparation of oxiolesteroids. Dr. Rowland came to Gettysburg College in 1958, where he teaches courses in Fundamentals of Chemistry and Advanced Organic Chemistry. At Gettysburg he was awarded previously a research grant from the Research Corporation of New York City.

Father Of Nine Is Sentenced To Pen

A 42-year-old father of nine children was sentenced in Cumberland County court Thursday to a one and a half to five-year term in the Eastern State penitentiary after pleading guilty to morals charges and contributing to the delinquency of his teen-age daughter.

Raymond L. Monismith, of Gardners R. 1, received the sentence for offenses which occurred between early summer, 1960, and June of this year.

Monismith's sentence, imposed by resident Judge Dale F. Shughart, starts as of August 9, the day the defendant was jailed. Judge Shughart also ordered Monismith to pay a $1 fine.

CAMPAIGN TO PUSH ATHEISM IN BUDAPEST

By LOYAL GOULD

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP)—The strains of a baroque Mass echoed throughout the vaulted domes of a Roman Catholic church in Budapest.

The 50-member choir ended its singing and the voice of a priest rose in an exhortation for peace among nations and understanding between men of different political persuasions.

The 300 to 500-member congregation of young and old strained to catch his every word.

CLASSES ON ATHEISM

The scene took place on a recent Sunday in Budapest's Matyas Church, a multi-spired Gothic cathedral overlooking the Danube from atop the river's bluffs.

The following day, the churchgoers read front-page editorials on atheism in their morning newspapers while their children attended compulsory classes on atheism.

The situation symbolizes the present relationship between the church and the government in Communist Hungary — a tacit agreement to tolerate one another.

NOT ALWAYS THIS WAY

"The regime recognizes the religious attitude of the majority of Hungarians," an informant said, "while at the same time encouraging atheism, especially among the young people."

"The church for its part," he continued, "is careful to avoid saying anything that could be considered anti-regime, concentrating instead on generalities such as peace and brotherhood."

It has not always been this way in Hungary. Before the 1956 revolution, the country's Stalinist regime tried to strangle the church by obstructing its activities by every possible means.

CENTERING ON YOUTH

The regime, to be sure, has not given up completely its attempts to turn the populace to atheism. But experience has taught that little can be done with the older citizenry, so the government is centering its attentions largely on youth.

The campaign, however, has not achieved the success its organizers had hoped.

Communist officials readily admit that a few young people have been influenced and that attempts in rural areas to substitute atheist forms for weddings, christenings and funerals have had little success.

The slow-growing lichen is virtually indestructible. Some lichen colonies may be more than a thousand years old. Two distinct organisms, a fungus and an alga, combine to form the plant. Algae supply carbohydrates by photosynthesis; fungi provide salts and water storage.

VIOLENCE RARE UNDER CASTRO, FOOD SCARCE

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—What is life like under Fidel Castro these days?

Money is abundant, but essential foodstuffs and clothing are in short supply. Government vigilance and fear is the lot of those who oppose the regime, but physical violence is rare. And non-conformity can cost a man his job.

These were the views expressed by many of the more than 900 relatives of Cuban prisoners who arrived here Thursday aboard the freighter African Pilot.

FOOD SCARCE

"There is money, but food is hard to come by," said Mrs. Norgie Portuondo, a teacher of Spanish in a Santiago Teacher's College. "You need government authorization to buy good clothes or luxury items and it's easier to do without than stand in the long lines."

Mrs. Portuondo, 36, whose husband got permission to leave Cuba one month after their marriage, said that after he was captured in the invasion she tried to resign from her job.

"They wouldn't accept my resignation because there is a shortage of teachers," she said. "Restrictions became worse and worse, but honestly speaking nothing had happened to me."

Aida Rodriguez Valladares, who arrived with her husband and two children, said, "One is continuously under a severe nervous strain because of the vigilance. It's worse than the food shortages."

The food problem, she said, "was a question of simply eating without the extras we used to enjoy."

EXPULSION FROM SCHOOL

An 18-year-old girl, who said she wouldn't give her name because her parents are still in Havana, told of being expelled from high school two years ago "for my attitude against the government. I haven't worked or done anything since. I lived with my parents."

Mrs. Rodriguez Valladares said she kept her children out of school the past two terms to keep them from being brainwashed.

Leal Cruz, who arrived with his wife and child, said—as did many others—that the great majority of the Cuban population is against Castro.

He was asked why there had been no uprising or trouble during the recent Cuban crisis.

"The police watch us constantly," his wife put in. "We couldn't move during the crisis."

MUST WAIT TO SEE MONA LISA

WASHINGTON (AP)—A public clamor—"let Mona Lisa out!"—failed today to release the Leonardo Da Vinci masterpiece from her art gallery prison.

U.S. and French officials insisted the young Florentine matron wait until Jan. 8 to make her American debut.

The 456-year-old portrait came here Dec. 19, on leave from the Paris Louvre, and was immediately locked up in an underground vault of the National Gallery of Art.

Word was passed that the French government, with its love for ceremony, wanted to delay her unveiling until members of the new Congress were in town. So on Jan. 8 President Kennedy, with all the required protocol, will introduce her to newsmen, do a public showing and open the next day and continue for three weeks.

Fairfield

FAIRFIELD — Mrs. Orlmer Spence and Mrs. Alice Musselman spent two weeks in Florida as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Cromwell, North Hollywood; Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Musselman, Jacksonville, and the Richards Musselmans, Orlando. Mrs. Musselman remained in Florida with her sons.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Murphy, son, Billie, and daughter, Dawn, of Eagle, Mich., have concluded a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Sanders, Mr. and Mrs. Lott Walker and daughter, Martha, and Gerald Eby, all of Carlisle, were dinner guests at the Sanders home on Christmas. Local dinner guests included Mr. and Mrs. Guy Sanders and family, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Sanders and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Sanders and family.

Airman James K. Sanders is spending a 15-day furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Sanders, after which he will return to Langley Air Force Base, Va. He recently returned from temporary duty at MacDill Air Force Base, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. Eston White, Mr. and Mrs. Richard White and daughters and Miss Helen McClellan attended the wedding of Miss Joyce Reynolds and Lieutenant Terry Dougherty, both of Lancaster, in the Advent Lutheran Church there on Wednesday, and the reception which followed, Miss McClellan was organist during the ceremony. Mrs. Dougherty is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Reynolds and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eston White.

Mrs. Blaine Waddle is confined at her home after receiving several cracked ribs from a fall recently.

These students are spending the holiday recess with their parents: Julie Ross, Millersville; James Ruth, West Chester; Donna Schultz, Shippensburg; Anne Carolyn Gembe, Polytechnic of Harrisburg, and Carol Reindollar, Susie Deardorff and Linda Harbaugh, of Mansfield.

Missionary Will Speak On Sunday

The Rev. Bill Warner, missionary to Grenada, the West Indies, will be guest speaker at the Gettysburg Bible Church Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. Mr. Warner is a graduate of Lancaster School of the Bible and is now residing in Hellam, York County. He acted as supply pastor of the Missionary Bible Church, Hanover, for nearly a year until a new pastor was recently called.

The Warners will go to Grenada, a small island southeast of Cuba, under the auspices of the Berean Mission whose headquarters is at St. Louis, Mo.

The public is invited to attend.

CALIFORNIANS TOOT INCREASE IN POPULATION

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — California, or some of its chambers of commerce, whopped it up today to celebrate the state's disputed claim to the biggest population in the nation.

New York, still No. 1 in the 1960 census, has challenged California's claim. Each state had an estimated population of 17.4 million this month.

California residents were urged by state officials and some chambers of commerce to give a four-day "California First" celebration a rousing sendoff with bells, cannons, auto horns and factory whistles.

Some chambers demurred, saying it smacked of Texas-style bragging. Dissenters noted that bigness had its problems, such as smog, congested freeways, crowded schools and high taxes.

Los Angeles, which probably has more to toot about than any other area, planned no special observance.

Some communities have already observed the state's emergence and others were celebrating today.

Pensinger presented immediate Past Master Bucher with a past master's jewel and apron, and congratulated him on having a "wonderful year." Bucher in turn thanked the lodge for its assistance and cooperation.

The invocation was given by Rev. Walter Waybright, Pines pastor, and the closing prayer was by Rev. Philip Bower, Cashtown.

No Landing Sites Yet For Returning Moonmen

By JOHN BARBOUR

WASHINGTON (AP) — It's a good thing there aren't American astronauts on the moon, waiting for instructions on where to land on earth.

There are a flock of imaginary landing fields abounding all over the U.S. Southwest, constructed of political pressure, guesswork and just plain wishing.

You can picture the homeward bound astronauts now. Heading for New Mexico, a new rumor makes them change course for Texas, and finally they land in Washington because they overshot another field in California.

NO LANDING SITE YET

This, of course, is absurd. They could have landed in Australia all along.

The fact is, no one has selected a landing site yet for the Apollo moonship or for the Gemini two-man spacecraft.

For the men of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration there is more concern with getting men into space than with the frenetic rumors of where they will come down again.

Some things about the landing site for Gemini's two-man spacecraft, equipped with various landing devices, can be said with some certainty.

TO USE PARAWING

D. Brainerd Holmes, director of manned space flight for NASA, explains that some early Gemini test flights may be aimed at water landings, although the spacecraft is being designed primarily to touch down on land.

It will use parachutes to break its fall, as does Mercury, and will put out a parawing so that it can be flown a little like a heavy glider. Its center of gravity actually will be off center, and by changing its attitude, this will enable it to aim itself better at a site on the earth's surface.

The parawing will allow it to come in for an airplane-like landing on skids which will be extended from ports on its body, like an airplane's landing gear.

LIMITS LANDING AREA

With a Titan rocket booster, Gemini will need all energy possible to get into its proper orbit. It will be shot from Cape Canaveral and, to get the added boost of the earth's rotation, will be aimed eastward. But this will limit its possible landing areas.

This means it will ride in a space belt around the earth, never higher than 30 degrees above the equator and never lower than 30 degrees below the equator. The amount of the United States within this area is puny.

West to east from the spacecraft's eye there is a mountainous corner of western Texas, then the southern tip of Texas from Houston south to the Rio Grande, then the swamps, bayous and beaches of southern Louisiana, then the peninsula of Florida.

Rick Nelson Will Wed Pretty Blonde

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Rick Nelson will marry pretty blonde Kristin Harmon, 18, the daughter of former football star Tom Harmon and actress Elyse Knox.

The Harmon announced the engagement at a family party Christmas eve. They said the wedding will be in the spring.

Harmon, now a sportscaster, was a star halfback with the University of Michigan and also played with the professional Los Angeles Rams.

Nelson, 22, is one of the stars in his family's television comedy series, "The Adventures of Ozzie and Harriet."

PLAN HEARINGS ON CHANGES IN WELFARE SETUP

HARRISBURG (AP)—The State and Local Welfare Commission plans three days of public hearings next month to discuss proposed reorganization of Pennsylvania's public welfare system.

Stanley J. Brody, executive secretary of the commission, said Wednesday the hearings will be held Jan. 21 in Pittsburgh, Jan. 22 in Harrisburg and Jan. 23 in Philadelphia.

The commission was created by an act of the 1961 legislature to formulate a plan for the proper division of public welfare responsibilities and functions between the state and counties and the proper organization of public welfare services in the counties.

It already has recommended that a public welfare department be established in each county. These county agencies would be responsible for developing and coordinating all the various public welfare services.

The role of the state, then would become one of planning, leadership and research. Regional directors would relieve the state of most of the burden of supervision.

Brody said it is the intent of the commission that a regional office be located within easy reach of every county agency.

The exact number of regions proposed has not been fixed, he said, but estimates range from five to 11.

The commission proposes that each county levy a tax equal to seven-tenths of one mill of its property value to pay for the cost of its welfare services.

The state would pay for the excess costs on sliding scale based on the number of people within the county on public assistance.

Brody estimated this would cost the state between $12 million and $30 million a year beyond the present public welfare budget.

The range accounts for possible increased federal aid and for the possibility that uniform standards of institutional care may reduce the cost of free care.

The commission will draw up its final program after the January hearings.

3 YOUNGSTERS FALL 500 FEET TO THEIR DEATH

OGDEN, Utah (AP) — It was cold but the sun was shining and the air fresh when three youngsters set out on a hike in Waterfall Canyon, a favorite playground in this northern Utah city.

Dr. Paul Southwick said his daughter, Shauna, 9, and her friends, Mark Way, 9, and Bonnie Ross, 8, didn't say how far they were going when they got parental approval of their venture.

The children left home about 3 p.m. Wednesday. They had been told not to stay away too long. At dusk, the parents and neighbors searched the foothills, then the twisting trail that leads to the top of the canyon and its waterfall.

A 7:35 p.m., with the temperature a few degrees above zero and dropping, Dr. Southwick called officers. A jeep posse and a mountain rescue unit joined the search.

Two and a half hours later, the broken bodies of the children were found at the base of the 500-foot cliff.

Mark and Bonnie were dead. Shauna died enroute to a hospital. There is little water at the canyon summit this time of year but there is enough seepage to put a glaze of ice on the cliff.

Chinese Seeking Red Leadership

WASHINGTON (AP)—Assistant Secretary of State W. Averell Harriman says Communist China is bidding openly to take over the leadership of the world Communist movement from the Soviet Union.

Differences between the two will grow as the fight for leadership is waged, Harriman said Wednesday in an interview. "Which one will gain is anyone's guess," he added.

Harriman, a former ambassador to Moscow, is President Kennedy's top adviser on Far Eastern affairs.

MISSING MAN SURRENDERS AS WITNESS

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—John J. Fitzpatrick, former sergeant-at-arms of city council, sought for several weeks as a witness for the grand jury investigation of city hall, surrendered to the police today.

Fitzpatrick appeared at a police station and told Sgt. James Dolan, "I'm the Fitzpatrick everybody's been looking for. I've come to give myself up."

Dist. Atty. James C. Crumlish Jr. immediately sent Francis Lederer, chief of county detectives, to question Fitzpatrick.

WAS ACQUITTED

The grand jury is investigating several aspects of city government, including zoning changes. Earlier this year Fitzpatrick was acquitted of trying to influence a zoning change.

In another development, Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., turned down a request to testify before the grand jury.

Crumlish disclosed that Scott turned down the request on the ground "that he has no first hand information to offer than that which has been given by other witnesses already." Crumlish said he assumed the other witnesses referred to were Philadelphia Republican Alliance leaders.

REMATCH FOR CHAMP, FLOYD SEEN POSSIBLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Despite strong opposition, a rematch for the heavyweight championship between titleholder Sonny Liston and former crown-wearer Floyd Patterson loomed today as a distinct possibility following a somewhat clandestine meeting between representatives of the two camps.

Promoter Tom Bolan, president of Championship Sports Inc., revealed Thursday he is discussing a rematch with Patterson; Jack Nilon, Liston's adviser; Nilon's attorney, and Patterson's attorney.

The Thursday night meeting was held at Nilon's New York residence. Before the closed-door session, Nilon said either Baltimore or Las Vegas was the likely site but reminded that Patterson would call the shot for a March or April fight.

TWO BIG HURDLES

"I hope," said Bolan, "we'll be able to iron out an agreement and reduce it to writing for a contract. I don't think we'll be able to do it all in one night."

What about the two main items standing in the way of the proposed rematch—Liston's purse from the first fight and the opposition of World Boxing Association officials?

"Liston will get the money (more than $200,000) before he fights," said Bolan's brother, Al, who is charged with inspection of sites for the rematch.

MAY MEAN SUSPENSION

Tom Bolan said he wasn't concerned about the statements made by WBA officials, who have publicly stated that Patterson should meet one of the other challengers before fighting Liston again. Both Maryland and Nevada are members of the WBA.

Emile Bruneau, WBA championship committee chairman, said Monday his committee would recommend the automatic suspension from the WBA of any state or country that accepted a Liston-Patterson rematch at this time.

In their first fight, Liston knocked out Patterson in 2 minutes, 6 seconds of the first round at Chicago, Sept. 25.

3 PA. NEGROES ON SCRANTON'S PROSPECT LIST

HARRISBURG (AP)—Three Negroes were reported under consideration today by Gov.-elect William W. Scranton for one of his four unfilled cabinet posts.

The three are William R. Atkins, 37, of Rutherford Heights; William P. Young, 61, of Pittsburgh, and William D. Johnson, 36, of Stroudsburg.

The report came following an hour-long meeting Thursday between the governor-elect and a dozen Negro political leaders at Scranton's temporary headquarters in Harrisburg.

PLAYED KEY ROLES

All the Negroes played key roles in Scranton's landslide triumph over Democrat Richardson Dilworth.

The four posts still to be filled are state police commissioner, secretary of banking, secretary of property and supplies and secretary of labor and industry.

One of the posts, secretary of property and supplies, is occupied by a Negro now—Andrew J. Bradley, an appointee of Gov. Lawrence.

But, the Negro leaders meeting with Scranton said they would endorse any one of the three names mentioned for any of the four cabinet posts still open.

Later, Scranton was asked whether any of the three men met the standard of qualifications which he has applied to all prospective cabinet appointees.

"They do," he answered, but refused to elaborate.

Scranton has said he will appoint a Negro to his cabinet if the man is qualified, but he denied flatly promising to appoint a Negro.

GIVE BACKGROUNDS

Atkins, a Harrisburg real estate man, was with the State Board of Arbitration for claims under Republication Auditor General Charles Smith, but was fired shortly after the Democrats took over in 1961. He is a native of Pittsburgh and a law school graduate.

Johnson is a councilor director of the Pennsylvania State Chamber of Commerce and immediate past president of the chamber.

Young, a native of Orange, N. J., works in the personnel department of the Lockhart Iron and Steel Co. and was an unsuccessful candidate twice for city council in Pittsburgh.

Delone Freshmen Win Opener 37-30

Delone Catholic High's Freshman basketball team opened its season Thursday by downing Spring Grove Junior High 37-30 on the latter's floor.

The Squires jumped off to a 15-5 lead in the first period and were on top the rest of the way. George Emig and Jim Staub carried the brunt of the attack for Delone with 14 and 12 points.

The Spring Grove reserves topped Annunciation of McSherrystown 39-18 in a preliminary game.

CANNERS BOW TO ALUMNI CAGERS 51-39

The Biglerville High School Alumni, displaying some fine shooting despite rustiness, led practically the entire way in defeating the Cannery varsity 51-39 in the annual game Thursday evening.

Off to a good start, the Alumni held a four to six-point advantage throughout. At half time the Alumni was on top 24-18 but in the third period the Canners spurred to splash the lead to 36-33. A strong finish gave the stars of yesterday the decision.

Bill Sanni, Wayne Lochbaum and Shaffer all scored in double figures for the winners with 15, 12 and 11 points, respectively. Dick Dull was high man for the varsity with 13.

In a close preliminary game the Alumnae girls rallied in the final period to take an 18-16 decision.

Biglerville's boys, now 3-3, will next meet Big Spring in an important Blue Mountain League game at Biglerville on January 8.

Scranton Meets With Dr. Boehm

HARRISBURG (AP)—Gov.-elect William W. Scranton met briefly with state school superintendent Charles H. Boehm Thursday but only to discuss general operation of the Department of Public Instruction.

William Kieseling, special assistant to Scranton, said there was no mention at all about speculation that the new governor might ask Boehm to resign, clearing the way for a chief school administrator of his own choice.

Boehm, a Republican, was appointed to the school superintendent post by Gov. Lawrence in September, 1960. Under the state constitution, Boehm can remain at the job until September, 1964, no matter what.

Kieseling said Boehm and Scranton had a "general discussion about the various program in the department of public instruction." The conference lasted about 20 minutes.

Korean Journalists Visit Harrisburg

HARRISBURG (AP)—Five Korean journalists were in Harrisburg today for a first-hand look at operations of the Pennsylvania Department of Commerce.

The trip is part of a tour sponsored by the Korean newspaper editors association to familiarize the men—all economic writers—with American methods of urban redevelopment and planning.

Included on today's schedule were visits with Gov. David L. Lawrence, and his secretary of administration, Dr. David Kurtzman, and J. Eric Jones, deputy secretary of commerce.

The one-day visit is to end with a tour of the Harrisburg redevelopment areas. The group also is scheduled to visit India, Pakistan, Japan, Israel and Belgium later.

Boston's Carl Yastrzemski hit into 27 double plays last season, top figure in the American League.

STROUSE TOP FOUL TOSSE IN MAC LOOP

LaSalle, leading candidate for the Middle Atlantic Conference's university division basketball crown, dominates this week's division statistics.

The efforts of the George Sutor-Frank Corace duo have boosted the Explorers into the lead in scoring, with an average of 95 points a game, and have helped LaSalle gain a second place ranking in team offense, behind Temple.

Temple has held opponents to 44.5 points a game, while LaSalle has given up 49.3 points a contest.

Sutor tops the list of division scorers, accounting for an average of 21.3 points a game in three conference games. Gettysburg's George Strouse is second with a 20.5-point average, Muhlenberg's Roger Stuhmiller third with a 17-point average and Corace fourth with a 15.7-point average.

Corace leads in field goal percentage, connecting on 19 of 30 shots for a percentage of .633. Sutor is second in this category, sinking 27 of 46 for a .587 percentage.

Gettysburg's Strouse heads the division in free throw accuracy, tossing in 11 of 12 shots for a .917 percentage. Corace is second with .900.

Stuhmiller of Muhlenberg heads the rebounding ranks with 14 to his credit in his single MAC game to date. Sutor reappears here also, ranking second with an average of 13.3 rebounds a game.

ST. FRANCIS IN TOURNEY TILT TONIGHT

The St. Francis Xavier School basketball team will resume play tonight when it enters the St. Vincent's invitation tournament at Hanover, meeting Blessed Sacrament of Harrisburg in the fourth game of this evening's program.

Opening round games this evening will be as follows: 6 p.m., Annunciation of McSherrystown vs. St. Patrick's of York; 7 p.m., St. Vincent's vs. St. Mary's of York; 8 p.m., St. Joseph's of Hanover vs. St. James of Steelton, and 9 p.m., St. Francis vs. Blessed Sacrament.

Semifinal games will be played Saturday evening at 7 and 8 o'clock with the title game Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, preceded by a consolation game at 2.

Coach Ron McClellan's St. Francis Raiders, who have as yet to crash the win column, will face a rugged opponent in the Harrisburg outfit. He has announced his regular starting group will take the floor, including John Flynn and Ron Staub, forwards; Dan Brown, center; and Phil Wisotzkey and Mike Baker, guards.

It is hoped a large delegation of local fans will attend to help make the new tournament a success.

Syracuse Wallops Knicks 128-92

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Nats could do no wrong and the Knicks could do nothing right. The combination produced a whopping 128-92 Syracuse victory over New York in the windup game of a National Basketball Association doubleheader Thursday night at Syracuse after the Nats had led by as much as 45 points.

Boston edged San Francisco 108-102 in the first game, the only other game scheduled.

Syracuse exploded for 43 points while New York was getting only 12 in the third quarter to make a rout of the feature game before the largest NBA crowd in Syracuse history, 8,963.

Alumni And Warriors Will Clash Tonight

Four area scholastic basketball games highlight the sports program tonight.

Unbeaten Gettysburg High School opposes the Alumni at 7:30 and George Fair, manager of the Alumni, has asked his squad of 29 eligibles to report at the new senior high school gymnasium at 7 o'clock with their own equipment.

In other games Fairfield also opposes the Alumni; Bermudian Springs is host to Quincy to make up a postponed Adams-Franklin League game, and Spring Grove tangles with Delone Catholic at McSherrystown.

Mt. St. Mary's College goes after the championship of the New York Athletic Club invitation tournament this evening when it clashes with the host NYAC dribblers.

Biglerville High's wrestling squad will take part in the Northern invitation meet at Dillsburg, preliminaries for which get underway at 7 o'clock. Eight schools will participate.

AUSTRALIANS' CUP CAREERS END ON WINS

By WILL GRIMSLEY
BRISBANE, Australia (AP)—Neale Fraser and Rod Laver, two of the latest in Australia's long line of tennis champions, closed out their Davis Cup careers with victories today which gave Australia a 5-0 sweep over Mexico in the 1962 challenge round.

It was the last big time match as an amateur for both.

Fraser, 29, limping and leg weary, put on a tremendous fighting exhibition for a 3-6, 11-9, 6-1, 3-6, 6-4 triumph over Mexico's No. 1 ace, Rafael Osuna, in a marathon match which lasted two hours, 45 minutes.

10 YEARS OF IT
The handsome Melbourne left-hander, who won Wimbledon in 1960 and the U.S. championship in 1959 and 1960 announced it was the swan song of his long competitive career.

"I have been traveling around the world playing tennis for 10 years," he said. "I have had it."

Then Laver, winner of every major tournament during the past year in a grand slam paralleling that of Don Budge in 1938, turned back talented Antonio Palafox, 6-1, 4-6, 6-4, 8-6.

With the same deft left hand which carried him to a world pinnacle in amateur tennis, Laver Saturday is expected to sign a $110,000 contract for a professional career.

GROOM ADMITS STARTING FIRE AT RACE TRACK

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—A 21-year-old groom was in a psychiatric ward today after police said he admitted starting a fire that killed 19 horses and caused the death of another groom at Buffalo Raceway.

Police quoted George F. Briggs of Mansfield, Mass., as saying an "irrepressible urge" prompted him to touch off the blaze Wednesday night in loose stable straw. Total damage was estimated at $110,000.

Police said Briggs was also being questioned about a fire last New Year's Eve at the raceway, another Oct. 14 at Batavia Downs and a third at Suffolk Downs in East Boston, Mass., last month. Briggs had worked at all three tracks, they said.

OTHER TRACK FIRES

A groom and 48 horses were killed in the two other Western New York track fires. Damage totalled more than $650,000.

In Wednesday night's fire, Robert Wimberly, a 53-year-old groom from Philadelphia, suffered a heart attack while leading a horse from a burning barn. He died en route to a hospital.

The fire-damaged barn housed about 80 horses.

Briggs was charged Thursday with second-degree arson and ordered to Meyer Memorial Hospital for mental examination. Police said an unidentified caller reported that Briggs was seen entering the barn shortly before the fire.

NATION'S TOP SCORING TEAM WINNER AGAIN

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

First it was James Naismith and a peach basket. Now it's Paul Marchalls and a squashed basket. And between the inventor and the innovator, Loyola of Chicago has turned a matter of inches into a huge advantage.

On the road, with the holiday tournament scramble Thursday, some favorites felt like Santa climbing down the chimney—not much room to spare—but it was a different story for the powerful Ramblers.

The nation's highest scoring basketball team, undefeated and third-ranked, raced to an 81-62 victory over Arkansas in the first round of the All-College Tournament at Oklahoma City. It was the eighth victory for the Ramblers and another triumph for Marchalls and the squashed basket.

IMPROVED SHOOTING

Loyola Coach George Ireland stumbled upon the Pierre, S.D., innovator two years ago. Marchalls had tampered slightly with the game Naismith invented and took the liberty of trimming the standard 18-inch rim to 15. The Ramblers used it prior to the season in six weeks of practice.

"I don't know where he makes these things," says Ireland, maybe in his basement, but I liked the idea right off. It has made us a better shooting team."

That's the way the hot-shooting Ramblers felt as they moved into tonight's semifinals of the All-College—the oldest holiday tournament in the country, but only one of a host of major college extravaganzas holding the spotlight on the nation's basketball courts.

RUNDOWN ON RESULTS

Here's a capsule rundown on the other results:
All-College—Memphis State advanced with Loyola, beating Toledo 76-71.
Los Angeles Classic—Colorado State U. outclassed Northwestern 75-59 and qualified for Saturday night's final along with UCLA, which topped St. Louis, 85-66.

Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, Fla.—Unbeaten Georgia Tech edged Virginia Tech 73-72 in overtime and Florida defeated Rice 66-57 to set up tonight's final.

CORNELL CRUSHED

Hurricane Classic at Miami—Unbeaten Miami crushed Cornell 94-74 and will take on Pitt, 96-73, conqueror of LSU, in tonight's windup.

Queen City at Buffalo, N.Y.—Sixth-ranked Arizona State squeezed by Rhode Island 89-83 and Canisius belted South Carolina 85-72.

Big Eight at Kansas City—Oklahoma State nipped Oklahoma 49-48 and Kansas State walloped Missouri 61-43 to complete the first round.

Far West Portland, Ore.—California outlasted Seattle 85-77 in overtime and Oregon State handed Idaho its first defeat 80-53 to complete the first round.

OHIO STATE WINS

West Coast at San Francisco—St. Mary's whipped Los Angeles Loyola 83-71 and San Francisco beat Portland 56-50 to complete the first round.

Gulf South at Shreveport, La.—Eastern Kentucky edged TCU 69-65 and Southern Mississippi beat Northwestern Louisiana 85-71 to complete the first round.

Still in the spotlight, but outside the tournament limelight, two of the top ten elite came through with victories. Second-ranked Ohio State, getting 24 points from Gary Bradds, had to battle all the way to subdue stubborn Butler 66-62, but fifth-ranked Kentucky had no such problem with Dartmouth, winning 95-49.

NITTANY LIONS PICKED TO WIN

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—With one eye on the weather, football coaches Rip Engle and Ray Graves put the last bit of polish on their teams today for the Gator Bowl game Saturday.

Engle's Penn State Nittany Lions are favored by a touchdown or a little more to dump Graves' Florida Gators in this meeting of the 1960 and 1961 Gator Bowl champs.

Penn State, winner over Georgia Tech 30-15 in last year's Gator Bowl game, went on to a near-perfect season and a return trip to Jacksonville. The Lions lost only to Army—a 9-6 upset in which two apparent Penn State touchdowns were called back because of penalties.

Florida, since beating Baylor 13-12 in the Gator Bowl game of 1960, has had to struggle to make another bowl date—and this one came chiefly through default when Georgia Tech decided against a replay of last year and Duke decided to stay home for the holidays.

So the Florida Gators are here with a something less than a .605 mark. Harmon Killebrew of the Twins was second with .545.

to 4 inches was spread over the county, the plow crews reported, with little more snow in the mountains than fell in the lower parts of the county.
Town's "Sno-Loader" Gets First Test: With the weather-man sending a belated "White Christmas" to Gettysburg today, the borough had its first opportunity of the season to try out the new "sno-loader" purchased recently by action of council.
The machine, pushed behind a borough truck, was first put into use on Baltimore street this morning to pick up the snow pushed to the sides of the street by plows.
The principal drawback to the operation of the snowloader this morning was the delay caused by parked automobiles. Borough employees several times were forced to stop and wait until cars were moved before they could proceed with the cleaning of snow from the gutters.
Borough Engineer LeRoy H.
Winebrenner said today that he would recommend to the borough council at its January meeting the adoption of an ordinance prohibiting the parking of cars and trucks in the metered district of the town after a snow until the snowloader has removed the snow.
Dr. John Ostrom Wins Promotion At Wittenberg: Dr. John W.
Ostrom, former instructor at Gettysburg college and son-in-law of Burgess C. A. Heiges, Buford avenue, has been named acting head of the English department at Wittenberg college, Springfield, Ohio, according to news reports from that city.
He succeeds Dr. Gilbert P.
Voight, who resigned due to ill health. Doctor Ostrom, an authority on Edgar Allan Poe, has been a professor of English at Wittenberg since September. He taught at The Citadel in Charleston, S.
C., where he was assistant professor of English; Gettysburg college, Augustana college at Rock Island, Ill., and the University of Virginia before going to Wittenberg.
Author of a two-volume work,
"The Letters of Edgar Allan Poe," which is to be published by the Harvard University Press. Doctor
Ostrom received his Ph.D. degree from the University of Virginia last June.
Rotarians Mark Birthdays of Ten: Birthdays of ten Rotarians were noted Monday evening at the regular session of Rotary at the YWCA.
Dr. Roy W. Gifford, chairman of the birthday committee, listed members Kenneth L. Smoke, Samuel G. Spangler, C. A. Bixler, Dr.
Frederick Tibberg, P. Ward Stall-smith, Stephen Bolland, Cameron
Hoffman, Walter Lane, Cameron
Roud and Mares Sherman as having observed birthdays during the past two months.
Old Gun Club Site is Leased
By Sportsmen: The recently or-Association announced today, following a special meeting Monday evening, that the former Gettysburg Rod and Gun club property south of the Gettysburg high school has been leased by them.
The building there will be remodeled to serve as a clubhouse and as a regular meeting place for the association.

Today's Talk
OTHER LIVES
I recall meeting two new interesting men — each famous in his own right. One was a writer, the other an etcher. Each opened doors to me. I walked in. And I opened as many doors as I thought each would like to walk through — and so there we talked at luncheon, and then to my office, where a little feast upon books and art was had!
And now, as I put down the reflections of these talks, and reflect upon the companionship, the feeling is brought to me that we keep living in other lives. We keep entering secret chambers and, every once in a while, something new and precious is opened up to us that has never been opened up to anyone else.
We are very undeveloped creatures at best. There is a lingering hunger within us all. And each of us has stores of mental and spiritual food that we fain would reserve for others — bits of love and beauty that seem too deep in value for our own consumption.
Every one we meet should take something of each of us away with him or her — likewise, we should dip into other lives and take from their storehouse, which is so freely offered to us.
The healthy life is the giving life.
Every human being is a composite life. The finest man or woman is that one who has touched the most people, gathering the most from the stores of all life and nature.
We all miss out on our new friends. We expect something from them at once, whereas we should be thrilled with the opportunity of offering something to them, thus cementing a relationship full of promise and possible joy.
No matter how insignificant our little life may seem to us, particles from it may be spread far and wide. We are all the time absorbing, unconsciously, from others, and others are absorbing from us. Every great life is a meshing of hundreds of other lives.
The American Latin phrase is "E pluribus unum" — out of many, one — whereas our lives might read — out of one, many!

Just Folks
IN A PAWN SHOP
The man who runs the pawn shop said:
"On this I can't afford to lend,
The stuff is just as cheap as lead.
I'm sorry, but good day, my friend."
"I thought it gold," the man replied,
The broker slowly shook his head.
"Most people when they're trouble-ried
Learn what they thought was gold is lead."
"That's how it goes! In times of doubt
When want begins and plenty ends,
We get the startling truth about Our glittering trinkets—and our friends."

Home is Burned In Mountains:
Fire Monday afternoon destroyed the home of Mr. and Mrs. John West, near Graefenburg Inn, along the Lincoln highway causing damage estimated at $5,000.
The fire broke out in the West home as Mrs. West was seated in the living room, holding the younger of her two children, Donna Rae, four months old. Hearing a noise on the back porch,
Mrs. West found a 50-gallon kerosene drum in flames. Fuel from the tank was supplied to a cooking stove in the kitchen and a heating stove in the living room through tubing.
Mrs. West carried her daughter to safety and summoned help.
Fanned by winds, the flames swept through the five-room frame house and destroyed the building and practically all the contents, including the family's clothing.
The husband was at his employment at the shops of the Chambersburg Engineering Co., and Robert West, aged six, was at school in Buchanan Valley.
Uses Found For Old Christmas Trees: Make arrangements now with your friends and neighbors to get their Christmas trees when they are ready to discard them. There is no better winter protection for plants which retain some top growth, though it may have turned brown or gray.
A few branches are all that are needed to shade the soil surface effectively and to reduce alternate thawing and freezing to a minimum. Evergreen branches are also ideal for covering bulb beds. They look neat and are easily removed when spring temperatures arrive.

ARKANSAS CITY SLIPPING BACK INTO HISTORY
By J. C. TILLMAN
Page by page, this southeastern Arkansas community is slipping itself back into history—back into the busy, bustling Mississippi River port it was half a century ago.
The old sternwheelers that once plied up at its wharves are gone forever. Stacks of timber and bales of cotton will never line wharves that aren't there any more.
But if plans are carried out, the remainder of the town will be just as it was in the 1875-1925 period.
WOULD LURE TOURISTS
The citizens' do-it-yourself rejuvenation of the town into a reproduction of its own heyday is expedited to attract a commodity perhaps as valuable as the cotton and timber upon which it once thrived—the tourist.
At the turn of the century, Arkansas City was a growing Mississippi River port with a population of 10,000.
The optimism existed from 1873, when the little port was founded, until over a quarter of the 20th century was gone.
FLOOD IN 1927
In 1927, the Mississippi sent its waters roaring into the community to depths of 18 feet.
There was death and there was destruction. But there was hope, even as the waters receded.
Hope began to end when the fickle Mississippi kept on receding, backing farther and farther away to settle in a channel she had cut three miles away.
Arkansas City was left high, if not dry.
RESTORATION PLAN
Since that year, virtually nothing new has come to the town—no railroads, no highways, no industry and few residents.
The appearance of the town has changed little in the past years.
And in this lies the renewed hope of those who were born in the community and do not want to see it added to the list of he dying.
The plan is simply to restore, year by year, each historic building, eventually turning the town into a facsimile of the port they remember.
John Settle, Seven Stars, dis-closes that he helped in the search for the B-29 crew that was forced down in the sub-Arctic north of Nome on December 24.
The letter, written that day, said he had 12 hours of flying over Alaska ahead of him as a member of the crew of one of six planes sent from Fairbanks to aid in the search. His commanding officer, Plank wrote, promised the searchers their Christmas turkey upon their return.
James B. Aumen Resigns From Probation Post: James B. Aumen has resigned his position as county probation officer. Judge W. C.
Sheely announced today in expressing regret that it has been necessary for Mr. Aumen to end the work he had been doing for the past eight years.
Ill health was given by Mr.
Aumen as the reason for his re-signment which he set for the first Monday in January. However he was persuaded to continue his duties at least until February so that a new probation officer can be prepared to take over, Judge Sheely said.
Mr. Aumen, secretary of the local Eagles for many years, has been president of the local fire company for more than a decade and has been active as an officer and member in county and state firemen's organizations.

PRETEEN COMPLEXIONS. A lovely mother asks: What is the correct skin-care method for a preteen? My 12-year-old daughter has a good skin and I would like to keep it that way—to prevent the blemishes that trouble so many teen-age girls.
The answer: Scrupulous cleanliness is the first hope of a pre-teen.

teen for untroubled skin later on.
Cleanliness means oceans of mild soap and water, but absolutely no scrubbing.
The face should be treated to at least three sudsings daily and well-rinsed with tepid water. The best way to lather up is with the fingertips. Effective rinses come from cupping the hands and splashing on cool water until the fingers drag, rather than slip on the skin. Thereafter the face should be blotted dry with a clean towel.
The second safeguard is the application of a mild, antiseptic lotion at bedtime. Baby lotion is excellent for the purpose. But should the skin show signs of developing oiliness, a corrective lotion would be in order. Many such products are formulated, especially for young skins, of ingredients that help to control oil and inflammatory bacteria.
As the condition of the scalp often affects the complexion, a careful watch should be kept on its health. Dietary habits are still another factor. Overages of sweets and fats are thought to have a close relation with skin disturbances.
But since eruption is triggered by glandular changes, none of those measures guarantees immunity. Their action is one of amelioration.

Wednesday.
They found Mr. and Mrs. Mel-

TWELVE MAJOR FILMS OF YEAR
By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—It was a good year for going to the movies, even if 1962 didn't produce any film that seemed to be an enduring classic.
The general run of Hollywood film provided entertainment of a wide variety. There was less dwelling on the sordid, although the year did bring "Lolita" and "A Walk on the Wild Side." Movie makers found out that sex and shock didn't necessarily guarantee box office.
Here are the dozen American-made movies that seemed to this movie fan the most meritorious of 1962:
1. "Lawrence of Arabia." Too long and sometimes diffuse, it was nevertheless a monumental achievement in the use of the film medium.
CLOSE TO HEART
2. "To Kill a Mockingbird." A modest lesson in human dignity, it got closer to the heart than any recent movie.
3. "Long Day's Journey in Night." Terrifically acted, this filmed stage play was a potent and demanding experience.
4. "Billy Budd." An effective parable of good vs. evil, it was notable for the angelic performance of Terence Stamp.
5. "The Longest Day." Almost as good as the original cast.
6. "Miracle Worker." A beautifully acted duet between Anne Bancroft and Patty Duke.
7. "Music Man." A bit over-produced, it was still a miraculous musical, thanks in large part to the driving performance of Robert Preston.
OTHER FILMS
8. "Mutiny on the Bounty." It made up in beauty and size for what it lacked in dramatic impact.

9. "Freud." A remarkable intellectual experience, it was a brave and successful attempt at plumbing the hidden reaches of the mind.
10. "Counterfeit Trailor." Here was high adventure at its best, a drama that moved fast yet managed to be moving.
11. "Manchurian Candidate." Its audacious science-fiction plot was not to be taken seriously; it could be enjoyed as a suspense film ranking with the best of Hitchcock.
12. "Birdman of Alcatraz." It managed to take a difficult theme and turn it into engrossing drama.
Other films were notable for startlingly good performances, though the entire productions left something to be desired.
The year's worse: "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse."

Special guards in Tokyo subway stations have the job of shoving riders into the jam-packed cars.

New Year Has Reasons For Renewed Hope

By REV. C. REYNOLDS SIMMONS JR.
Pastor, Church of the Brethren

TEXT: "A land which the Lord your God cares for; the eyes of the Lord your God are always upon it, from the beginning of the year to the end of the year" — Deuteronomy 11:12.

Christmas for 1962 is history, and we are approaching an uncharted new year. All of us should have some pleasant memories about the past year, and some of us may have regrets about our mistakes and unfinished work. But we need to turn our faces towards the future knowing that there are reasons for renewed hope and living.

The first very evident fact to all of us is: Time flies! A prospective fountain pen purchaser wrote on the pad, "Tempus fugit." The sales girl read what he had written and remarked, helpfully, "Perhaps you'd like to try this one, Mr. Fugit!" Whatever fountain pen Mr. Fugit uses, time does fly. Its swift flight is brought home as this present year moves into a new year within days. Because we are human, we are curious about tomorrow. What will the terrain be like? What will befall us and our world in the year ahead? Here the ancient description of the new world into which the Israelites were moving "furnishes spiritual clues for modern Christian pilgrims."

Change will meet us. The snow-balling changes of the past few years will be increasing in the months ahead. New responsibilities and new possibilities for good or evil await us. In the coming weeks and months it will be "a land of hills and valleys" (Deut. 11:11). Ascent and descent, aspiration and low levels, climbing and plodding will be on the route. Explorations in space and technical changes on earth will force all of us to widen our horizons. They will mean a change in work and place of dwelling for many families. This will be a new territory and an untraveled, even uncharted for many changes, territory for many people all over our world.

For the traveler who trusts the Lord of the encircling years, it will be a journey guided and guarded by infinite wisdom and love: "A land which the Lord your God cares for" (v. 12 above). We may fail and falter, retreat and weaken. He will never fail, nor will His divine providence grow weary: "The eyes of the Lord your God are always upon it" and, our Lord Jesus would add, upon you and all His children from the beginning of the year to the end of the year. Seedtime and harvest, winter and summer, day and night, will continue. Moreover, His everlasting arms are beneath us to give us support, for the sunshine and rain shall continue to fall upon the just and unjust until time is no more.

There is no place in all creation that one could go but what God's watch-care, His unceasing concern, regardless of our deserving will follow us, and He Whose eyes are on the sparrow watches His own children employing love's strategy to bring the best out of them as well as to bring the best to them. Yes, our hope is in the Lord God "who made heaven and earth." His eyes are upon us, and His spirit will guide us in the year ahead if we will accept Him as our Pilot and Guide.

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Fidel Castro has set a ransom price of $5 million worth of food for six of his most prominent political prisoners, a group of exiled Cuban newsmen reports.

The group calling itself the Syndicate of Free Newsmen of Cuba, said in a statement Wednesday night that Castro sent agents here who made the offer to exiles,

WHITE NEW YEAR

Each new year is like a new-fallen snow — unmarked until errant footsteps destroy its gleaming splendor. But short-lived is that spell of peace and perfection. Soon the newness is trampled out, the same old trails show themselves again.

Tearing the last page off the calendar can change the year. But, it cannot change the MAN. We'll make of each new year just what we have made of the old ones — unless we direct our lives anew toward God and neighbor, unless we re-evaluate destiny and self.

In this New Year don't expect a blanket of perfection to hide the old failures. But seek the better Way. The Church helps men discover new trails . . . and follow them with new hope . . . to a new vision of life.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Carlisle Man Was Last Soldier To Win Medal Of Honor In World War II

The last Army Medal of Honor presented for action in World War II went to a Pennsylvania soldier who displayed such heroism in the face of death that it cost him his life.

Staff Sergeant John W. Minick, of Carlisle, displayed such a marked degree of courage that he was posthumously awarded the 292nd and last Army Medal of Honor presented in World War II.

The Medal of Honor is the highest military award for bravery that can be given to any individual in the United States of America. It is won by a deed of personal bravery or self-sacrifice, above and beyond the call of duty, in actual combat with an enemy of the nation while serving as a member of the American Armed Forces.

WORKED IN CARLISLE
Sergeant Minick was born in the small town of Wall, Pa., near Pittsburgh, the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Minick.

Prior to World War II he married a Carlisle girl while employed at the Frog Switch and Manufacturing Company in Carlisle. Later, he worked in a steel mill at Carnegie, Pa. He enlisted in the service on August 9, 1943, at what is now the New Cumberland Army Depot. A little over a year later, he gave his life for his country.

Company I of the 121st Infantry, 8th Infantry Division was moving through Hurtgen Forest in Germany on November 21, 1944, when the first platoon, which was in an attack position, hit a minefield and halted. To remain halted was not good. Heavy concentrations of enemy artillery and mortar fire had been trained on the halted troops. It was essential to get through the minefield and continue with the attack.

"FOLLOW OLD MINICK"
Staff Sergeant Minick of the second platoon went to the head of the assault column and discovered the reason for the delay.

He took a firm grip on the Thompson submachine gun and said, "Just follow old Minick, and if I stop, you'd better stop."

Four other volunteers started out with him. Working their way through a mass of debris and brbed wire, they advanced 300 yards.

An enemy machine gun started chattering. Minick signalled to his four followers to take cover. He himself advanced standing up to the left of the machine gun position and opened fire on it. Two Germans near the machine gun fell dead. Three others threw down their weapons and raised their hands in surrender.

20 GERMANS FALL
Now Minick had guides. He forced the Germans toward their own lines, making them show him the way through the minefields.

All this was in heavily wooded country, with visibility less than 15 yards to front or sides. The platoon followed him, working toward the right flank of the Germans. Minick, still in advance, stumbled upon a strong security post of the enemy and promptly opened fire again.

Twenty Germans fell dead as his machine gun sprayed the post. Twenty others put up their hands. His platoon rushed in behind him, taking over the prisoners, and Minick went on, still in advance. His action had broken down the entire portion of the German position.

NEAR COMMAND POST
He was within 30 yards of the enemy battalion command post when he stepped on a "Bouncing Betty" mine. He was killed instantly.

His company commander, Capt. Jack R. Melton, later reported, "Sgt. Minick had an uncanny ability to pick up enemy fire by sound, as there was no muzzle blast to give the machine gun position away."

He had a reputation for gallantry. Before his final deed he had won the Silver Star and Bronze Star.

"There is no doubt in my mind whatsoever that the actions of Sergeant Minick in that attack saved the entire company from complete annihilation. Only by his aggressive action were we able to get two-thirds of Company I into German dugouts," said Captain Melton.

6 T/S'S HONORED
The Medal of Honor was World War II's scarcest as well as most democratic decoration. Only 292 men won it, out of the more than 10 million in the Army. Yet it was won by as many T/S's as it was by generals . . . six in each group. Nine corporals won it, and so did nine majors. The first lieutenants with 31 trailed the staff sergeants with 39. And the privates accounted for 79.

Most of the awards went to men killed in action like Sgt. Minick. There is no rank in honor—or in death.

General Omar Bradley, acting for the President of the United States, presented the Medal of Honor to Sgt. Minick's widow on November 18, 1948. Sgt. Minick was buried in Westminster Cemetery in Carlisle on May 18, 1949.

Sentimental Souls, Some Eccentrics Appeal To U.N.

By TOM HOGE
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — One U.N. admirer informed the secretary-general that he would like to get married in the General Assembly hall.
Another thought it would be nice if his wife could give birth to her baby in the headquarters building. A third wrote that when his time came, he wished to be buried in the U.N. rose garden. Among the thousands of communications the U.N. receives each year from crowned heads, chiefs of state and tribal leaders is a scattering of such requests by sentimental souls and eccentrics.

POLITE BUT FIRM
The harried U.N. legal department takes time out in most cases to send back a polite but firm turnaround.
Several years ago a rumor swept the corridors that a woman had been rushed to the clinic suffering labor pains. The rumor, which proved false, touched off queries as to what a child's nationality would be in such a case. The legal experts said a baby born on U.N. soil would be a U.S. citizen, no matter what the parents' nationality.

Several persons, including two delegates, have died at the U.N., but there were no requests for their burial on the premises.
"Anyway," said a U.N. official, "if you were to dig down more than a couple of feet anywhere on the grounds, you might go crashing down into the basement garage."
AVERTED DECISION
When Dag Hammarskjold died last year, proposals were made to bury him on the 17-acre domain of U.N. headquarters. A delicate decision was averted when his body was returned to his native Sweden.
Some queries are so bizarre that the U.N. staff deems it wisest to ignore them.
About a year ago, an enterprising individual proclaimed himself sovereign of the lands beneath the sea and requested admission to the U.N. as a member state.
"He even sent his so-called prime minister here for an audience, but he never got beyond the information booth," a U.N. employee said.

BIG ISSUE IN 1963
A New Court Battle Could Shape Up In Legislatures Of States Next Year

By JIM DAN HILL, Ph.D., President, Wisconsin State College, Superior

THE SUPREME COURT and the Constitution of the United States could get more printers' ink through 1963 than they have received in any single year since President Roosevelt sought to pacify the Court. His crusade against the Court was a result of a smoldering resentment against the "Nine Old Men."

There is a new, smoldering resentment against the Court in many state capitols, North and South, that makes the above prediction a reasonably safe bet.

THE FDR court packing episode was a battle of jurisdictional lusts, in which the struggle for power was between two of the three more or less co-equal branches of the Federal Government, the Judicial and the Executive.

The third branch, the Legislature, held the balance of power. President Franklin D. Roosevelt, shrewdly sensing popular indignation because the Court had held his first series of New Deal laws unconstitutional, sought to make it subservient.

FDR and his "Brains Trust" secretly reviewed and considered several lines of action for "curbing the Court." But most of them required an amendment to the Constitution, or, if passed as a simple law, would certainly go to the Court on an appeal. This would give the Court a chance to declare the law unconstitutional, and FDR would be further back than where he had started.

Moreover, the Constitution said all federal judges might hold office for life. But it was silent on how many Supreme Court judges there should be. It so happened the nine men then sitting were along in years. Here President Roosevelt felt he had found the weak spot in the sedate Court's armor.

ON FEBRUARY 5, 1937, he proposed a bill to Congress that whenever any federal judge had served 10 years or more and who did not voluntarily retire within six months after reaching age 70, the President might appoint an additional judge to such court, but the maximum size of the Supreme Court under this act would not exceed 15.

Such circuitous indirection of means to an end was more than some forthright liberals in the Senate could take. They ran out on the President to join the Republicans in a defeat of the bill. Thus FDR lost the battle but won the war. His bitter attack softened up the Court. Two erstwhile conservatives joined the Court's three liberals for some five to four decisions in favor of New Deal, key legislation.

Some have said this was all FDR intended; that he knew the Court had often retreated under pressures and would do it again. FDR's intentions are debatable, but the last statement is true.

THE PRESSURE the Court will be under through 1963 will be from neither the White House nor the Senate. It is going to come from the governors, the state legislatures and congressmen.

Lower House congressmen keep a sharp eye on public sentiment as evidenced by state legislatures. They will be more critical of the Court through 1963 than their predecessors have been.

It is only by indirection, largely through the 14th amendment, that the Supreme Court has been able to assume the right to declare state laws unconstitutional.

In recent years, the present Supreme Court has been treating the statutes enacted by state legislatures as if they were little more than maudliners of city council aldermen.

State supreme courts and lower appellate tribunals of the states appear to have no exclusive jurisdiction, or to be the courts of last resort on anything that the Federal Courts decide to take under advisement.

THE FEDERAL court invasions upon the remnants of state sovereignty that remain in the realm of apportionment, elections and internal state affairs have had a wider impact upon more states and excited more state politicians than have the desegregation decisions.

Should 34 state legislatures, without concurrence of their governors being necessary, memorialize Congress to call a national convention for the purpose of amending the Constitution to restrict the federal judiciary, the U.S. Supreme Court would be under pressure.

Such a convention is the last thing the President, houses of Congress, and the federal courts have ever wanted. Such a convention, though authorized in the Constitution, has been consistently sidestepped by Washington, D. C., for a century and a half.

With approximately 40 of the state legislatures in session through the first months of 1963, and state legislative tempers what they are reported to be in many states, there could be a tide of

BATTLE LINES ARE DRAWN ON TAX SLASHING

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Anything as popular as lower taxes shouldn't be a call to battle. But the program which the Kennedy administration has drawn up at Palm Beach, Fla., and which it will disclose to Congress in about two weeks in chilly Washington, finds the battle lines well established even before the details are known.

Business wants one kind of tax cut. Labor makes it plain it wants another. The administration may well want a third.

Liberals favor tax cutting—if along certain lines—and forget about any Treasury deficits. Conservatives frown on tax cutting unless government spending also drops so the federal budget can be kept in balance, or nearly so.

AMOUNT AND TIMING

The amount of the reduction is in dispute. The timing of the cut is, too. And, above all, the question is who gets the cut and how much—and will it be offset by loss of certain privileges in the present tax laws.

Business spokesmen tend to stress the good that would flow from a drop in the present 52 percent levy on corporate earnings. The money saved, they say, could be used for modernization or expansion, and hence for faster economic growth. They also favor drastic trimming of the top brackets of individual income taxes.

The argument is that this would be money most likely to flow into investment markets for new ventures or expansion.

Labor leaders have put forth a different idea. Let the corporate changes go over for a year. The first cut should be in the lowest brackets of personal incomes. This would provide increased purchasing power, benefiting business and thus creating jobs for those now out of work.

SEE VAST DEFICIT

Conservative spokesmen argue against this, contending that since the great dollar volume of tax collections come from the multitudes in the lower and middle brackets, any cut sizable enough to do them much good individually would mean a pyramiding of the federal budget deficit. The conservative argument is that such a deficit could lead to monetary inflation, a rise in consumer prices, such memorials. Even if unsuccessful in creating a constitutional convention, they would constitute pressure difficult to ignore. It is a trend worth watching through 1963.

Select Winners Of Decorating Prizes

Judging for the annual Christmas lighting and decorating contest in Littlestown took place on Wednesday evening. There were three categories in the decorating, and those selected winners follow:

Over-all decorations, first, William T. Gingrow, 533 E. King St., who received $10; second, Roy M. Maitland, 50 Maple Ave., $5; special features, first, Clair Bowers, 602 Prince St., $10; second, Mrs. Kathryn M. Hahn, 59 W. Myrtle St., $5; windows and doors, first, James L. Rhoades, 505 Prince St., $10; second, LeRoy W. Bish, 416 Prince St., $5.

The contest was sponsored by the Littlestown Junior Chamber of Commerce. The judges were Richard Guise, president of the Gettysburg Junior Chamber of Commerce, and Ray Wareheim, Taneytown.

The next regular meeting of the local Jaycees will be held Tuesday, January 8, at 8:30 p.m., following the community preaching mission service. President Paul F. Bolter has announced the session will be held at Dutterer's Restaurant.

Rotary Dinner Is Held On Wednesday

The Littlestown Rotarians held a dinner gathering on Wednesday evening at Schottie's Hotel. The program was in charge of the music committee and featured two of the committeemen George P. Smith played a medley of selections from "My Fair Lady."

Luther W. Ritter gave a summary of the impressions of the community on the group of Latin Americans who visited here in the fall of 1960.

Visitors introduced were John Lock and Lee Haines, guests of their father-in-law, the Rev. William Hendricks, Taneytown, one of the newer members of the club. The Rotarians will meet again and the individuals would be no better off at the end of the year.

Many liberals are on record as favoring both corporate and individual cuts as soon as possible. Their position is that together this would get the economy moving fast enough to provide enough business earnings and personal income for the Treasury to tax at the lower rates and still balance its books.

So the battle lines are drawn. And whatever the program the President presents to the new Congress next month, it's pretty sure to displease some people—and perhaps disappoint a lot of them.

Couple Weds Early To Save $9,000 Tax

STOCKTON, Calif. (AP)—Carol McNabb and San Francisco Giant pitcher Bob Garibaldi expect to save $9,000 by marrying before 1963.

Garibaldi, 21, who received a $150,000 bonus for signing last season, planned to marry Miss McNabb in January. But the date has been advanced to Dec. 30. That way he says he'll save the $9,000 because of the community property income tax law.

The couple, who met in the fourth grade, have been dating steady for eight years.

DETROIT (AP)—An abandoned saxophone found in Detroit takes note of a musician who couldn't loot because of his teeth.

John Blont, 42, found the gold-colored sax in the driveway of his home Thursday night.

Inside the brown leather case was this note:

"I'm disgusted. Since I have false teeth I can't play very good. So whoever finds this sax can have her."

Signed by "a friend," the note also said, "P.S. It's not stolen. When I bought it I had my own teeth."

FREED CUBANS TO GIVE JFK BATTLE FLAG

By FRANCES LEWINE

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Cuban fighters who survived the Bay of Pigs invasion will give President Kennedy their combat flag—"the greatest treasure we possess"—when he reviews their brigade Saturday in Miami's Orange Bowl.

Kennedy will fly to the football stadium in response to a personal invitation from Cuban freedom leaders who promised Thursday "we shall return" to liberate the island.

The Cubans plan to muster the 1,113 survivors of their Brigade 2506, uniformed in khaki trousers and shirts, for a military display.

KENNEDY TO TALK

They exuberantly invited "all residents of Miami and the people of the United States to this ceremony."

The President will make a brief speech.

The ceremony will be televised live by ABC. NBC will delay its telecast for presentation at noon. A CBS spokesman said no decision had been reached on that network's coverage plans.

After meeting for an hour and 10 minutes with Kennedy at his vacation headquarters here Thursday, five Cuban leaders held a dramatic press conference in which they reported that the President told them "he hoped some day to visit a Cuba."

PAIRED EFFORTS

They said Kennedy praised the heroic efforts the invaders made in an attempt to free their homeland and "in defense of the democracies of the world."

Wearing somber black suits, white shirts and black ties, the five Cubans said they feel they owe a debt to those who gave their lives in the U.S.-backed invasion of April 1961 which was crushed by Fidel Castro's government forces at the Bay of Pigs.

"GREATEST TREASURE"

"We will pay our debt by freeing our country," said Manuel Artime, the political leader of the invasion brigade.

Erneido Oliva, second in command of the invasion unit, described the historic flag the brigade wants Kennedy to have. He said it had gone with the men through their pre-invasion training and flown over their command post for three days in the battle of the Bay of Pigs.

"We will be giving President Kennedy the greatest treasure that we possess at the present time," Oliva declared.

SEEK $150,000 BAIL TO FREE UNION LEADER

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP)—Efforts were underway today to scrape up $150,000 in bail money for the release of August J. Lippi, 62-year-old union leader convicted of income tax evasion last April.

Lippi's attorney, Edwin Kosik, said Thursday night Lippi's family hoped to raise the money by late today. It must then be approved by a U.S. commissioner.

U.S. District Court Judge Frederick V. Follmer set the last $60,000 of the bail Thursday in Lewisburg on the income tax evasion count.

The other $90,000 was fixed Saturday by Federal Judge William J. Nealon after Lippi was brought back from New York where he was seized while trying to board an airplane for Chile.

FORMER BANKER

Lippi, president of the United of the United Mine Workers Union District 1, and former head of the First National Bank of nearby Exeter, was convicted along with Mrs. Josephine Scandara, last April, of conspiring to evade $80,000 in corporate taxes against the Knox Coal Co. of Exeter.

An appeal for a new trial was turned down last Thursday by Judge Follmer. Lippi was seized by FBI agents just hours later at Idlewild Airport.

Lippi claimed he was going on a vacation and planned to return to the United States Jan. 7.

Lippi was returned to Scranton Friday night and lodged in the Lackawanna County Jail. Judge Nealon set bail Saturday on other counts of income tax evasion and charges of complicity in the misapplication of funds at the bank he headed.

WOMAN'S CLUB HOLDS ANNUAL XMAS PARTY

Approximately 40 members of the Woman's Community Club of Littlestown and vicinity enjoyed the annual Christmas party Wednesday evening in conjunction with the December meeting at the home of program committee member, Mrs. Luther W. Ritter, Glenwyn Drive.

A Christmas recording preceded the brief business which was in charge of president, Mrs. Edward H. Leister. Mrs. Anna B. Leach presented the secretary's report. Miss Malva I. Duttera, chairman of the Home Life department, which was in charge of the preparation and distribution of the Christmas welfare baskets, noted that 11 baskets had been delivered for the holiday season, to families ranging in size from one person to 12. Chickens for the baskets were paid for by the Lions Club; candy and oranges were given by the Fraternal Order of Eagles and a bag of flour was donated by members of the club or purchased with cash contributions from club members. Assistants Miss Duttera were Mrs. Claude E. Snyder, Mrs. Holman L. Sell, Mrs. Orville C. Sentz, Mrs. Charles H. Fissel and Mrs. Mollie Yingling.

MAKE DONATIONS

Annual contributions were made as follows: Salvation Army, $5; Christmas Seals, $1; and Adams County Home dues and annual treat, $7.50. It was announced that the next meeting will be the annual joint meeting with the Junior Woman's Club and the latter will be hostesses. Instead of the Junior Woman's Club night, which falls during the week of the annual preaching mission, the meeting will be held the fourth Wednesday, January 23, at the Eagles' home. The February 20 meeting of the Woman's Community Club will be a "birthday month" observance.

servance, with Mrs. John L. Redding as chairman of the program committee and Miss Duttera, chairman of the hostess committee.

The evening's program, in charge of Mrs. J. Ray Reindollar, chairman of the program committee for the evening, opened with a carol sing, led by Miss A. Marie Budde.

Jill Weikert, high school senior daughter of a club member, Mrs. Charles W. Weikert, who as an exchange student spent Christmas of 1961 in Germany, told the club members how the holiday season is observed in that country, revealing that nearly every family has a Christmas creche in its home and every community has a public creche. The remainder of the evening was spent playing group games. Mrs. Kenneth Benner and Mrs. Curvin Hollinger of the program committee, assisted with the gifts, which were distributed according to the months and birthday dates. Refreshments were enjoyed. Other members of the program committee were Mrs. Carrie Strine, Mrs. Edgar W. Wisotzky, Mrs. John N. Sell and Miss Gianna lace. The hostess committee included Mrs. George C. Dehoff, Mrs. J. Harvey Pettyjohn, Mrs. Vernon Snyder, Mrs. John W. LeGore, Mrs. Wilbur A. Bankert, Mrs. Howard Study. A floral arrangement was presented to Mrs. Ritter on behalf of the club by Mrs. Leister, in appreciation of her hospitality.

Leon Fink, Hanover, was an overnight guest of Larry Altoff, E. Myrtle St., on Thursday.

DR. FOLKEMER IS PREACHER FOR MISSION

The Rev. Dr. Lawrence Daniel Folkemer, professor of theology at the Lutheran Theological Seminary, Gettysburg, will be the guest speaker for the 1963 preaching mission in Littlestown. The mission services will be held Sunday through Thursday, January 6-10, at 7:30 p.m. in St. Paul's Lutheran Church.

theran Church. The Littlestown Ministerium is sponsoring the informal services.

The Rev. Dr. Folkemer was born 46 years ago in Baltimore, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul I. Folkemer. He is one of four sons, three of whom are in the Lutheran ministry. He attended the Baltimore public schools; received his Bachelor of Arts degree from Gettysburg College in 1937; the Bachelor of Divinity degree from Gettysburg Seminary in 1940; Master of Sacred Theology degree in 1941 from Hartford Theological Seminary and the Doctor of Philosophy degree from the same seminary in 1946.

He has been professor of theology at the Gettysburg Seminary since 1960 and prior to that was pastor of the Lutheran Church of Our Saviour, Lansdowne, Md.; founder and head of the Department of Religion at the George Washington University, where he was later professional lecturer in comparative religion, and pastor of

SCOUTS HOLD PARTY

Girl Scout Troop No. 746 held a Christmas party in connection with their weekly meeting on Thursday evening. Entertainment consisted of the telling of Christmas customs in other lands by Roberta Clabaugh, Linda Kress, Sandra Clabaugh, Synda Buntz, Sylvia Eckenrode, Karen May and Joyce Oyler; there was an exchange of gifts and refreshments were served by Lisa Hoke, Patricia Pfaff, Cecelia Redding, Patricia Schuchart, Norma Jean Crabbs and Deborah Rohrbough. Decorations were in charge of Pamela Hall, Joan Long, Rita Breighner, Judy Mehring and Lana Gouker. Arrangements were supervised by troop assistant leader, Loretta Bevenour and troop aide, Nancy Harner. A group gift was presented to the troop leader, Mary Rita Redding.

EAGLES PLAN PARTY

CLOUDY, CRISP WEATHER FOR MOST OF U.S.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Cloudy skies and crisp, freezing temperatures, accompanied by scattered snow and rain in some areas, covered most of the nation today.

A broad band of clouds and fog covered the area from Texas eastward to the Atlantic seaboard. During the night, scattered light rain fell in much of Texas and in the South Atlantic Coast states.

The Great Lakes region eastward to the Atlantic Coast was covered with clouds and intermittent rain dampened the area.

OCCASIONAL SNOW

The North Pacific Coast also reported cloudy skies and light rain.

Occasional snow fell from northern Idaho eastward through the northern Midwest. The north Atlantic also reported snow in mountain areas.

The south central states received scattered light rain and some fog, as did northern Florida. In the southeastern sector, skies were mostly cloudy and foggy.

Temperatures were generally in the teens and 20s across the country, except for Florida, where readings in the 70s were reported in the extreme southern part.

John Hughes' Vitamin Shot is an aptly named felly. She is the daughter of Needles, winner of the 1956 Kentucky Derby.

Rick Desmarais, junior full-back from Lawrence, Mass., led Wyoming football scorers last season with 36 points.

More Teachers Score Bible Reading Ban

HARRISBURG (AP) — More than 500 Pennsylvania classroom teachers are officially on record today, opposing the curtailment of Bible reading in state public schools.

A resolution to that effect was adopted Thursday at the annual meeting of the Pennsylvania State Education Association's department of classroom teachers.

The action stemmed from a ruling by the U.S. Supreme Court earlier this year outlawing official prayers in public schools as a violation of the constitutional provision of separation of church and state.

The entire PSEA also is expected to take some action on the issue later today. The association is holding its 110th annual convention here.

SAYS ECONOMY TO RISE IN '63

PITTSBURGH (AP)—An upturn in the national economy in 1963; federal controls on transportation rate-making; railroad mergers and the public interest—these topics highlighted the second day of the wide-ranging Allied Social Science Association convention Thursday.

A session held by the American Marketing Association heard Edward C. Bursk, editor of the "Harvard Business Review," predict that the nation's economy will improve in 1963. But Bursk admitted that many businessmen do not share his optimism.

"Most economic indicators point to a good year," he said. "Businessmen expect their sales to rise, but they do not feel the profit rise will match the sales increase."

Meanwhile, A. C. Ingersoll Jr., president of Federal Barge Lines, Inc., backed continued federal control over competitive rate-making in transportation. He told a meeting of the American Transportation Research Forum that abandonment of "the national transportation policy, as expertly administered by the ICC (Interstate Commerce Commission), in favor of the unknown hazards of anti-trust law" would have serious consequences for truckers and water carriers.

He said railroads and many big shippers are supporting the Kennedy Administration's proposals to subject rate-making to "existing laws against monopoly and predatory trade practices," as enforced by the Federal Trade Commission.

CLEARFIELD, Pa. (AP)—Ralph Woods, 17, of nearby Bigler, was killed in a sledding accident Thursday night.

His sled hit the rear wheel of a car driven by Helen E. Hipps, 41, of West Decatur R. 1, on Route 970 in Bigler.

PLANES DOWNED WITHOUT FUEL

DALLAS, Pa. (AP)—Three light crop dusting airplanes were forced down in a field near this Luzerne County town Thursday when they ran out of gas after bucking a strong head wind for two hours.

One of the single engine craft flipped over, deforming its propeller. Another damaged its wing on a sign post and the third landed without difficulty.

None of the three pilots was hurt.

Authorities said the planes were en route from Elmira, N.Y., to Louisiana, and were due at Harrisburg, Pa., for refueling. The pilots were quoted as saying the planes fought a strong head wind from the time they took off.

48 Debutantes Bow To Society

NEW YORK (AP)—Serena Russell, granddaughter of the Duke of Marlborough and great-granddaughter of the famous Consuelo Vanderbilt Balsan, glided down the Astor ballroom floor Thursday night to bow to American society.

Behind her were 48 other beautiful 18-year-olds, some with European titles, a few with well-known parents in the theater, and most with plenty of social security from the Social Register. All were making debuts at the eighth international debutante ball.

Traditionally, the bows indicate the ladies now possess the maturity and social graces to make good wives, and the race is on to win the best man.

CASTRO SHOWS DEVELOPMENT TO VISITORS

By JOE MCGOWAN JR.
MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A workers' paradise—a tall apartment development where rent is 10 per cent of a man's salary—has been built east of the Cuban capital as a showcase of Fidel Castro's revolutionary government.

Prime Minister Castro is obviously proud of the multimillion-dollar, ultramodern development and says more will be built by his regime.

He showed off the project, known simply as East Havana, to four visiting Americans during a two-hour auto tour of the city last Sunday.

Guests of Castro on the tour were Capt. Alfred Boerum, master of the freighter African Pilot; Leonard Scheele, former surgeon general of the United States; E. Barrett Prettyman Jr., Washington attorney; and this writer.

Boerum's ship had sailed into Havana that day with approximately $11 million worth of food and drugs as down payment toward the release of Bay of Pigs invasion prisoners. Scheele and Prettyman assisted in plans for obtaining and transporting the supplies.

As Castro's chauffeur-driven, heavily armed automobile approached the development, the dictator pointed out that a street circled the area but no roads ran between the houses.

"There is more security for young children this way," Castro said.

NEED FOR MORE

East Havana has its own shopping center with a department store, barber shop, beauty parlor, pharmacy and a number of other stores. It also has a secondary school and a large recreation and sports field.

Each unit costs $6,000 to build, Castro said. He told the Americans there was great need for more such units in Cuba.

He called at random on several in the group which had gathered and asked them to tell the Americans whether they liked the project. Unanimously, they said they did.

The project has a population of nearly 15,000, Castro said. He added that applications for residences are so heavy that preference has to be given to those with the largest families.

Durante Tangles With Police Car

CHICAGO (AP)—Comedian Jimmy Durante has pleaded guilty to a minor traffic charge arising out of an auto accident Dec. 16 in downtown Chicago.

Durante's rented auto tangled with another auto and a police squad car, after which he received tickets for following too closely, damaging city property and driving without a license.

The case was disposed of in Traffic Court Thursday. Durante pleaded guilty by mail and explaining that he would be unable to appear at the scheduled hearing March 14 because of a night club date in Las Vegas.

Judge Casimir V. Cwiklinski fined Durante $10 for following too closely, and dismissed the other two charges.

"Drunk drivers are always the major threat on our highways over the new year's holiday," Col. McCartney declared in a statement.

He added that maximum patrol coverage will be maintained throughout the long 102-hour period, beginning tonight at 6 p.m., until midnight Tuesday.

Troopers also will be equipped with intoximeters for on-the-spot checks of suspected drunk drivers, McCartney said.

Drinking Drivers Are Given Warning

HARRISBURG (AP)—State Police Commissioner Frank G. McCartney sounded a familiar warning today especially for New Year's celebrators—if you drink, don't drive.

"Drunk drivers are always the major threat on our highways over the new year's holiday," Col. McCartney declared in a statement.

He added that maximum patrol coverage will be maintained throughout the long 102-hour period, beginning tonight at 6 p.m., until midnight Tuesday.

Troopers also will be equipped with intoximeters for on-the-spot checks of suspected drunk drivers, McCartney said.

Two Are Killed In Head-on Collision

OIL CITY, Pa. (AP)—A teenager and a young man were injured fatally and a woman seriously hurt late Thursday night in a two-car, head-on collision on Route 322 about five miles east of here.

Frank Redfield, 15, trapped inside one of the cars which overturned and caught fire, burned to death. He was a passenger in the car driven by James Kirkwood, 22, who died in Franklin Hospital shortly after the collision. Both lived in Seneca, Venango County.

Mrs. Janet Fleming of Franklin R. 2, the other driver, was reported in serious condition at the hospital.

WHITE PLAINS, N.Y. (AP)—Mrs. William H. Newell, 94, who was "Miss Liberty" when the Statue of Liberty was opened in 1886, died Thursday. New York officials selected her "Miss Liberty" when she was 18.

MOSCOW (AP)—Alexander V. Topchiev, 55, vice president of the Soviet Academy of Sciences and one of the nation's leading chemists, died Thursday.

SEEK PROOF OF CASE AGAINST THALIDOMIDE

AACHEN, Germany (AP)—A huge legal investigation is going on here in connection with thalidomide, the drug which thousands of parents associate with the birth of deformed children.

In the town of Stolberg, just outside Aachen, thalidomide was developed by the pharmaceutical firm Chemie Gruenthal.

SEEK POSITIVE EVIDENCE

The aim is to find whether there is positive evidence of a link between thalidomide and malformations in babies born to mothers who took the drug.

Many doctors believe there is, and the drug was taken off the market more than a year ago when it first came under suspicion.

The manufacturer insists final proof is lacking. Its scientists argue that the rate of deformities was not always identical with the sales curve of thalidomide. They say reports from the Philippines and Hungary show that malformations increased even where no thalidomide was marketed.

500 COMPLAINTS

The official probe has been running since late 1961.

Prosecutor H. Havertz, in charge, has made no direct comment on findings so far. But he said recently they indicated that the spread of malformations had a cause and could have been prevented.

Havertz has received more than 500 criminal complaints against the manufacturers. A firm cannot be held criminally responsible here.

Havertz has to determine whether charges of criminal negligence should be filed against any individuals at Gruenthal.

CANT BE FATAL

There are still no definite statistics on the number of deformed babies born to mothers who took thalidomide. Estimates for West Germany vary between 2,000 and 6,000. Parents of deformed children need not register such cases.

Thalidomide was developed in 1954 and sold in Germany under the trade name Contergan. It was swallowed daily by thousands of sleep-seeking Germans. Animal tests had established that even the heaviest dose could not be fatal, so doctors favored Contergan in prescriptions.

Following the alarming reports about births, Contergan was withdrawn from sale Nov. 26, 1961. Nine months later, health authorities reported a slump in defective births.

PEDESTRIAN KILLED

LEMOYNE, Pa. (AP)—George H. Hall, 46, of Lemoyne was struck and killed Thursday night when he walked into the path of a moving car on the York Expressway near his home. Police said Hall died of a fractured skull and internal injuries.

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP)—Darcy Raymond (Jake) Flowers, 60, former major league baseball player with the St. Louis Cardinals and Brooklyn Dodgers, died Thursday.
